KING AND QUEEN OF SPAIN BATHE FEET OF BEGGARS

Ritual Part of Maundy Thursday Observance in All Church Palaces of Realm.

By the Associated Press.
MADRID, Spain, April 5.—The King and Queen of Spain today washed the feet of 26 beggars, 13 men and 13 women, in an annual Maundy Thursday ceremony. Twelve of the men and three of the women were blind.

After the simple foot washing ritual, the mendicants were led to another apartment, where each got a new suit or dress, overcoat or mantle, underclothing, a bag containing 30 pieces of silver and a basket of the finest fruits and foods. On leaving the palace, the beggars sold the baskets to a huge crowd, which had gathered outside, for good prices.

The ceremony took place in the presence of high officials of the court, religious officiants, hundreds of Spanish aristocrats and many foreign visitors. The beggars were chosen by lot, King Alfonso and Queen Victoria drawing the numbers while a solemn assemblage of nobles and ecclesiastics watched. Before the foot washing began, the beggars were rehearsed in their parts.

Similar services occurred in the palaces of every Archbishop and Bishop in Spain.

SPECULATION ADVANCES STOCKS TO NEW HIGH LEVELS

Eastern Railroads Favorites on New York Exchange but Others Share in Rise.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 5.—The vast army of speculators continued to march through Wall Street today, pouring an enormous volume of buying orders into the stock market and lifting the prices of dozens of securities to new high levels. Some of the Eastern railroads were the favorites, because of reports of impending vital developments in the trunk line merger situation. Pittsburg & West Virginia rose to $154, an advance in a week of $30 a share.

Despite higher call money rates, numerous miscellaneous issues were advanced $7 to $12, including General Motors, du Pont, Delaware & Hudson, United States Cast Iron Pipe and Interborough Rapid Transit. Such recent leaders as Radio and the aeroplane issues were relegated to comparative obscurity.

Total sales were 3,897,500 shares, making the twentieth successive full session in which sales had exceeded 3,000,000 shares.

HOT CROSS BUNS WRECK HOMES PASTOR ADVISES HOUSEWIVES

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, April 5.—Hot Cross buns, millions of which are made annually for Good Friday, were labeled as home wreckers by the Rev. James Shepherd, addressing an assemblage of women at Islington chapel.

"Don't eat Hot Cross buns on Good Friday," he said. "Don't give them to your husbands. They are buns that were offered to pagan gods.

"After a hearty breakfast of Hot Cross buns, you may act like a pagan. Many homes have been wrecked by indigestible Hot Cross buns. So whether you are married or single leave them alone."

SYLVIA PANKHURST BECOMES MOTHER OUT OF WEDLOCK

Former Militant Suffragist, 46, Says Marriage Should Not Be a Legally Binding Contract.

WITHHOLDS NAME OF SON'S FATHER

English Woman Thinks Divorces Should Be by Mutual Consent Instead of by Decree of Judge.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (The New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

LONDON, April 5.—Believing marriage should not be a legally binding contract, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, militant suffragist leader of prewar days, has given birth to a child without entering into that contract. She is 46 years old. In an interview with the correspondent she has explained her theories.

The child was born just before Christmas, and on Dec. 23 the following notice appeared in the births' column of the Daily Herald, organ of the Labor party to which Miss Pankhurst belongs:

"Sylvia Pankhurst announces the birth of her son, Richard Keir Pethick Pankhurst."

At her home at Woodford, Essex, she explained she was not legally married and expressed strong disapproval of the marriage contract.

"My son," she said, "is the child of a happy union of affection and long friendship of two people who care for each other. I do not believe it is eugenic or fair to children that they should be brought into the world except as the result of natural affection between their parents."

Withholds Name of Father.

She declined to disclose the name of her son's father, explaining he was of a retiring disposition, averse to publicity and would not care to efface her name. She said he is not an Englishman and she has known him about 10 years. She has named their son Richard for her father, Keir for the late Keir Hardie, famous Labor leader, and Pethick for the late Pethick Lawrence.

In view of the English law barring an illegitimate child from succeeding to the property of its parents if they die intestate, Miss Pankhurst took the precaution of making her will before the child was born. She considers that the law should be changed.

"I consider marriage is a personal question," she said, "and should rest entirely upon affection. It is regrettable it should be subject to a legal contract. The only bond should be one of affection which is really the strongest tie.

Explains Hers Theories.

"The legal contract is the outcome of a social condition in which women were regarded as the property of their husbands and although we now are almost emancipated from that condition, the marriage relationship still is influenced by the private property basis of society.

"The only logical argument in favor of legal marriage is that it is supposed to provide maintenance for the wife and children if the parties fail to agree. As a matter of fact, however, that safeguard is very illusory and many independent minded women would not care to take advantage of it.

"Most marriages are held together in actual fact, not by legal compulsion but by mutual affection. If marriage has to be dissolved, it would be far better to dissolve it by mutual consent than through the disgusting proceedings of the divorce court which will amaze posterity. It is ludicrous and horrible that an old gentleman on a bench should be called upon to decide between husband and wife in the most intimate and delicate of questions, and really tragic that society can accept a state of law by which the fact that both parties desire to be free of the old union and have contracted other relationships is actually a legal reason for preventing divorce."

On Jan. 10 Mrs. Grace Mailhouse Burnham, 37 years old, widow of a wealthy Louisville (Ky.) distiller, gave birth in New York to a daughter as her "contribution to society." She said she deliberately selected the father for his eugenic qualities. They were not married, Mrs. Burnham assuming all responsibility for the child and its education.

CHAUNCEY DEPEW, 93, DIES AFTER WEEK'S ILLNESS

Leader for 60 Years in Business and Politics Succumbs at His Home in New York.

SERVED TWO TERMS IN U. S. SENATE

Attended Nine G. O. P. Conventions Since 1888 When He Got 99 Votes as Presidential Candidate.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 5.—Chauncey M. Depew, who entered politics before Lincoln was mentioned for the presidency and for more than 60 years was noted as an after-dinner speaker, died at 4:20 a. m. today at his home of bronchial pneumonia.

He had been ill less than a week and would have been 94 years old on April 23. He continued an active career until the end, serving as chairman of the board of the New York Central Railroad. He intended to attend the Republican national convention in Kansas City in June. With the exception of the 1924 convention in Cleveland, he had attended as a delegate every Republican convention, nine in all, since 1888. In 1888 he received 99 votes for the presidential nomination, but withdrew in favor of Benjamin Harrison.

Mr. Depew served two terms as United States Senator, from 1899 to 1911.

Suffered Chill Last Week.

Depew suffered a chill while coming to New York last week from a five weeks' vacation in St. Augustine, Fla. On Sunday he contracted a cold and on the advice of Dr. H. Lyman Hooker, he remained in bed. Monday he became unconscious and medical consultants were called in. Tuesday he improved and regained consciousness.

After a good day yesterday Depew began to decline at 7 o'clock last night, and members of his family were summoned. These included Mrs. Depew, a son, Chauncey M., and a niece, Miss Anne Depew Paulding. When it became apparent that he was dying the servants and the household staff were summoned to the bedside.

Depew retained his interest in politics until the end. In February, 1927, he predicted the re-election of President Coolidge, if prosperity should continue and expressed the belief that the President would even carry New York State against Gov. Alfred E. Smith, should the latter be the Democratic nominee.

Funeral Saturday Morning.

Funeral servcies will be held Saturday morning from St. Thomas' Episcopal Church on Fifth avenue. Immediately after the services the body will be taken by motor to Hillside Cemetery, at Peekskill, Depew's native town, where it will be placed in a mausoleum.

Depew, Railway Executive, Made 'Recreation' of Public Speaking.

Chauncey Mitchell Depew, who was credited with having originated many of the funny stories told around the world, made his first public speech several years before Lincoln became President, and nearly 70 years later, with health and vigor unimpaired, he was still a favorite speaker.

His reputation as an after-dinner story-teller was so widespread that it largely eclipsed the more serious work of his business and political career, which included Republican campaigning in all the national canvasses from Lincoln to Harding; 12 years in the United States Senate; 14 years as president of the New York Central railroad, and many years as chairman of the New York Central. He also was a director and legal advisor in many other corporations throughout the country.

After-dinner speaking he called his "recreation," and he indulged in it to a greater extent perhaps than any other man of his time. No New York dinner or Yale occasion, particularly, was complete without his presence and speech. The Montauk Club of Brooklyn marked time for him by giving a dinner in his honor on every birthday for nearly 30 years. The extent of his participation in notable dinners was emphasized in 1910, when it was found that eight large volumes were required to contain his speeches, which were published in a private de luxe edition at that time.

"I am known as an after-dinner speaker. I hope I also am known as a man who works," he said on his eightieth birthday. "My dinners have never interfered with my business—they have been my

Depew's Scheme of Life As Outlined by Himself

Believed in Efficacy of Prayer, Ate With Discrimination and Counted Indifference the Great Crime.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 5.—A legion of epigrams and stories Chauncey M. Depew told at banquets, gave in interviews and passed on to associates were recalled today by his friends.

One of his favorite admonitions was: "Have a hobby, but never a fad."

"Keep faith, have hope and be charitable to all," was another.

He often told the story of his first client. He had just been graduated from Yale and opened a law office at Peekskill, N. Y. "My first client was a prosperous farmer who wanted an opinion on a rather complicated question," he related. "I prepared the case with great care. He asked me what my fee was and I told him five dollars. He said, "A dollar and seventy-five cents is enough for a young lawyer like you." Subsequently he submitted the case to one of the eminent lawyers in New York, who came to the same conclusion and charged him $500. On account of this gentleman's national reputation, the farmer thought that fee was very reasonable. In subsequent years I have received very large retainers, but none of them gave me so much satisfaction as that dollar and seventy-five cents which I had actually earned after having been so long dependent on my father."

Choosing a Career.

He liked to tell of his first connection with Commodore Vanderbilt and how he decided to enter on a railroad career.

"After I had been some years in private practice, Commodore Vanderbilt sent for me and offered the attorneyship for the New York & Harlem Railroad," he said. "I had just been nominated and confirmed United States Minister to Japan. The appointment was a complete surprise to me, as I was not an applicant for any Federal position. The salary was $7500 and an outfit of $9000. The Commodore's offer of the attorneyship for the Harlem railroad which was his first venture in railroading, was far less than the salary as Minister. When I said this to the Commodore he remarked: 'Railroads are the career for a young man; there is nothing in politics. Don't be a damned fool.' That decided me and on Jan. 1, 1928, I rounded out 64 years in the railway service of this corporation and its allied firms."

On Losing Interest in Life.

Other favorite stories of Mr. Depew's are: "One of the great crimes which shorten life is indifference. As one loses interest in his church, in his political party, in his club, in the friends and acquaintances he dries up and the grave claims one whom no one wants or laments. The two most fatal phrases and the most common are 'What's the use?' and 'Why should I?' A hungry and needy world answers both with open opportunities for service, helpfulness and good fellowship.

"I believe my age is due to the fact that I have been on good terms with humankind. I have made strenuous efforts to be calm, to be tranquil. All my life I have cultivated people because I liked them."

Believed in Prayer.

"I have absolute faith from repeated trials of the efficacy of prayer. While the answer has not come by voice or letter or through mediums, yet in some way it has been direct and positive. But the greatest aid is faith, faith in your church, at the same time with a broad charity for all who prefer other creeds; faith in your Government when its foundations and principles have been demonstrated, like ours, as the best; faith in your fellow man and woman."

"I remember when it was generally taught and almost universally believed that the eating of fish increased one's brain power. I recall with delight the story of a man who wrote to Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes: 'Will you please prescribe how much fish I should eat a day for the improvement of my mind?' The doctor answered, 'In your case I think it will be sufficient if you take for breakfast every morning a whale on toast.'"

Rules for Dining.

"I have never experimented with strange foods. My health and longevity are due, more than anything else, to the fact that I have been very careful what got inside of me. I have seen a flow of champagne suggestive of Niagara, but I have never been submerged. One rule I have followed: I pick out of each bill of fare what I would have eaten if I had stayed at home. At a very large dinner I do not take the oysters. I merely touch the soup. I skip the fish. I skip all dishes upon which the chef, has exhausted his art. I eat the roast, if it is lamb or a fowl, and skip it if it is beef. If there is terrapin, I take that because it is very digestible, and I take the game. I do not smoke and I never drink anything but champagne, and very little of that. The next day everything with me, head and vitality, is as usual. There never was a man yet whom drink did not

ROBBER KILLS SELF WHEN CORNERED IN STORE BY POLICEMAN

SHOT ATTRACTED OFFICER TO SCENE

Holdup Man Fled to Back Door, but Found It Barred, Then Turned Weapon on Himself.

Trapped by a locked rear door, with a policeman and excited onlookers blocking the front door, a young robber shot and killed himself this afternoon in the Easton-Union Dry Goods store, 5176 Easton avenue, after failing in an attempt to hold up the proprietor, Charles Strauss.

Entering the store shortly before 2 o'clock and finding Strauss alone, the robber sat down on a bench and said he wanted a pair of shoes. The merchant started to bring out a pair of shoes.

"Never mind," said the young man, drawing a pistol, "I want some money."

He ordered Strauss to step behind the partition separating a workshop in the rear from the main store. Instead of complying, Strauss fled through the front door, yelling for help.

The robber fired one shot at the fleeing merchant, but it went wild.

Patrolman John Long of the Newstead Police Station, off duty and asleep in his flat above the store, was aroused by the shot, dressed hastily and went down the rear stairs, a pistol in his hand.

Standing at the corner of Union boulevard and Easton avenue, Patrolman William Eberle also heard the shot and ran toward the store, where a crowd was collecting.

"Quick, there's a stickup man in there," Strauss told him.

As Eberle neared the door, the sound of a shot came from the rear. The policeman advanced cautiously into the store, expecting a fight. He saw the robber slumped against a wall in the rear, then noticed a trickle of blood. A bullet had entered the chin, emerging from the rear of the head.

Strauss always kept the rear door secured with an automatic lock which could not be opened without a key. The window and door are partly covered with iron bars. Apparently the robber, fleeing toward the rear door and finding it locked and barred, and noticing the crowd gathering in front, raised his pistol to his head and ended his life, in preference to arrest or making a further attempt to escape.

Dr. Frederick Hok, an osteopath, with offices above the store, attracted by the shot and Strauss' cries, got his pistol and went to the rear. Later, after Eberle had found the robber in the rear, How examined the body and pronounced the robber dead.

Police believe, from labels found on his clothes, the young man came to St. Louis from Ohio. His dark blue suit, with a white pin stripe, bore a dealer's name, H. A. Seinsheimer, Cincinnati, O., and his gray cap was marked I. Michael, 631 North St. Clair steret, Toledo, O.

Grocer Fires at Robber, Who Flees Without Loot.

A Negro who held up the grocery of Bernard Krugman, 115 North Garrison avenue today, took $12 from the cash register and fled as Krugman shot at him. He believes a bullet struck the man.

Krugman said the robber produced what appeared to be a pistol and ordered Krugman to put up his hands. Krugman obeyed but as the intruder walked to the cash register, Krugman took a revolver from beneath the counter, and fired as the Negro ran toward the door.

The man fell to the floor, Krugman said, then jumped up and ran. He was reported to have appeared a few minutes later in a restaurant at 3005 Lawton avenue, where police found a toy water pistol and bloodstairsn. Persons in the restaurant said the Negro who had left the toy pistol behind him had run out of the rear door.

WALSH DENIES DEMOCRATS HAD HAND IN OIL DEAL

Montanan Answers Charges of Robinson That Wilson Signed Order Transferring Navy Reserves.

By CHARLES G. ROSS,
Chief Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Concluding a reply today to Senator Robinson (Rep.), Indiana, who has been engaged in a single-handed attempt in the Senate to smear the Wilson administration and Walsh himself with oil, Senator Walsh of Montana expressed confidence that the attack of the Indianan would have no more effect on the public mind than similar efforts to cloud the issue made by the Republican National Committee in 1924, by former Secretary of the Navy Denby and by the late Senator Spencer of Missouri.

Walsh prefaced a blistering item-by-item answer to Robinson, with the accusation that he had been guilty of a "multitude of misrepresentations of facts."

Calls Accusations "Piffle."

Referring to the insinuations made against Gov. Smith of New York by Robinson because of the service of Harry F. Sinclair as a racing commissioner of New York, before the oil scandals broke, the Montana Senator said:

"The Governor of New York needs no defense from me. He is an extraordinary man in many particulars. Even calumny has not dared to assert that he is not an honest man. What the Senator from Indiana has said about Gov. Smith may best be described as "piffle."

Walsh referred briefly to Robinson's attack on William G. McAdoo for having accepted legal employme under E. L. Doheny, after leaving the Cabinet.

Mellon and McAdoo Records.

In this connection, he cited, with a note of sarcasm in his voice, the frequent descriptions of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon as "the greatest Secretary of the Treasury since Hamilton." Without in terms disputing the accuracy of that characterization, Walsh compared the record of Mellon with that of McAdoo, to the advantage of the latter.

The fame of the present Secretary, he pointed out, rested on a record of tax reduction that ineevitably followed a "plethoric condition of the Treasury," while McAdoo had gained distinction through his much more difficult feat of raising vast sums for the prosecution of the war.

"He faced a burden," said Walsh, "such as confronted none of his predecessors in our time. And no man has suggested that the duty was not performed with perfect fidelity."

Coming down to his own part in the uncovering of the oil scandals, Walsh said that if he had been paid a fee for the restoration of the oil lands to the people, commensurate with what would have been allowed by a court in a comparable proceeding in private life, he would have been made richer than he had ever hoped or desired to be. On the strength of a statement by the present Secretary of the Navy, who said that the recovered oil fields contained 1,000,000,000 barrels of oil, Walsh estimated the value of the recovery at $1,000,000,000.

Paid in Gratitude of People.

"The press of the country," he said, "has been kind enough to credit me in some degree with that result. I have been paid in the gratitude of the American people, which the Senator from Indiana would now like to snatch away from me."

Walsh again exploded Robinson's charge that he was largely responsible for the leasing policy under which the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills reserves were surrendered for private exploitation. He showed from the record that the leasing bill, on which Robinson based this charge—a bill in which Walsh was interested—was a general bill dealing with the Western public domain and having nothing to do with the naval oil reserves. This bill, indeed, as Walsh showed specifically, exempted the

NEW PLAN FOR EASTERN RAILROAD MERGER UP TODAY

Executives Said to Have Agreed on Program Which Would Block Lorees' Fifth Trunk Line.

SHARP ADVANCE IN WABASH STOCK

Under Reported Proposal Eastern Section Would Go to B. & O. and Western to Union Pacific.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Executives of Eastern railroads meeting here today to discuss merger plans adjourned shortly before 1 o'clock without making an official announcement.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The destiny of more than 50,000 miles of railroad lines in the East—involving division of a transportation kingdom which can be measured only in billions of dollars—will be molded today when high executives of the affected systems meet at a conference at the Pennsylvania Station here.

The problem of working out a tentative consolidation program agreeable to all principal interests has been hanging fire for four years, or ever since the Pennsylvania expressed its strong dissent to the four system plan originally advocated by the New York Central, the Baltimore & Ohio and the Nickel Plate.

Nine officers of leading transportation systems of the East went into conference in the offices of W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania. Those present, in addition to President Atterbury, were Patrick E. Crowley, president of the New York Central; Daniel Willard, president, and G. M. Shriver, vice president, of the Baltimore & Ohio; O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of the "Nickel Plate"; J. J. Bernet, president of the Erie, and L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson, and A. J. Iounty, vice president of the Pennsylvania.

A Complicated Situation.

Interests largely involved in the various roads have exerted pressure to guarantee continuance of peaceful methods of negotiations and to avoid unnecessary delay. It has been made clear that the battle will not be carried to destructive lengths in the stock market, as would have been normal in the days of Gould, Fisk and Vanderbilt.

The picture is enormously complicated, but there are three or four bones of contention. Foremost among these are the Lehigh Valley and the Lackawanna. New York Central wants one. Pennsylvania would like the other.

The negotiators are divided, broadly speaking, into two camps. On one side is New York Central, backed by the Baltimore & Ohio and the Nickel Plate (controlled by the Van Sweringens) as it was in the tentative plan drawn up four years ago yesterday, and on the other is the Pennsylvania and L. F. Loree of the Delaware & Hudson.

Loree was not regarded as a factor of importance when the original plan was drawn. He has since forced the trunk lines to offer him a place at the conference table as a result of a series of offensive moves, which many observers believe have been inspired by defensive motives. His strongest gesture has been the threat of a fifth trunk line system in the East, involving construction of 200 miles of new road across Pennsylvania to Pittsburg, with a prospective entrance to New York City over the Lehigh Valley.

Loree May Compromise.

More recently, however, it has been reported that the Pennsylvania and the other trunk lines have reached substantial agreement and that the remaining steps depend on Loree's willingness to eliminate himself as an obstacle. This would indicate that the former Harriman lieutenant has been offered the post of the chairman of the board of directors of the Nickel Plate and he has asked time before making his decision.

Into his Eastern and Southwestern merger plans Loree has found Interstate Commerce Commission approval a stumbling block. The improbability of obtaining such necessary approval of his projected fifth line is cited as one of the factors dictating compromise on his part.

Indications that various interests were buying for control of some of the key roads were given yesterday and Tuesday by the activity and strength of their stocks. Pittsburg & West Virginia was bid up $15 a share to $150, and Wabash had an extreme rise of $6 a share.

St. Louis U. Teacher Resigns.

Innocenz Riepl, formerly tutor to the Prince of Bavaria, and for the last two years instructor in German at St. Louis University, resigned yesterday to accept appointment in the girls' high school at Munich.

After 6.81 inches of rain fell in two hours, the creek, ordinarily about 10 feet wide in wet weather, swelled to a stream that covered five blocks in places.

D. A. R. WANTS WHITE'S PROOF ON "NICE OLD GIRLS'" AGES

Mrs. Brosseau, President, Says "Tea Gladiators-Hypnotism" Talk Is Personal Affair.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—William Allen White's reply to his inclusion in a speakers' "blacklist" by the Massachusetts chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution is looked upon as an "absolute misstatement of facts" by the organization's national president, Mrs. Alfred J. Brosseau. The Kansan's criticism of the organization was met by Mrs. Brosseau with this comment: "Mr. White to the contrary notwithstanding, the present administration and policies will no doubt continue."

Regarding White's allusion to the "nice old girls of the D. A. R." being hynotized by retired army officers and "tea gladiators," Mrs. Brosseau said: "This is a personal matter between Mr. White and myself and I must consult him as to just what private census lists and records gave him his information as to our ages and susceptibility to hypnotism."

"I don't have to read your lips any more," he told Joseph H. Himes, Washington clubman, who met him at the field. "We were up 2000 feet when I felt by eustachian tubes open."

dull or deaden. Most of the great speakers I have known never touch anything at dinner. They have told me that their mental processes would not work until at least five hours after a meal. I never was troubled that way.

"A curious thing about public men going to a dinner to deliver an address is the way in which many of them will lose a national reputation. I have seen half a dozen of the finest reputations in the country go to pieces at a banquet in New York because he thought it beneath his dignity to give a display of humor. I remember two dinners in New York where the principal speakers were men of national reputation, and there were six others to come after them, also of national reputation. When they closed there were few present except the officers and the band. The other speakers had fled."

naval oil reserves. The leasing of the reserves, he pointed out, was effected—and effected illegally under an entirely different and later act.

Walsh quoted a press report that former Secretary of the Interior Fall, in his recent deposition at El Paso, Tex., said that President Wilson was the author of an executive order transferring the control of naval oil reserves from the Navy to the Interior Department. He effectually punctured that allegation by reading a letter from E. C. Finney, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, to the effect that President Wilson issued no such order. It has already been thoroughly established that the first transfer of jurisdiction over the reserves from the navy to the Interior Department was accomplished by an executive order of President Harding soon after he came into office.

Chauncey Depew, 60 Years a Leader, Dies at 93

recreation. Most men get their relaxation in cards. That makes them keep late hours, and they sit in a room with bad air and drink too many cocktails. They die young.

Descendant of French Huguenots.

Depew was born at Peekskill, N. Y., April 23, 1834. His ancestors on the paternal side were French Huguenots who came to America in the seventeenth century, and on the maternal side he was descended from Roger Sherman a signer of the Declaration of Independence. The house where he was born had been the Depew homestead for more than 200 years.

His father, in addition to being a merchant and farmer, also was a pioneer in river transportation between Peekskill and New York City. His mother, a woman of literary tastes, was chiefly responsible for the thoroughness of her son's education. He obtained his preliminary training in Peekskill Academy and in 1852 entered Yale, from which he graduated four years later as a barrister.

Returning to the farm at the age of 22, he clashed with his father over politics and subsequently abandoned the latter's Democratic faith to make speeches in favor of Firemont and his Free Soil campaign. After the election of 1856 he began practicing law, and earned his first fee—$1.75 for an opinion that required several days to prepare—about the time Lincoln was first mentioned for the presidency. He immediately entered the campaign on behalf of the latter and gained considerable fame as a political orator.

eight years later he had been nominated and confirmed for the post of American Minister to Japan. Previous to this he had been Secretary of New York State and had held several other public offices, although he declined more political appointments perhaps than any other young man in the country.

Just as Depew was preparing to leave for Japan, Commodore Vanderbilt acquired the New York & Harlem Railroad—128 miles of "junk," as he afterwards described it. He called upon Depew and offered him the position of general counsel at a salary of $7500 a year

Depew took the job, and on Jan. 1, 1921, had rounded out 55 years with the Vanderbilt interests. His connection with railroading covered practically the whole period of railway expansion and development in the United States. Beginning in 1866 as attorney for the New York & Harlem, he became vice president of all the Vanderbilt roads merged into the New York Central in 1882 and president of the New York Central in 1885. In 1899 he resigned to become chairman of the board of directors, a position he continued to fill through the period of reconstruction following the World War.

Depew was frequently criticised for taking an active part in politics while he retained his powerful railroad connections, but those who knew his work intimately said he never neglected the details of either his business or his public career.

Once he made a tour of the New York Central lines to inspect the various restaurants operated by the company. He was prompted to make the trip by a letter from a patron of the road.

"You are the finest after-dinner speaker in the world," it said, "and I have listened to you many times, but I would give anything I possess to hear your speech after you had dined in your restaurant at Utica."

Knew Many Presidents.

Depew knew intimately every President from Lincoln to Coolidge. His first meeting with Lincoln occurred during the Civil War, while Depew was Secretary of New York State. He had gone to Washington on a mission connected with the New York troops, but upon entering the White House reception room and seeing the kindhearted President surrounded by groups of office-seekers and other favor-hunters, Depew turned to go.

"Just a moment, young man," said the President. "What did you want?"

"Nothing," replied the New Yorker.

"Well, this is a luxury," Lincoln replied. "No one has ever been here before that didn't want something. I wish you would remain until I have attended to the wants of these people, for I would like to talk to you."

More than 20 years after this interview, Depew had become such a power in the Republican party that he was prominently mentioned for the presidency.

Depew married twice. His first wife was Elize Hegemen, whom he married in 1871, and by whom he had one son, Chauncey M. Depew Jr. She died in 1893. His second wife was May Palmer, whom he married in 1901.

His Declining Years.

Depew's ninetieth birthday anniversary found him too ill with a cold to participate in the final festivities and his speech for the occasion had to be read by a son-in-law.

Although he had attended the first Gridiron club dinner in Washington at its organization 40 years before, the 1925 annual celebration found him restrained by his wife from making the trip to the Capital, a thing he said he greatly regretted.

On his ninety-first birthday anniversary Depew was the recipient of 500 messages of good wishes and in June, 1925, he made his first talk over the radio.

He once said that his best work had been done between 75 and 90, and his semi-withdrawal from business which he refused to designate as "retiring," coupled with an increased tendency toward colds made his years after 90 less active than the preceding ones.

When he was 92, he said he expected to live to be 100, and then perhaps, "take up golf."

In his annual talk to the members of the Montauk club, he customarily commented on world affairs. In 1925, he touched but briefly on world matters. He praised the Locarno agreement and declared America "blessed politically" because of the two party system.

He dwelt with particular stress on the beauty of tranquillity, and said the most beautiful word was "home."

Always an Optimist.

In advanced age, Depew always viewed life from a young man's viewpoint and was an incurable optimist. On his ninety-third birthday he agreed to join the New York Young Republican Club, because he felt contact with young men was the only way to keep in touch with the world's activities. He always expressed the belief that he would live to be 100 years old.

"Useful or not," he said, "everybody has a right to live as long as he can; as for me I am going to do my best to set a record." Commenting on an announcement of the Federal Public Health Bureau Service that man's span of life had been increased 15 years since 1870, to 56, Depew said he believed "common sense rather than money glands or monkey glands is what is lengthening the span of life."

In one after-dinner speech he said he had talked to the soldiers of every war in which the United States had been engaged.

"Everything Comes in Time."

"Do you know," he said on another occasion, "that if you live long enough nearly everything will come to you? It is only a matter of time, and the beautiful thing about it is that, when you have advanced in years, your stating the thing doesn't lead people to believe that you are bragging about yourself, because it is what comes in the course of nature.

"I have had my ups and downs, good luck and bad luck, losses and gains, and when I come to sum it up, I think I have got, on the whole, what I deserve. It is all a matter as to what, during the later years, the waves will cast upon the sands of time. If it gives you friends notwithstanding your years, if it gives you h if it gives you work sufficien keep your mental and phy activities alive, then life is w the living."

"EASY", HE SAYS

SUES TO COLLECT FOR POSTERS TO 'PEP UP' WORKERS

Simpson Advertising Agency Says Manufacturers and Merchants Association Owes $18,866.

MONEY NEEDED TO PREVENT A "WRECK"

"Sentence Sermons" to Hang in Office and Factory Were to "Turn Inertia Into Energy."

Unless the Manufacturers' and Merchants' Association pays $18,866, the balance claimed to be due, for a series of industrial posters which the Simpson Advertising Service Co. says were prepared for the association, the advertising agency will be "wrecked," according to its founder and president, Roy B. Simpson.

Even now, Simpson said, the business of the agency is severely handicapped, because from its funds money has been advanced to pay for the association posters, for which the agency has never been compensated in full.

In suit filed yesterday in Circuit Court against the association, Simpson claims that of $20,806 due his firm for furnishing the posters, only $1940 has been paid.

"Strong Sentence Sermons."

The posters were to be sold through the association to members and non-members of the St. Louis industrial district, to be placed in their manufacturing plants and offices where workers could read them. According to a booklet prepared at the time for distribution among those expected to buy the poster service, the posters were "strong sentence sermons to inspire and promote constructive thought and action by encouraging the ambition, energy, loyalty, self-interest, thrift, teamwork, etc., etc., of your employes in office and factory."

There were 52 of the posters which, the booklet said, had been approved by the association.

"Co-operative stock selling has done much to insure the loyalty of employes and cut down labor turnover, but this plan, as good as it is, does not overcome mistakes, laziness, indifference, loafing and other such enemies in the industrial plants," the booklet continues. "Industrial posters take up the work where the other excellent plans leave off. They change human inertia into productive human energy."

Smile for the Workers.

One of the posters "will bring a smile to the face of most workers and in a mild way it ridicules the fellow always asking for help," the text beneath an illustration of one of the posters says. At the bottom of the poster, beneath a drawing of a workman calling "help," is a rhyme:

Some of us yelp
And call for help,
To do any job very well.
But the guy who wins
Is the one who grins,
And does it in spite of hell.

Simpson, a former newspaper man, is considered an expert on advertising and selling. He has taught classes in advertising and for 12 years has had his own agency, handling the accounts of some large advertisers of the St. Louis district.

No Written Contract.

While he made no written contract with the association, which he said he did not think necessary, he feels that an action of the association's Board of Directors, authorizing him to prepare the posters, is morally binding upon the organization, Simpson told a reporter.

"It is inconceivable that a group of high-grade and reputable business men would wreck any man of my character and reputation, who has labored so hard for a long time to build up his own business," Simpson said. "This, however, is just what they will do, unless they meet this obligation immediately."

Frank W. Corley, president of the association, declined to comment.

$250,000 STRAND OF PEARLS LOST IN MAIL

Perfectly Matched Gems, Consigned From Paris to London, Were Intended for American

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 5.—A $250,000 pearl necklace, lost in the mails between Paris and London, was being sought in New York today. Advertisements in today's papers offered $50,000 reward for information leading to its recovery.

Destined for an American woman whose name was not disclosed, the strand of 57 perfectly matched rose-cream gems was mailed on Feb. 23 by a clerk in the Paris office of Cartier, Inc., jewelers, to the firm's London branch. It never was delivered.

Paris police and operatives from Scotland Yard traced the package to Dieppe, France, but there the trail was lost. There was no tangible evidence of theft, but police feared that a band of clever jewel thieves might have intercepted the packet with the intention of bringing the gems to America.

Police Inspector Coughlin, who was asked by the Paris Prefect of Police to make a search here for the necklace, said he believed that if it were brought to this country the string would be broken up and the pearls offered for sale singly.

The necklace was assembled after months of searching for perfectly graduated pearls, the weight of which ranged from 7 to 36.72 grams. Its clasp was set with three diamonds. A complete description of the string and each separate pearl has been given by the Paris police to every large police department in this country and Europe.

TWO NEGROES HELD FOR DEATH OF MAN KILLED BY AUTO

Homer Williams and William Taborn Charged With Homicide in Case of Thomas Stephens.

Two Negroes were held today without bond on charges of homicide by a Coroner's jury investigating the death of Thomas Stephens of 818 North Seventeenth street yesterday, after he had been injured by an automobile driven by one of the Negroes, March 17.

Police said they made the arrests after Homer Williams of 4065 West Belle place and William Taborn of 1503 Singleton place drove near the Dayton Street Station in a suspicious manner. The car was found to have been stolen and the Negroes were identified as the men who had fled after running down Stephens at Sixteenth street and Franklin avenue a short time before. Taborn told police Williams was the driver of the car, but Williams denied this.

That the Negroes laughed and sped away after he called out that they had run over a man, was the testimony today of Elet Condra of 2637 Morgan street. Condra said they were driving 35 miles an hour and nearly hit him before striking Stephens.

LADY HEATH FLIES ALONE FROM CAPE TOWN TO CAIRO

Has Escort, in Another Plane, Across Dangerous Sudan Only, on Authorities' Order.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 5.—A telegram received at Croydon today reported the arrival at Cairo of Lady Heath in a light airplane from Cape Town.

By her flight from the southern tip of Africa to Cairo, Lady Heath is declared to be the first woman to fly from one end of the continent to the other, the first to make a flight in a light plane from Cape Town to Cairo, and the first to make a solo flight over the same territory.

While flying alone throughout, Lady Heath was accompanied over a portion of the trip by Lieut. R. R. Bentley who, in another plane, escorted her across the Sudan when the authorities there declined to permit her to fly alone over that dangerous territory.

'DUTCH TREATER' IS DIVORCED

It was always "Dutch treat" when Mr. and Mrs. Otte dined out, Mrs. Anna Otte of 3553 Park avenue testified today in her suit to divorce Anthony Otte, 3413 South Second street.

She declared that, although Otte received $60 a week as an electrician, he always called for separate checks at the restaurant and allowed her to pay her own. A divorce and $5 a month support for a 2-year-old daughter were granted on ground of general indignities.

$33,914 DOCTOR BILL FOUGHT AS EXCESSIVE

New York Physician Sues Estate of Mrs. J. B. Blackwell for 2 Years' Service.

A bill for $33,914 for medical services extending over a period of two years, presented by Dr. Malford Wilcox Thewlis of New York City against the estate of Mrs. Josephine Blount Blackwell, widow of a St. Louis chemist, who died last Sept. 9 at Atlantic City, is being contested as excessive by the St. Louis Union Trust Co., executors of her estate.

Dr. Thewlis filed suit against the Blackwell estate today for the full amount of his bill, presenting an itemized statement. In this statement he sets forth that he had treated Mrs. Blackwell for cancer from Sept. 18, 1925, until the day of her death. His statement shows he charged her $500 each for 28 applications of radium and $500 for "one night spent in attendance." His fee for each visit to Mrs. Blackwell while she was staying at the Plaza Hotel in New York was $50 and he charged her $10 for advice over the telephone.

The largest item on the bill was one of $5000, which he says he should be paid for a trip he made from Narragansett Pier, L. I., to Atlantic City to see Mrs. Blackwell the day she died. Mrs. Blackwell was the widow of Samuel S. Blackwell, who was connected with Battle & Co., chemists, here. When in St. Louis she resided at Hotel Chase. She left her estate valued at $200,000 in trust for a sister, a niece and two nephews.

NORTH AMERICAN SUBSIDIARY PURCHASES BIG POWER PLANT

NEW YORK, April 5. — The California Railroad Commission has approved the purchase by the Great Western Power Co. of California, a North American Co. subsidiary, of the Feather River Power Co., owning a new $9,000,000 hydro-electric property in Plumas County, California.

The Feather River property operates at the highest head of any hydro plant in America, waterfalling 2561 feet. Its purchase gives the North American system the two highest power plants in the country, the Balch plant of the San Joaquin Light & Power Corporation, completed a year ago, operating under a slightly less head of water.

This will give the California group of the North American system 380,000 kilowatts power plant capacity.

GOV. SMITH VETOES DOG BILL

Holds Measure Barring Display of Clip-Eared Animals Is Invalid.

By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 5.—On constitutional grounds Gov. Smith today vetoed the Shonk bill designed to forbid the exhibition at dog shows of dogs whelped after Sept. 1, if their ears have been clipped or cut.

In disapproving the "dog bill" the Governor suggested that the only theory upon which it could be justified would be that the present custom of clipping dogs' ears is a "shock to public morals" and as such should be a uniform law as to all places, "circuses, theaters, fairgrounds, the public highways and byways." "The theory behind this proposed law I will not dispute," said the Governor, "I take my hat off to no man in my love for dogs and my desire to protect them from any form of cruelty. If this bill prohibited the possession of dogs with cut ears and was made to apply alike to every citizen of the State I would accept it."

HOLDUP MEN GET $3200 AT MT. VERNON BANK

Two Young Women Drive Auto in Which Robbers and Lookout Escape.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

MOUNT VERNON, Ill., April 5.—Two armed men, working with two well-dressed and attractive young women, held up the Farmers' Merchants' Bank here at noon today, bound the cashier and his assistant, and escaped with $3200.

The two young women, in a Buick coupe, casually waited near the bank until one of the robbers appeared outside the door. One of the girls then drove the car to a point directly in front of the bank's front door, where the two men, with the loot concealed, climbed into the rumble seat.

After the car was under way, a third man, said to be "a lookout," boarded the car and took the wheel.

The two men who entered the bank were about 30 years old, according to L. E. Green, the cashier. Green and Miss Marie Hathaway, his assistant, were the only persons in the bank. One of the men, approaching Green, began to chatter nervously about some money that he said had been sent to Centralia for him. As he talked, his hand shook, Greene said.

"Have you been in a wreck," the cashier asked.

The man did not reply, but whipped out a revolver. Greene, covered by the weapon, was ordered to open the vault. One of the men bound him and the other bound Miss Green. The pair then seized $3200 in cash and walked out of the front door.

Persons in the street marked the two young women in the coupe, and commented on their comeliness. The robbery was not discovered until several minutes after the coupe had been driven away.

ROAMING TRUCK DRIVER CLEARS HIMSELF AGAIN

Forest Park Wanderer Tells a Tale of 4 Miles an Hour and Home-Made Muffler.

John W. Brown, the Negro truck driver who lost himself and his load of bricks in Forest Park March 14 when he attempted to take a short cut, was back in Police Court yesterday on a defective muffler charge.

Judge Rosecan recognized him at once as the bewildered chauffeur who recounted his wanderings in Police Court March 23 and finally beat his cases of driving a commercial vehicle in the park and failing to make a boulevard stop by relating how at every turn policemen lay in wait for him.

"Your Honor," Brown began yesterday, "I was going along Olive street near Cardinal about four miles an hour with another load of bricks, when the officer stopped me and said, 'Better step on it a little, you're blocking traffic.' I told him when I was here to see you before I heard you tell a man '$1 a mile,' so the slower I went the less it would cost.

"Then the policeman said, 'Where's all that smoke coming from? You can't drive with that muffler,' and he gave me a ticket. I asked him if he wasn't new on the force, because I met them all that day in the park. Just then an auto went by 50 miles an hour, but he kept on talking to me."

"What was wrong with the muffler?" the Court asked.

"Nothing, Judge, it was quieter than a Cadillac. I made it myself," the Negro replied.

"Have you had it fixed?"

"Your Honor, I bought a new one, but it makes more noise than the old one."

The charge, brought by Patrolman Ferdinand Ahrens, who has been on the motorcycle squad only a short time, was dismissed.

"You've won your case again," Judge Rosecan told Brown. "Be careful, for we may find out how you do it next time."

Brown vowed there wouldn't be a "next time."

CUSTOMER LOCKED IN ICEBOX

Robber Pushes Him in With Grocery Employes; $140 Stolen.

An armed robber who entered the Kroger store at 1354 Semple avenue today locked three employes and a customer, a man, in an icebox, took $140 from two cash registers and escaped in an automobile.

William B. Kennedy, a private detective, 7230 Zephyr avenue, Maplewood, reported that, as he sat in his automobile at Ellenbank and Newstead avenues last night, three men drew alongside ina a machine, pointed revolvers at him and ordered him to drive into a nearby alley. The men drove rapidly away when he told them he was a detective, Kennedy said. He did not get the license number of the machine the men rode in.

STARTS PETITION TO FORCE HOUSE TO ACT ON DRAFT BILL

Representative Johnson Urges Consideration of Plan to Conscript Capital in War.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5. — The little used parliamentary machinery of the House by which a bill is forced from a committee was set in motion on the floor today by Chairman Johnson of the Veterans' Committee in an effort, he said, to obtain action this session on a measure proposing the conscription of capital, industry and labor as well as men in time of war.

At the close of a speech in which he argued that the bill "will do more to end war than all other legislation, for it will make men think before they act," the South Dakota member placed on the speaker's table a petition to have the bill discharged from the House Military Committee and called up for consideration. The petition, to become operative, requires the signature of 218 members, a majority of the 435 in the House.

Johnson, who 11 years ago voted for the draft act and then went to France as an officer in one of the first regiments selected under the law, said he had not lived to regret his vote, but that "today we know the defects of that statute, in that it provided only for the conscription of men."

He added it failed to provide against profiteering and the accumulation of fortunes "through the needs and necessities of the citizens of the country."

Woman Slayer of Husband Freed.

By the Associated Press.

PITSBURG, Pa., April 5.—Mrs. Angeline Bove, 21 years old, who was tried for the killing of her husband, Alfonso, was acquitted by a jury in Criminal Court here late today. The jury deliberated 25 minutes. The crowd in the courtroom applauded when the jury foreman announced "not guilty." The prosecution charged the woman killed her husband when he refused to take her to a show. Her defense was that she shot Bove accidentally while they were scuffling for a pistol after he had knocked her down twice.

GIRL, 21, ELECTED TO COLLECTORSHIP

Celeste Tripp Cast Her First Vote at Richmond Heights and Led the Ticket.

When Miss Celeste Tripp, just past her twenty-first birthday, cast her first ballot Tuesday in the municipal election at Richmond Heights, she placed a firm X in the square opposite the words: "For Collector, Citizens' Party, Celeste Tripp."

And Celeste Tripp was elected to the office by a plurality of 187 votes, over two men opponents. She led her ticket with 1214 votes while the party leader, former Mayor James M. Jensen, was defeated in the race for Mayor, receiving 1039 votes.

Miss Tripp has been Deputy Collector under George Skillman for two years since her graduation from Maplewood High School. She lives with her mother, Mrs. Ida Windle, at 7366 Arlington avenue.

She made no active campaign. "We had parties and things like that," she explained today, "but I knew most of the people anyway and there wasn't much to it. The meetings were held in the school buildings and were more like entertainments, only the candidates all made a few speeches. Mine were short and snappy."

BROOKS FAVORS BUS LINE OVER KINGSHIGHWAY VIADUCT

Director of Streets to Recommend Issuance of Permit to Subsidiary of Public Service Co.

A permit to operate a bus line across the Kingshighway viaduct from Oakland avenue south to Southwest avenue and return will be recommended for the St. Louis Bus Co., subsidiary of the Public Service Co., to the Board of Public Service by Director of Streets and Sewers Brooks tomorrow.

Granting of the permit to the St. Louis Bus Co. at first was opposed by the People's Motorbus Co., but Brooks announced today its opposition had been withdrawn.

The St. Louis Bus Co. plans to put on two busses during heavy traffic hours and will issue transfers from Taylor and Market street cars at the northern terminus of the bus line and from the Southampton street cars at the southern terminus. Only one bus will run when traffic is light.

There is no car line on the viaduct.

Accident Verdict in Fatal Fall.

A verdict of accident was returned today by a Coroner's jury investigating the death of Austin M. Rhoades of 2538 Horde avenue, Jennings, who fell 60 feet from a scaffolding at the Prospect Hill plant of Missouri Portland Cement Co., Tuesday and died at Westminster Hospital. Rhoades, an engineer for a construction company, had gone to inspect the work.

A few years ago DUZ chemists discovered and patented an exclusive process for combining Oxygen with soap. As DUZ dissolves in tub or washing machine the imprisoned Oxygen is liberated, making millions of tiny Oxygen bubbles, which seethe and race about, absorbing and washing out dirt, yellowness and stains. MOTION PICTURE STRIP TRANSMITTED BY WIRE

Series of "Stills" Sent From Chicago to New York and St. Louis.

St. Louis cut in on the first transmission of motion pictures by telephone yesterday afternoon, and Vilma Banky's smile arrived intact in the Telephoto offices here within two hours after it was photographed in action in Chicago.

The experiment undertaken yesterday was the transmission of 20 feet of film, a closeup of the star's smile, from Chicago to New York. "Shots" were made in the Chicago Telephoto office at 10:30 a. m. Transmission was begun at 12 noon. St. Louis and the five other Telephoto offices cut in on the same circuit for the first foot and a half of film.

It had come in over the wire, prints had been made and reporters were starting back to the newspapers with them while the streets still were crowded with downtown office workers out for luncheon. The entire 20 feet was thrown on the screen in the Embassy Theater in New York for the afternoon show.

To the untrained eye, at least, the print made here was quite as sharp in definition as though it had been made in the Chicago darkroom, with Miss Banky waiting in the next room to see how it came out. A single picture, selected from a strip of film, reduced, sent by wire and then photographed as it appeared on the screen in preliminary tests last week, showed some blurring.

Probably there will be little of that in the film shown in New York, for it was not reduced for transmission but sent in actual size, 16 pictures to the foot of film and 24 to the 5 by 7-inch negative used by the Telephoto apparatus. Reduction might be a possibility in speeding up the process if it could be accomplished without impairing clearness, since it takes seven minutes to send each of the 5 by 7 plates, and up to three minutes to change them. Another possibility is the development of a special apparatus to handle motion picture films and eliminate the changing of negatives altogether. The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has studied the problem for several years and will continue its research to clear up the details for practical operation.

At that, the Chicago offices announced, the 20 feet of film was transmitted to New York by wire in a fifth the time it would have taken to get there by airplane. The process is not expected to be of use to transport motion picture plays for some time, at least. Its chief advantage is for motion picture news services, which could distribute "flashes" of spectacular events, through the eight Telephoto stations, to all sections of the country on the day they occurred.

CHARGE OF HIDING ASSETS OF MILLINERY FIRM DROPPED

U. S. District Attorney Says Government Has Weak Case Against Herman V. Gibstein.

An indictment charging Herman V. Gibstein, former treasurer of the defunct American Millinery Co., with aiding in concealing $3600 in assets of the company two years ago, was stricken from the criminal docket, with lease to reinstate, by Federal Judge Davis yesterday, on motion of District Attorney Breuer.

Breuer explained today he believed the Government had a weak case and would not find it profitable to bring Gibstein from Seattle, Wash., where he now lives, to St. Louis for trial. The District Attorney said he had learned Gibstein had suffered a nervous breakdown from worry over the charge, was penniless and had made partial restitution to creditors with funds raised by friends and relatives.

Before his indictment, Gibstein accounted for $1500, realized on sale of hats, by explaining to the court it had been stolen from a bed in his home at 6683 Kingsbury avenue where he had hidden the money, intending, he said, to pay creditors with it.

Their pleasing features, their good complexions, were being spoiled by one distressing mistake

By BOYER
The Society Perfumer, 13 Rue Royale
PARIS

THE mistake so many women make with their appearance is due to face powder.

They use one of the three conventional shades—Flesh, White or Brunette.

Yet, as I recently proved in my Rue Royale studio, with 1,000 Parisiennes, there are 7 distinct tonal variations in the feminine complexion, so how—save with 7 matching tones of face powder to select from—can woman really look her best?

I offer you a free test

FEW—very few complexions—are suited to the three basic powder tones. Most women's skins run to "in-between" colourings. Possibly yours is one.

So now, as I invited all Paris, I invite you to test my "Flowers of Beauty" face powder at my expense. Your exact shade is obtainable. Besides Flesh, White and Brunette I offer it in Sunkiss, Peach Blended, Lavender and Aristocratic Brown.

Simply go to your toilet goods counter and select the shade and weight you like.

You will be given, free, a 25c handbag tube merely by buying a $1 box. If the powder in the tube does not delight you, you need not open the box at all. You just return it and get your money back. I pay for the tube in any event.

If you've chosen the wrong shade or weight just try another in the same unrestricted way.

"Flowers of Beauty" dealers also carry two other exceptional beauty aids—Boyer's Cold Cream and Boyer's Vanishing Cream—each the finest of its kind. I urge you to try either or both with my unqualified assurance that they will please or we will give your money back.

In every corner of this great country you will find this grand old ginger ale

WHY is it, the question is often asked by travelers, that we find "Canada Dry" served everywhere we go?

Ten years ago Americans traveling in Canada came back to this country and spoke of a fine old ginger ale. Down from Canada they brought tales of a wonderful beverage. They said then, "It has a distinctive flavor."

Distinctive flavor—that is why "Canada Dry" has been known in the Dominion since 1890. Why ten years ago Americans began demanding it in the United States. Why it is served in countless homes from Maine to California, today. Why it is a popular ginger ale.

Many ginger ales have tried to imitate "Canada Dry." Many of these ginger ales contain capsicum (red pepper) to give them bite. "Canada Dry" uses the finest quality Jamaica ginger. It is made under laboratory methods of purity and exactness from the highest quality of ingredients. That is why it is distinctive.

Lose Fat
in an easier way

Don't over-exert—correct the cause

Some can reduce by starvation or abnormal exercise, but the way is long and hard. Not one in ten of the over-fat has the patience to continue. And even then the best efforts may fail unless the inner cause is corrected.

Over twenty years ago scientific men discovered a great cause of excess fat. They found a substance which Nature employs to turn food into fuel and energy rather than into fat. They proved that an extra supply of that substance could check the formation of fat.

That substance was embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for two decades—millions of boxes of them. Now you can see in almost every circle how much they have done for beauty, health, and vitality. Doubtless some of your friends can tell you. Slenderness prevails today, fat is the exception.

The use of Marmola requires no abnormal exercise or diet, though moderation helps. Users simply take four tablets daily until the weight comes down to normal. They combat the cause.

Try the help which has done so much for so many. You owe that to yourself. You cannot afford to stay over-fat when reduction is so easy and so pleasant. Watch the results, then tell your friends, as people have for 20 years been doing. All your life you will be glad that you know Marmola. Go order now.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 per box. If your druggist is out, he will get them at once from his jobber.

HOLLAND GETS LAND ONCE CLAIMED BY U. S.

Island Las Palmas Near Philippines Awarded to Dutch After Arbitration.

By the Associated Press.

THE HAGUE, April 5.—The island Las Palmas (Miangas), between the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines, belongs to Holland by a decision handed down yesterday through Prof. Max Huber, a Swiss statesman, who has been arbitrating a dispute between the United States and the Netherlands respecting sovereignty of the islet.

The island of Las Palmas is only two miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide and has a population of approximately 700. It lies 50 miles southeast of Cape San Augustine and 75 miles east of Buquit Point, both being extremeties of the island of Mindanao.

The United States claimed Las Palmas by virtue of the Spanish cession of the Philippines in 1898. When, however, in 1925, Governor-General Wood visited the place, he found the headman wore a skull cap and displayed a Dutch flag, which he said had been given to him by a captain of a Dutch vessel.

Former Secretary of State Hughes and Minister De Graeff of the Netherlands signed a special agreement at Washington in January, 1925, submitting the question of sovereignty to arbitration. The United States wished to obtain control of the speck in the ocean because of the belief that it was used as a rendezvous for opium smugglers. So long as the Netherlands' flag flew over the island customs officials of the Philippines could not pursue smugglers into the single port of Las Palmas.

Commons Against News Combines,

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 5.—The consolidation of newspapers and powerful syndicates was discussed in the House of Commons yesterday. The House agreed, without division, to a motion saying maintenance of independent organs for the dissemination of news was vital for the preservation of the standard of public life and that consolidation into syndicates and some of the devices employed to extend circulation were contrary to public interests.

ACTION DEFERRED ON NYE RESOLUTION

It Would Prohibit Sending of Armed Forces to Protect Property of Americans.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—After an hour's discussion the Senate Foreign Relations Committee deferred action yesterday on the Nye resolution by which the Senate would declare it would never be the policy of the United States to guarantee or protect by force the investments and property of its citizens in foreign countries.

Wherever American citizens had claims against foreign countries as a result of their investments therein the Government, under the resolution, would assist them through its good offices but would "in no case forcibly interfere in the orderly settlement of such controversies or utilize its army, navy, or marine corps, or otherwise employ force with a view to demanding or achieving settlement of such claims."

The resolution further proposes that the President be requested to publicly proclaim "this doctrine of self-determination as being an integral part of the policy of the United States from now on and memorialize the other nations of the world with the expressed hope, by taking similar action, will assist in conferring the blessing of peace and prosperity upon all their peoples."

Chairman Borah said consideration of the resolution would open up discussion of the whole question of employment of American armed forces in West Indian and Latin American countries, and that as a result a decision on the resolution could not be reached yesterday.

DRIVER OF MAIL TRUCK WHICH KILLED MAN FREED BY JURY

Otis M. Wilson, Negro Postal Employe, Said Painter Stepped Into Vehicle's Path.

Otis M. Wilson, Negro postal employe, of 4547 Kennerly avenue, was acquitted by a jury in Circuit Court yesterday on a charge of manslaughter in the death of John Condray, 65 years old, a painter, of 4301A Swan avenue, who was hit by a Government mail truck Wilson was driving Jan. 2, 1927. The jury was out 10 minutes.

James J. Thurman, 4632 Shenandoah avenue, the State's chief witness, testified the mail truck was going between 35 and 40 miles an hour, but that Wilson brought it to a stop within 12 feet.

Wilson told the jury Condray hesitated in the street and then jumped back into the path of the truck. Government postal inspectors testified the mail truck was so regulated it could not go more than 25 miles an hour.

St. Louisan Held for Assault.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 5.—Charges of assault to murder were lodged yesterday by the police against Marvin Graham, 22 years old, who says he is from St. Louis. He is alleged to have drawn his pistol and attempted to shoot Patrolman Fred Grant who was trying to arrest him in connection with an automobile theft.

Larus & Bro. Co.,
Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:

Most medical students by the time they reach the third year of their work have absorbed the scientific spirit. That is, we take nothing for granted unless it has been confirmed by experiment or other reliable means. Prove it, we say!

Some time ago I decided to start smoking a pipe. Choosing the pipe was easy enough, but finding the tobacco to go with it was not so easy. I experimented, trying one tobacco after another. Some would have a fragrant aroma, but oh—what a taste they would leave! Others, left my mouth like a furnace. A few reminded me of a poorly ventilated chemical laboratory.

I had almost decided that what I was looking for—a cool, sweet, taste and a pleasant aroma—was impossible. Finally, I took the advice of one of the fellows and tried your good ole blue can. Eureka! You can't get me away from it now.

You should call Edgeworth—"money's worth."

Sincerely yours,
Irving H. Plaine

What chance has a Septic Child?

It may not be his fault that he is dull and stupid in his classes, indifferent in his play. Septic children are all thus handicapped and frequently have unpleasant breath or body odors as well. Septic children are badly outclassed!

Scoldings will not help. Parents must recognize the cause, and correct their sluggish systems.

The trouble is deepseated. Semi-constipation makes millions of systems septic—in children as well as grown-ups. There may be partial movements daily—but all the waste is not eliminated. The matter that remains poisons the system, tainting the perspiration and the breath, sapping the energy and stupefying the mind. Not a pleasant condition! But easy to correct. Nature is signalling her need of a little calcium wafer!

If you are a septic, soap and water will not solve the difficulty. Nor will any surface treatment neutralize unpleasant vaporings of the body, or the breath for any length of time.

A few tiny calcium wafers—and what a marvelous difference! Eyes bright! Mind alert! Quickened interest in studies, and healthy strenuous play! And how the appearance is improved: Skin healthily soft and silken! A naturally heightened color that nothing will remove! Just a few days' use of calcium wafers will work wonders for any septic.

Perhaps you are a septic and don't know it. This unpleasant condition comes on so gradually! A test of calcium wafers has fairly astounded thousands of men and women who thought they were perfectly healthy! Try them!

DEMOCRATS SEEK $300,000,000 TAX REDUCTION

Senator Simmons to Lead Fight in Finance Committee for Larger Slash Than Proposed by Mellon.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A real row on tax reduction was assured today with the announcement by Democratic members of the Senate Finance Committee that they would seek a total slash of at least $300,000,000 as opposed to the $200,000,000 maximum proposal by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the committee, carried this program to the committee room today on instructions of a conference of minority members last night, but he faced an apparently futile fight with the Republican majority of the committee lining up solidly behind the Treasury suggestions.

Open Hearing Agreement.

An agreement to hold open hearings on the tax reduction bill was reached today by the Finance Committee in response to the request of the Democratic membership.

Representatives of the automobile industry will be given the first opportunity to present their case at the opening of the hearings Monday. This will be the first time in recent years that the Senate Finance Committee has held open hearings on tax legislation.

Chairman Smoot indicated today he might ask the Republican majority to go lighter on the cut in the corporation tax than was agreed to yesterday. He suggested today that a 12½ per cent rate might be necessary. The committee has agreed once to slash the 13½ per cent rate to 12 per cent The House voted a 11½ per cent figure.

Approval was given to the present provision of the law for publicity of tax returns, which restricts publicity to congressional committees.

To Carry Fight to Senate Floor.

The Democratic program includes repeal of the automobile tax which was voted by the House but opposed by the administration. They also would join in the movement for revision of the intermediate surtax rates; the graduated rates for corporations with small incomes, a House provision; and increasing the exemption on admissions. No decision was reached by the minority conference on the administration proposal for repeal of the estate tax.

Outvoted in committee, Senator Simmons intends to carry his fight to the floor. But there he will need the support of some Republican votes and the Republican Independents, who often line up with the Democrats, have declared for using the surplus toward the public debt but are expected to support the minimum cut indorsed by the administration.

A break in ranks, however, is expected on the fight for repeal of the automobile tax. This involves $66,000,000 in revenue.

Foresees $100,000,000 Deficit.

Under-Secretary Mills said today that if the Democrats should succeed in their attempt to reduce taxes by $300,000,000 the Treasury would be faced with a deficit of approximately $100,000,000.

"The Treasury figures," he said "are based on careful calculation and are figures that the Treasury Department believes are substantially accurate. If the Democrats can tell us where the figures are wrong we would be grateful, but they have not even attempted to show inaccuracies in the Treasury estimates but have arbitrarily set $300,000,000 as tax reduction."

'CORN ON COB CURFEW' DEVICE FOR THE DAINTY

Adjusts Itself to Malocclusion, Preserves Sex Appeal, and and Eliminates Cornocobia.

Members of the Women's Advertising Club recently were mystified by a questionnaire sent to them by Mrs. Erma Perham Proetz, chairman of the agency group, which made the following queries with the request for explanation of the answers:

Do you prefer a high or a low tone bell?

Have you any prejudices against canned vegetables?

Have you any reservations about buying silver in a department store?

In eating corn on the cob, do you bite two or three rows at a time?

Can you maintain your sex appeal under the most trying conditions?

Do you suffer from malocclusion?

One definite result of the answers received from 42 of the 112 members was proof from the pretendedly serious statements made that these particular women, at least, have a pronounced sense of humor. The 10 members in the agency group made it all clear at a meeting of the whole organization at the Town Club, Monday evening, at which the work of the women in this unit, who, like Mrs. Proetz, are executives of advertising agencies, was demonstrated.

Preparing for a Big Market.

A complete display was made of all the steps of inquiry and advertising that an agency follows in marketing a product. The questionnaire was one of the phases. A hilariously funny article was chosen—the Corn-Curfew, produced by the Corn-Curfew Sales Corporation. The women's gathering was asked to imagine itself at the annual meeting of this company, celebrating successful business and planning a national advertising campaign of renewed vigor.

Corn-Curfew is a device to rid the polite world of the ill of cornocobia, a recently discovered cousin of h-l-t-s-s. In the language of the advertising "copy," this is known colloquially as "fingering of the corncobs" and scientifically as "an unsociable habit formerly developed in all walks of life." Corn-Curfew is a dainty "silver"-plated machine suspiciously resembling an old typewriter, with a "gear-shift" to turn up the number of rows of kernals best fitting the consumer's mouth, a bell to warn of the approaching end of the cob, and an automatic butter dripper and salt sprayer.

Year-Round Table Device.

The corporation claims to have arranged for canned corn on the cob, so the device can be used all year. That explains one point of the questionnaire. It wants the bell to please the user's ear, the rows to fit the mouth and overcome faulty meeting of the teeth (malocclusion). It wants to sell Corn-Curfew in department stores if women don't mind buying silverware there. And it asserts that this boon to humanity will avoid a loss of sex appeal when eating roastin' ears. Answers to the questionnaire were not tabulated.

A slogan contest was held among the 75 club members at the meeting. Miss Helen Sievers won first prize—a pair of real life cob holders—with: "Corn-Curfew Keeps Corn-Fed Cuties Clean."

SIDEBURNS CAUSE ARREST

Negro, Having Them Shaved Off, Held as Holdup Suspect.

Henry S. Baker of 2600 Madison street was beaten by a Negro last night when he resisted efforts to rob him, in the 2700 block of Lucas avenue. Baker told police the Negro had sideburns and, soon after, policemen came upon a Negro in a barbershop having his sideburns shaved off. He was arrested, although he denied he had anything to do with the beating of Baker.

Two masked, armed Negroes took $55 and an automobile from Wirth Suggs, 3035 Lucas avenue, last night. Suggs, a service car driver, had answered a call for a machine at an address on Cozens avenue. As he walked to the front door, the two Negroes stepped from an areaway where they had been hiding.

Easiest to peel and slice

for quick desserts

Five-minute desserts and ten-minute salads are best made with California Sunkist Oranges because they are easiest to peel and separate, and easiest to slice delightfully thin. Sunkist Oranges are firm and tender and give the most delightful results.

Sunkist Oranges are either seedless or practically so and offer no annoying task in the preparation as food. Not only time is saved, but the juicy, golden fruit is lusciously appetizing as you place it on the table.

Serve more California oranges for their joyous, inviting goodness, but most important, for their health building qualities. Oranges not only contain a wealth of vitamins and mineral salts, but are one of the most potent correctives and preventives of ACIDOSIS known to Medical Science. Orange juice before breakfast, lunch and dinner will benefit you materially. Your doctor will confirm this statement if you will ask him.

All through the year, fresh luscious California Sunkist Oranges are obtainable everywhere fruit is sold. They are uniformly good; the Sunkist trademark assures that. There is a size for every pocketbook, but all are of true California Sunkist quality.

Richest Juice — Finest Flavor

To be sure of getting California Sunkist Oranges look for the trade-mark on the fruit and on the wrapper.

TURNED BURGLAR AND FORGER WHEN WIFE SCOLDED HIM

H. L. Gutting, 32, Graduate Engineer of Washington U. Tells Police How He Got $475.

Domestic troubles made a burglar and forger out of a mechanical engineer, Herman J. Gutting, 32 years old and father of three children, told detectives who arrested him at the Tower Grove Bank yesterday afternoon.

A graduate of Washington University, Gutting was employed by a local utility until three months ago. About that time, he said, his wife began accusing him of associating with other women, and they separated. Gutting said he lost his ambition and self-respect after that.

He was passing the home of Mrs. Marcella M. Cannan, 2838 Sidney street, Feb. 21, when he obeyed an impulse toward burglary. He let himself into the house with a key and stole a $50 wrist watch, a checkbook and a number of canceled checks.

With $60 of his own money and a check for $250 to which he had forged Mrs. Cannan's signature, as seen on the canceled checks, Gutting opened an account at the Tower Grove Bank under an assumed name. Under another name, he opened an account at the Franklin Bank and checked out $255 from the first bank. Then he opened an account under a third alias at the City Trust Co. and checked out $475.

Hearing that private bank detectives were on the trail, Gutting telephoned the detective agency that he would be glad to meet the detectives at the Tower Grove Bank. The detectives met him at the appointed hour, and he was arrested. He had $2 left. He had sold the $50 watch for $6. The money obtained on the checks had just "slipped away," he said.

SINCLAIR TOOK TEAPOT DOME AGAINST ADVICE, WITNESS SAYS

Advance Detail of Oil Man's Defense Disclosed by One of His Attorneys.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—More of the procedure which will be followed in the defense of Harry F. Sinclair was disclosed today when George P. Hoover, one of his attorneys, said Sinclair had accepted Teapot Dome after his employes who investigated had advised him to have nothing to do with the naval oil reserve. Among those who urged the oil man not to accept the reserve, Hoover said, was A. E. Watts, vice president of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Co. Watts will be called as a defense witness in an effort to prove that Sinclair really did not want the lease. Watts investigated the terms of the lease and declared they were unfair, Hoover said, and personally urged Sinclair not to accept it.

Fall at El Paso last week was quoted as saying that Sinclair at one stage of the negotiations rejected the lease.

The special Government prosecutors think that much of Fall's deposition is immaterial to the Sinclair trial and they will oppose its introduction. In this category may be Fall's explanation of his famous McLean letter to the Senate oil committee.

PRINCE OF WALES WINS RACE

By the Associated Press.

NOTTINGHAM, England, April 5.—The Prince of Wales, who has been suffering a series of mishaps in his last two appearances in the racing field, today broke through with a victory, capturing the Royal Naval Hunt Cup point-to-point steeplechase at Oxton by 20 lengths.

He rode Miss Muffett on Monday. The mare fell twice in a steeplechase at Hawthorn. Tuesday night the Prince appeared at a "sing song" in the People's Palace in the east end of London with his right thumb bandaged, the injury having been suffered in one of his recent tumbles.

On Neck, Chest, Arms. Itching and Burning Caused Discomfort.

"My trouble began with pimples breaking out on my neck, chest and both arms. They were large and hard and festered. The itching and burning caused discomfort at night, and my clothing aggravated the breaking out for a time.

"I read an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment so purchased some. They helped me from the very start, and after using three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Frank Campion, 2620 Vine St., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit, on repeated buying, on one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed.

Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Keep a bottle in your home—where many live someone is sure to need it quickly.

We would be glad to have you prove at our expense how much Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can mean to you and yours. Just write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, and we will send you prepaid a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE.

Blindfolded . . . . in scientific tes

selects OLD GOLD

Photograph of W. T. Benda, taken in his studio . . . while test was being made. In background may be seen some of the famous Benda masks.

W. T. BENDA, eminent illustrator and creator of the Benda masks.

"I have been an inveterate cigarette smoker for years and my interest in cigarettes not only induced me to make this blindfold test, but to make it three times in succession.

"Each time I selected the same cigarette . . . OLD GOLD.

"However, there was no other choice I could honestly make. OLD GOLD was so superior in its delicacy of aroma, its rich, full flavor so entirely free from any hint of sting or burn that it immediately appealed to my taste. Since the test I have been smoking OLD GOLDS steadily and I find that they are the most satisfying cigarettes I have ever smoked."

W. T. Benda

How Test Was Made

Mr. Benda was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke. To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette. Mr. Benda was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test. After smoking the four cigarettes, he was asked to designate by number his choice. He named "Number 4," which was OLD GOLD.

LA FOLLETTE MEN GET MAJORITY IN WISCONSIN FIGHT

Progressives Appear to Have Elected 14 Delegates and Republicans 12 in State Primary.

By the Associated Press.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 5.—Election of 14 Progressives pledged to Senator George W. Norris and 12 Republicans, most of them uninstructed, as the State's delegation to the Republican national convention appeared today to have been the outcome of Tuesday's Wisconsin primary.

This result would mean the State delegation would go to Kansas City with a division of sentiment similar to that in 1916, when the late Senator Robert M. La Follette was enjoying recognition as the dominating factor in Wisconsin Republican ranks. In 20 years of battling between the two factions in the State, the 1916 result from the anti-Progressive standpoint stood unequaled until today. In the four other conventions from 1908 to 1924 La Follette either had entire control or lacked only one or two votes.

Delegates-at-Large Divided.

This complexion of the delegation was predicted on each of the two factions having elected two delegates-at-large, and the Progressives capturing 12 of the district delegates and the Republicans 10.

The delegates-at-large will be Senator Robert M. La Follette and John J. Blaine, Norris progressives, and Walter J. Kohler, manufacturer, and Andrew L. Kreutzer, Wausau, former State Senator, uninstructed Republicans. Of the Republican votes, Lowden will get two from the First district and may gain a third from the Eighth if Frank Chesak of Athens defeats his running mate, John F. Jardine. Hoover will get the vote of Walter B. Chilsen, Merrill publisher, in the Eleventh district.

Smith Wins All Delegates.

Gov. Smith had easy sailing in the Democratic vote, making a clean sweep of the entire State delegation of 26.

In the Republican presidential preferential column Norris received 83,193 votes on returns from 1492 out of 2746 precincts. His name was the only one on the preferential ballot. However, 28,950 voters wrote in the name of Herbert Hoover. Lowden received 12,652 and Dawes 2278 such votes.

Senator Reed of Missouri had received 36,630 votes in the Democratic presidential preferential vote, when returns from 1548 precincts had been tabulated. Smith had 9541 and Walsh 251. Reed's name was the only one printed on the preferential ballot.

New York Leaders Meet, Presumably to Discuss Smith's Candidacy.

By the Associated Press.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 5.—The political background of Gov. Smith's candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination began to assume definite form at a prevacation conference here yesterday held by the Governor, George W. Olvany, leader of Tammany Hall, and Lieut.-Gov. Edwin Corning, chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

Olvany ostensibly journeyed to New York to discuss the personnel of New York State's delegation-at-large to the national convention, but the length of the conference and the secrecy left little doubt in the minds of those who talked with the leaders afterward that matters of greater political moment were talked over.

The conference furnished the last opportunity for the three leaders to get together before the Democratic State Committee meeting in New York City on April 17, at which the delegates and alternates-at-large formally will be selected, for Smith will leave on a vacation Monday or Tuesday.

The meeting of the State Committee has generally been hailed as the stepping stone from which the candidacy of the New York State executive formally will be announced, and it was on the advisability of this move that the conference is believed to have been held.

Kills Four of Family, Hangs Self.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark, April 5.—A Russian emigrant named Votkevitch, residing at Jyderup, killed his wife, his 19-year-old son and his daughter, 16, and his mother-in-law last night. He then set fire to the house and hanged himself.

BOY SAID TO HAVE SLAIN HIS PARENTS AND KILLED SELF

Investigation by Rochester Police Officer Shows Newark (N. Y.) Father and Mother Died on the Spot.

By the Associated Press.

NEWARK, N. Y., April 5. — Jackson Warren, 13 years old, shot his parents to death as they lay in bed last Wednesday and later shot himself, according to a report made public last night by Detective Captain John P. McDonald, of the Rochester police.

The report, addressed to the Mayor of Newark says "our investigation shows no evidence pointing to an outsider as having a part in this distressing occurrence," and "it would seem unlikely that an outsider could shoot Jackson Warren under the bed clothes, leaving the gun and shell in bed."

According to McDonald, who has been investigating the triple slaying of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Warren and their son since Monday, this "leaves only some member of the Warren family as the one who committed the crime."

McDonald asserted "medical evidence proves that Mr. and Mrs. Warren were incapable of action following their wounds." He points out that four medical men have established that Warren and his wife were killed instantly by the shots in the head and their bodies burned to an advanced degree; that Jackson died from a shot wound in the chest, and that he appeared to be alive at 5:40 a. m., while in an automobile on the way to a hospital.

McDonald points out that Frank Warren's gun, which fired all three shots, was found in the boy's bed and he also considers it unlikely that an outsider would stay in the house for two hours after the fire started.

ZOO GETS MRS. FUQUA'S LION

Animal Which She Lassoed in Colorado to Be Exhibited Soon.

A mountain lion, which Mrs. M. S. Fuqua of 4943 Lindell boulevard notified the Forest Park Zoo she had lassoed and captured near Glenwood, Colo., in a recent hunt, has arrived at the zoo and soon will be on exhibition beside four other lions there.

Mrs. Fuqua has named him Buena Vista after the location of her summer resort in Colorado. He weighs more than 200 pounds and is nine feet long from nose to tail. Four dingo (Australian wild dog) puppies, born at the zoo, recently, are on view there now. They resemble tame canines and are playful.

HAUGEN EXPLAINS CHANGES IN HOUSE FARM RELIEF BILL

Says It Provides Two Remedies, Loans, and That Failing, Equalization Fees.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The new McNary-Haugen bill introduced yesterday was described to the House today in a formal report by Chairman Haugen of its Agriculture Committee as a measure differing materially from that vetoed a year ago by President Coolidge and so modified that it now proposes "two distinct and entirely separable remedies" for the farm situation.

"The changes which have been made," he said, "meet in a large part the objections expressed by the President in his message returning the former measure without his approval.

"Especially does the present bill provide an almost unlimited opportunity for the administrative body created under it to deal with the problem of agricultural surpluses through loans, which those who have opposed the past committee bills urge would be fully adequate to meet the situation.

Two Remedies Offered.

"The present bill proposes two distinct and entirely separable remedies—first, loans to co-operative associations at a low rate of interest, as frequently suggested by the Secretary of Agriculture, Mr. Jardine; and, second, in case of failure of the first remedy to accomplish the purposes of the act, the making of marketing agreements providing that cost and losses on transactions authorized under the agreements would be paid by the commodity whose producers receive the direct benefit.

"Both methods are directed toward promoting orderly marketing, and, in the case of tariff-protected commodities, making the tariff effective."

The report, drafted by the Iowa Republican at the direction of the Agriculture Committee and concurred in by 15 of its 21 members, is expected to be followed in a few days by one or more minority reports from those opposing the bill.

Designed to Meet Courts.

Haugen declared that if any court should restrain the proposed Federal Farm Board from entering into marketing agreements financed by equalization fees, the board, under the new bill, would be entirely free to operate under the loan provisions.

"The committee does not believe that the contingency will arise," he continued, "but if the constitutionality of any provision relating to marketing agreements is not sustained, the bill still would present a workable whole.

"If all the major proposals of the bill are sustained, which the committee believes will be the case, then in addition to providing marketing assistance to co-operatives through loans, the measure would permit producers of surplus commodities to receive an assured benefit from operations financed by fees collected upon such commodities."

Changes in Provisions.

Many specific changes were made to meet "executive objections," these were set forth as follows:

Application to all agricultural commodities instead of six basic commodities;

Elimination of restrictions on the President's appointing powers regarding selection of board members;

Provision of assistance for perishable agricultural commodities;

Prohibition of "unreasonable discrimination" in making marketing agreements.

The bill also would eliminate "the State convention machinery" proposed in the old bill to obtain the sentiments of producers regarding commencement and termination of operations with any commodities. It also would eliminate the "serial receipts for cotton" and provide a "limit liability" for the Government.

It also "clarifies insurance provisions" and provides a "fee on importation of food products," which Haugen said met the objection raised by the President that the old measure embodied no provision covering imported products.

The present bill provides for the collection of a fee on the importation of the commodity during a marketing period and for the collection of an equivalent fee upon the importation of any food product manufactured from such a commodity.

Haugen has expressed hope that the measure, which in a slightly different form is now being considered by the Senate, will be called up in the House within a week or 10 days.

CARDINALS RETURN HOME; TODAY'S GAME AT DANVILLE CALLED OFF

LOOSE FIELDING BRINGS DEFEAT AT EVANSVILLE

Errors by Frisch and Thevenow and Poor Work in Outfield Give 10 Runs Off Rhem and Haines.

Ormsby to Umpire In Spring Series

"RED" ORMSBY will be the American League umpire in the spring series games between the Browns and Cardinals, Bill Friel, business manager of the Browns, announced this morning.

By W. J. McGoogan

Of the Post-Dispatch Sport Staff.

DANVILLE, Ill., April 5.—Life is a serious matter to Jess Haines, star righthand pitcher of the Cardinals' staff. And baseball is his life. There is nothing funny to Jess on a ball field whether it be in a spring exhibition contest or in a world series game. He always does his best and wants every player on the club to do the same.

Some players may get a laugh when an infielder makes an error and some pitchers may shrug their shoulders when a mate makes a mental boot, but not Haines. He gets sore when one of his outfielders plays a hitter wrong or an infielder loafs on a ball. Not only does he get sore but he lets the offender know in certain terms that he is sore and why.

In addition to expressing his feelings, Haines boils inwardly which is probably his worst fault for at times he allows his feelings to get the better of his judgment and will lob a ball over the plate for a batter to take a crack at it because something goes wrong behind him.

Has Worked 25 Innings.

This year Haines has been conditioning his right arm in his own way, preparing for the coming season in which he hopes to better his mark of 24 victories set last year. He has pitched six times this spring for a total of 25 innings and has shown improvement with each attempt.

But though it be in a game which means nothing, Jess wants his team to hustle behind him. He gives all he has and wants the same from his infielders and outfielders.

So when Evansville scored four runs off him in the eighth inning yesterday, due to what Haines thought was laxness on the part of other players he told them about it when they came to the bench. He told them what he thought of anybody, who didn't hustle or who played hitters thoughtlessly.

In this instance he may not have been altogether right but at the same time if such a disposition helps a pitcher to win 24 games in a year it is worth cultivating and is a helpful influence on a team which has several free and easy spirits on it. Haines relieved Rhem in the box against Evansville with the Cardinals trailing 7 to 5 and he held his opponents scoreless with two hits in the next two innings.

And Then the Fun Began.

In the eighth McKechnie's men picked up a tally and drew up to within one run of Evansville. Haines wanted to hold the minor leaguers scoreless in their half of the eighth and give his team a chance to tie it up in the ninth.

But a base on balls put McConnell, Evansville's first batter, on first. Wyatt, next up, grounded to Thevenow. Bouton singled to left and McConnell stopped at third. Wohlwender hit a high bounder in front of the plate and was on first when the ball reached the ground, filling the bases.

The Cardinal infield played back for a double play but when Thevenow fumbled Castel's roller McConnell and Bouton scored and Wohlwender reached third. Wade fouled to High. Dolan hit a short fly to left field and because Blades was playing too far back it went for a single, Wohlwender scoring and Castel reaching third. Then Haines became peeved and tossed the ball over the plate for Lowell to sock and he did, getting a single to center on which Castel cantered over the plate. King's foul ended the inning but didn't improve Haines' temper. Jesse came to the bench mumbling about infielders who don't hustle and outfielders who play batters wrong.

What About Flint Rhem?

But if Haines had a kick coming how about Flint Rhem? Rhem hurled five innings and due to two errors by Frankie Frisch was charged with having seven runs scored against him. In the first inning with one out and men on first and second, a grounder was hit to Frisch who with an easy double play in front of him, fumbled and the bases were full. Before Rhem could retire the side three hits gave Evansville five runs.

And in the fifth with one on and none out, Frank kicked a roller. A sacrifice bunt, a sacrifice fly and a single followed giving Evansville two more runs.

Rain here today prevented the game with the Danville team and the Cards prepared early to journey home to St. Louis.

Frank Johnson, Home After 900 Miles Of Pyle's Race, Tells of His Troubles

Shin Splint and Blisters Forced Granite City Man to Quit—Tents at Night Were Like Hospital Wards.

By J. Roy Stockton

FRANK JOHNSON.

FRANK J. JOHNSON, 39-year-old steel worker, is back home at 2209 Bandy avenue, Granite City, after having pounded the highways of California, Arizona and New Mexico for 900 miles in C. C. Pyle's coast-to-coast marathon and although he tells a story of great hardship and long suffering, he looks 10 years younger than the Frank Johnson who visited the Post-Dispatch office a few weeks before the adventure.

"You may think he looks younger," Mrs. Johnson remonstrated when a Post-Dispatch reporter made that remark. "But you should have seen him when he arrived here Monday. His left ankle was swollen to twice its natural size. His lips were cracked so badly that they bled when he tried to chew his food. His nose was blistered and peeling from sunburn and he hobbled like a cripple. That's just the sunburn that makes him look healthy. And he's hollow from head to heel. I know because I've been cooking for him and feeding him and I can't fill him up. You never saw a man eat so much in your life. He could eat six meals a day and then do a lot of eating between meals and be ravenous every time he sat down at the table."

Lost Only Eight Pounds.

But Johnson, only eight pounds lighter, does look younger and in better physical condition after his 900 miles and he has recuperated to such an extent that he now believes that he would have had a chance to win the grand prize of $25,000 or one of the cash awards if he had started with a trainer. But without a trainer to attend to his blisters and tortured muscles after each daily grind, Johnson soon was so stiffened and sore that long before he dropped out he realized that he was waging a hopeless fight against the blistering pavements and the sandy and rocky paths that the runners followed over hills and through the desert.

All Right—Except for Feet and Legs.

"I WAS all right when I quit, except for my feet and legs," said Johnson, as he leaned back in the comfortable cushions of an overstuffed divan. "But my props and my dogs were in terrible condition. I thought I knew all about the troubles that could beset a long-distance runner. I knew I'd have blisters, but I knew how to treat them, and the soles of my feet were beginning to get into condition for the rest of the run, when suddenly I developed what they call a 'shin splint.'

"I had heard the boys talking about 'shin splints' and I figured I knew what they were. I had had trouble with the muscles and leaders and had had pains in my shins. But when I developed a real shin splint I found that I never had had the slightest idea about what one really was.

"They say the shin splint is a pulling of the leaders in the front of the leg and that it is caused by the drawing of muscles and leaders during down hill runs. Well I got one and it was a dandy. You can't run with one. You can try and that's what I did. For 10 days I walked and shuffled, in the hope that the shin splint would depart. They told me they lasted three or four days or more, but mine was still going strong when I quit after nursing it for 10 days.

Pyle the Persuader.

"I was ready to quit several times. One afternoon, when 32 miles from the next control station I decided that I was through and climbed into an official bus and reported to Pyle that I was checking out. He asked me my number and then informed me that he had received a wire that day from Granite City that a trainer was coming out to meet me and that I had better reconsider and remain in the race.

"He sent me to the doctor who looked me over and treated my blisters and told me I'd be fit to resume the next morning. When morning came I did feel some better. I usually wear a No. 8 shoe. I had a pair of ten and a halfs and I put on several pairs of socks, with cotton packed between the socks and then put on the big shoes. The bus took me back the 32 miles and dropped me off and I started again. I couldn't run. But I shuffled. A sort of swinging gait carried me along without much pain. I was ready to quit, but I remembered again that the people of Granite City were backing me and that a trainer was on the way to meet me and I shuffled on. The rules provided that I had to be in by midnight or be picked up, with the necessity of being carried back the next morning and I figured my shuffling pace to carry me the 32 miles and the day's 25 miles. I figured pretty close and I shuffled into the next control station about five minutes before midnight.

Time Counted on Until Midnight.

"THAT'S how it happened that I was so far behind the leaders in elapsed time. If you have a day's run of 25 miles and quit at 3 in the afternoon with five miles to go, your time goes on to midnight and to that is added the time it takes you the next day to cover the five miles. When I quit I figured that about 25 hours of my time had been charged while I was riding or getting treatment in the hospital.

"Conditions as outlined to us before we started sounded fine, but when the race began, things changed. For instance we were told that all our bedding, blankets, pad and cot would be numbered and that numbers had to be painted on the outside of our suitcases. The suitcases were loaded on a truck each morning before we started to run and were to be deposited at the next control station, each grip placed on the cot of the runner to whom it belonged. Then we were supposed to go to the bedding station and get our individual equipment. But when we started to run the system went flooie. We'd be given any old blankets, perhaps of some one not as clean. Frequently the baggage truck was delayed. One day I waited two hours for my equipment because of a delay of this kind and you can imagine how my feet felt after running all day and then standing around for two hours, hoping for a change of shoes and socks.

The Troubles I've Had.

"Then if the baggage truck did happen to arrive early, the grips, instead of being placed on the bunks, would be thrown out in a great heap and it was up to each individual to go scrambling into the heap for his baggage.

"Thus a man without a trainer or assistant was helpless. If you had an assistant you could rest after your run, while your trainer obtained your baggage and then he could rub you down and nurse your wounds.

Food O K Except for Taste and Amount.

"AT the start Pyle carried a complete commissary department with full cooking equipment. The man in charge had every possible facility to serve good meals, but he never varied from the menu and he started with tough meat and continued to serve the meat, same style, until the men kicked so much that Pyle fired him and the equipment. Then a man who really knew how to cook a good stew and who knew how to mix up the menu, took over the work, but he had no equipment. During the early days we had plenty to eat, but gradually the portions were reduced until when I quit the men were not getting enough to eat and were squawking about it.

"Of course some of us were lucky enough to have a little money with us and when we struck towns or lunch stands we could buy our own food to add to what was doled out to us. But there were some runners who didn't have a cent and I saw one man grab four slices of dry bread off the evening table and stick it in his pocket. I asked him why and he said the meal wagon didn't ever reach him during the last few days for lunch and that he was starving.

BROWN BATTING ORDER FOR FIRST GAME UNDECIDED

Howley Picks Sam Gray to Pitch Against Cardinals Saturday—Game at Joplin Cancelled.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JOPLIN, Mo., April 5.—Rain this morning caused cancellation of this afternoon's scheduled game between the Browns and the local club. The men of Howley came here from Tulsa, where yesterday's game was rained out, and now the barnstorming trip is ended.

Sam Gray, the curve-ball pitcher, who was obtained in the winter trade which sent Outfielder Bing Miller back to the Athletics, has been nominated by Manager Howley to hurl in the opening battle of the spring series with the Cardinals at Sportsman's Park, Saturday. Gray also is down to face the Detroit Tigers in the first official American League game at Detroit next Wednesday. As a member of the Mackmen, Gray was better than a .500 pitcher, and is expected to be one of the aces of the Brownie hill staff during the coming campaign.

While Howley has definitely decided on his pitcher for the first game with the Cardinals, he has not yet selected the remainder of his batting order. The Brownie boss has several possibilities and right now is trying to decide on the best one.

Blue May Lead Off.

One of these swat arrays has Lu Blue, first baseman, in the lead-off position. Blue topped the batting order for the Detroit Tigers for several campaigns when playing regularly and proved a good man. Another has Frank O'Rourke, the hustling third-sacker, at the head of the list. Earl McNeely is another candidate. The chances are, however, that Howley will not decide until the team returns home as to how his men will line up for the engagement with the St. Louis Nationals.

One thing is assured, however. That is that Manush, Schulte and Schang will be expected to supply the real punch for the club this season, no matter who is in the lead-off position. The Browns' outfield will be composed of Manush in left, Schulte in center and McNeely in right. Quite a collection of fly chasers, if all are able to escape injuries and play the full 154 games. Otherwise it will be just too bad, unless the club succeeds in landing another experienced fly chaser.

Cripples Ready to Play.

It is expected that the three cripples on the club will be ready to play in the first game with the Cardinals. Ralph Kress, young shortstop, injured his ankle sliding into second base in the first Tulsa game. However, the hurt is described as slight and it is figured he will be ready for the engagements with the men of Bill McKechnie. Schulte and Blue, also under the weather the past few days, are about ready to get back into harness.

Business Manager Bill Friel, who is traveling with the squad, announced that the Browns would work out at Sportsman's Park Friday morning with the Cardinals taking over the field in the afternoon.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Going Over Big.

THE revival of boxing under State commission auspices is going over big. That the public wants this sport is evident from the attendances at the shows arranged by Matchmaker Jack Tippett.

Thus far the fighters have agreeably disappointed the cynical followers of the ring here by battling in earnest. This is in direct violation of the code of other years when visiting boxers slipped into town, slipped one over on the public and slipped out with the bacon, before they could be halted.

Under commission government they can't slip out, even if they slip one over. If the public and the commission are dissatisfied, the purse is held up.

The present earnestness of the ringsters may be explained on the ground that they can be hit in a sensitive spot—the pocketbook—if they fail to deliver.

Wanted: Some Local Talent.

IN order for the climax of ring enthusiasm to be attained here, St. Louis must develop some real fighters. Today we have only one or two boxers of merit and none of real fame.

Peewee Kaiser is a good little lad, but with no chance of greatness. Few of the upcoming youngsters amount to much. Our amateurs are our best "hopes," some of them being very well advanced.

St. Louis has never had a professional champion. In fact, not since the days of bare knuckles and skin-tight gloves has this city taken its place as a first rate boxing center.

In the last 30 years or more only a few fighters of local origin have gained renown outside of the home district.

Johnny Richie, late in the 90s, was a fairly good boy, but Terry McGovern knocked him loose from all ambition in a round or two.

Harry Trendall was about the next best of our ring products. Harry, after being jolted into insensibility by Freddie Welsh early in his career, developed into a fairly good fighter, giving Willie Ritchie (then a champion), Joe Mandot and other good boys a real thrill when he met them. Unfortunately Harry was too easy going to keep at it and he dropped out of the limelight later without having quite made good on the top rung.

Georgie Kirkwood was another good boy. He rose to a match with the champion, Johnny Kilbane, only to be bumped off in six rounds.

Ollie Kirk, Harry Kabakoff, Charley Regan, Kid Bandy, Patsy Flannigan, George Butch and others gained some fame, from time to time; but were unable to carry on.

If a real champion should develop in this district today, boxing in St. Louis would reach record heights. That's because the town is ready for it and the commission has safeguarded the sport to a considerable extent.

Going Up.

TIME was when the average boxing receipts for a professional show in St. Louis could be reckoned in hundreds, rather than thousands, of dollars.

Since the Coliseum was first invaded for ring entertainments there has been no single occasion when the receipts have reached $20,000 for a boxing contest, although some famous fighters have shown there, including the famous Jimmy Wilde, the "Mighty Atom," in his prime.

Jimmy drew about $12,000, at $10 top prices. The largest receipts for any ring show held here was a $17,000 house, the year that Gene Strauss went into the promoting game and made about $400 profit and gate receipts of $81,000.

Today, just ordinary cards like the Wiggins-Charles affair draw as much as the famous Jimmy Wilde did. Ringsiders pay as much to see an ordinary face-massaging contest as a theatergoer pays to see the top rank shows of the "Follies" or other high-priced entertainment.

Quite a change to those who go back far enough to recall the time when even to talk about going to a boxing match was an affront to most of our respected citizens.

Harris Is Likely To Miss Opener

Senator Manager Still Bothered by Foot Injured at Training Camp.

By the Associated Press.

GREENVIELLE, S. C., April 5.—It now looks as if the Washington Senators will open the season next Tuesday against the Boston Red Sox without Bucky Harris, their manager, in the lineup.

Harris admitted here yesterday that his injured foot is bothering him to such an extent that he is not certain he will find it well enough to start the regular grind April 10 in Washington. The injury, sustained several weeks ago in Florida while sliding into a bag, has healed enough to permit Bucky to walk comfortably, but he has discovered he can neither get on his shoes or run without suffering intense pain.

Reeves and Hayes have been tried out at second, but Harris is not yet sure who will get the call if he is unable to play. Both are rookies, although Reeves played several games near the close of last season.

CAPTAIN TILDEN TO FACE KINSEY IN OTHER MATCH

Series Starts Tomorrow at Mexico City—"Big Bill" Is Winner Over Coen and Jones.

By the Associated Press.

MEXICO CITY, April 5.—Playing in splendid form, Bill Tilden defeated both Junior Coen and Arnold W. Jones yesterday in practice matches designed to bring the American team into top condition for the Davis Cup matches between the United States and Mexico here beginning tomorrow.

After disposing of Coen, 6—1, 6—3, 7—5, Tilden defeated Jones, 6—3, 6—2. Paired with Jones, the American team captain then defeated John Hennessey and Wilmer Allison, 6—0, 6—4, 6—3.

The Americans plan to continue hard work today with a light practice session tomorrow morning.

Hennessey to Play Tapia.

It was agreed that the Davis Cup play will get under way tomorrow, at 2 o'clock, with a singles match between John Hennessey and Ricardo Tapia. Later in the afternoon Tilden will meet Robert Kinsey.

Unless present plans are altered in the meantime, Tilden and Arnold Jones will play Kinsey and Alfonso Unda, Saturday, in the doubles.

If the Americans win the singles matches tomorrow and doubles contest Saturday, Mexico will be eliminated from Davis Cup play and Sunday's matches will be exhibitions. Kinsey said that he is hopeful that the Mexican team may win one of the events, thus carrying the play into Sunday.

Capt. Tilden went from the tennis court to the speaker's platform, delivering an address to several hundred students, representing 20 nationalities, at the American school. Invited to visit the school by the directors, he was given a great ovation as he mounted the rostrum.

Tilden Praises Coen.

Athletic prowess does not mean slighting studies, "Big Bill" told his hearers. He urged the students to work equally hard at their books and sports, and strive for supremacy in one as much as in the other.

"Coen is a shining example of what I am advising," the speaker said. "He is only 16 years of age, but he is the most remarkable tennis player of his age the world has seen and he is the leading student in his class at a Kansas City high school. He is also captain of the basketball team.

"He has accomplished his supremacy in scholarship and athletics by digging in and doing the hard work necessary to get there. He had trained himself to concentrate. He is a fine example to follow."

Corporal followed the leaders closely while in close quarters next the inner rail, was taken to the outside rounding the turn, wore Manchu down and was drawing clear at the end. Manchu, a keen factor from the beginning, shook off I Hope So, to take a brief lead, but was unable to cope with the winner's rush. False Modesty began slowly and closed a big gap to finish going fast. Charley J. S. was never a factor. Geyser quit.

SPORT SALAD

In the Bag.

The five straight victories of the Cubs over the Pirates has convinced Owner Wrigley that his club is at last certain of a pennant.—News item.

BEYOND the shadow of a doubt
The Cubs will cop the flag;
They'll simply play the schedule out—
The race is in the bag!

So we congratulate the Cubs
Who dumped the apple carts,
By walloping the other clubs
Before the season starts.

The coming "struggle" for the flag
Won't interest the fan,
Because the race is in the bag—
The bacon's in the pan.

The Pirates, Cards and other clubs
Have not the slightest chance
Because those darned Chicago Cubs
Have copped it in advance!

So There!

Just for that we hope the Yanks tear the hide off the Cubs in the world series.

However, the Cards, Pirates and Giants will put up a spirited battle for second money which isn't so bad in these days of bigger and juicier melons.

There is the outside chance, though, that the Cubs were a bit premature in winning the N. L. pennant. Other clubs have tried dealing in futures but couldn't produce when called on for margins.

See where the Large Lubricators alias Browns staked the Little Oilers of Tulsa to 23 to 8 trimming the other day. All Tulsa could say was that they were glad that a team from Tulsa won it.

Right now it looks as though Tulsa would have something to say about that American League race. Already the Tulsans are beginning to point with pride and say "I knew 'em when."

The man on the sandbox says the Yankees look like lemons in the grapefruit league.

However, Babe got his first home run of the season the other day and it looks as though the Yanks may make trouble for Connie's Ancient and Honorable Athletics yet.

But you can't get a good line on the Yanks until they have played a few games with the Browns. If the time limit on the old meal ticket has expired the Yankees are going to have to bear down a little harder on the first division clubs.

Head Work.

Chuck Wiggins who uses his head so much in boxing that he is getting bald uses his hands for defensive purposes. Why wear out the tools of your trade?"

The man on the sandbox says that when you don't need any coke you can buy it a dollar a ton cheaper. Another one of those life's little ironies.

You can go down to South Africa any time and write your own ticket on a pair of ear muffs.

See where the Cards' cripples have all traded in their old crutches for 1928 model Louisville Sluggers. They're getting the mileage out of them, too.

MRS. HILL BEATS MISS VAN WIE FOR GOLF TITLE

Kansas City Woman Scores 6 and 5 Victory in Final of North and South Tournament.

By the Associated Press.

PINEHURST, N. C., April 5.—Mrs. O. S. Hill of Kansas City today won the United North and South women's golf championship. She defeated Miss Virginia Van Wie of Chicago, 6 up and 5 to play.

Carelessness and superfine golf matches to produce two surprises and definitely determine that there would be a new champion this year.

On the eighteenth green, Miss Glenna Collett of Providence, R. I., the winner of last year's tournament, and a former national titleholder, went down to defeat before the flashing putter of Mrs. Hill, a former trans-Mississippi champion.

Then, after a nip and tuck battle, Miss Maureen Orcutt, metropolitan champion, grew careless at the nineteenth hole, and with a 14-inch putt to give her a half and carry the match to the twentieth, flubbed the shot and lost to Miss Van Wie.

TWO IOWA ATHLETES UNOFFICIALLY EXCEL 300-YARD DASH MARK

By the Associated Press.

IOWA CITY, April 5.

TWO University of Iowa dash men unofficially excelled the world's record time for the 300-yard dash on the Iowa outdoor track here Tuesday, Coach George T. Bresnahan declared yesterday.

Vaughn W. Stevenson of Ida Grove, Hawkeye quarter-miler, finished first in 29.8 seconds, and was followed by George H. Baird of Mason City in 29.9 seconds, which is faster than both the world's and American records, Bresnahan said.

Two experienced timers caught the time.

HEYDLER ISSUES LIST OF RULE INTERPRETATIONS

POINTS WHICH CAUSE TROUBLE ARE CLARIFIED

Man Who Overslides Second on Steal When Next Batter Walks Will Be Declared Out.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 5.—John A. Heydler, president of the National League, believes in the motto hanging in his office, "Take nothing for granted in baseball." Yesterday he sent his annual instructions to his staff of 14 umpires covering many points on which disputes hinged last year. He also made concise interpretations on doubtful plays.

Umpires were told that when a batted ball passes outside the grounds by going over the fence or stand, it shall be judged fair or foul, according to where it disappears from the umpire's view. In case a ball is hit into a stand or over an inside fence 250 feet or more from the plate, the umpire shall call it fair or foul, according to where it passes from the actual playing field. Previously the final ruling was on the point the ball ultimately landed, often difficult to determine.

When ropes are stretched to restrain an overflow crowd, these barriers constitute the confines of the playing field and a player may not jump over or crawl under these ropes to catch a ball. He may reach over the ropes and make a legal catch and even fall after capturing the ball, but he may not venture beyond the barrier.

Can Reach Over Railing.

A catcher or fielder may not jump into a stand or box to catch a foul ball, but may reach over the railing and gather the ball in if he can. If either falls into the stand, box or dugout after making a catch, the runner or runners on the bases may advance only one base. Venturing into the seats is done at the player's risk and no interference should be called. The spectators, however, may not do any reaching on their own account beyond the box.

President Heydler's instructions contain one stipulation sure to arouse interest and perhaps controversy among players and fans. He presents a situation in which there is a runner on first base and three balls called on the batsman. The runner starts to steal second base on the next pitch, which is called a ball. The catcher throws to second and the runner overslides the base, if he is tagged before returning to the base he is out.

It is ruled that in the case of a runner attempting to score who fails to touch the plate it is not necessary for the careless runner to be pursued to the bench for the purpose of touching him. On appeal he will be declared out.

On agreements to stop play at a specified time for the purpose of catching a train, the umpire must not terminate the game except on a completed inning. No new inning must be started unless there is a period of 12 minutes left in which to play it. Once started an inning must be finished, even if the players miss the train.

Abuse of players by spectators will not be tolerated. For a first offense the umpire will warn the spectator, and if the abuse continues the customer will be removed from the grounds.

WEISSMULLER IS WINNER IN 100 YARD TITLE RACE

"Human Fish" One Second Over Record in Capturing Event—I. A. C. Team Sets Third Relay Mark.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Grinning Johnny Weissmuller still is America's speediest swimmer.

Competing last night against the fastest field he has ever faced in the National Amateur Athletic Union's indoor championships, he scored a close victory over Walter Laufer of the Lake Shore Athletic Club, Chicago, to retain his title in the 100-yard free style event. His time was 50 4-5 seconds, just one second slower than his world's mark which many think will stand for years.

Weissmuller also led the Illinois Athletic Club team to its third national title and third world's relay record in two nights—the 300-yard medley relay. The time was 3:50 3-5 seconds—three-fifths seconds faster than the previous international record which was also held by the I. A. C. Tuesday, the I. A. C. team shattered world marks in the 400 and 500 yards relays.

Weissmuller's victory in the 100-yard free style placed him in the lead for individual honors in the present championships with two firsts, having won the 220-yard free style championship Monday night. The I. A. C. team also was far in front in the race for club honors, which are being sought by eight athletic clubs from all sections of the nation.

It was his last few seconds' stamina that enabled "The Human Fish" to pull ahead of Laufer, the 20-year-old star who has been waiting two years for a crack at Weissmuller's pet title. The two were neck and neck in the first three laps of the 60-foot pool. At the middle of the fourth lap, Weissmuller gained a few inches. Then on the fifth and final lap, he fanned the waters with his mighty arms and legs, beating Laufer by a yard to the tape.

Tonight's events include the fancy high board diving, 500-yard free style and 100-yard backstroke championships competition.

Asking the Impossible.

IT is impossible, it seems, to evolve a theory of the golf swing which will please everyone. One person tells us we must do so and so, and another says we must do something entirely different. In the end there can exist in our minds nothing but confusion as to what course we must pursue.

It is quite human, of course, to consider that the method which has been found through years of experience to be best for us, must be best for those whom we seek to instruct. But how impossible it is to prescribe each and every movement throughout the stroke. If one could start with the waggle and go through the entire swing precisely in the manner of Walter Hagen or of Johnny Farrell, he would, of course, hit the ball like Walter Hagen or Johnny Farrell. But if he should swing his arms like Farrell and shift his weight like Hagen, he probably would not play at all.

The reason that golf is such a difficult game to teach, is that it is a co-ordination of many moving forces, and when an instructor begins to fashion the style of his pupil upon his own method, in order to attain success, he must make over his pupil's swing from beginning to end.

Different Method Used.

NO TWO really expert golfers look the same when hitting a golf ball, although there may be little difference in their skill or the result obtained. The golf swing is entirely a matter of compensation—making up in one part for what is done in another part. That is the reason that we observe so many different ways of doing the same thing. The primary objective, of course, is to bring the club onto the ball while the face is straight to the hole. If one player hoods his club in the backswing, he must open it again coming down; and similarly, if he opens it going back, he must shut it again before he reaches the ball.

Take Jess Sweetser as an example of the first. I make bold to say that no more accurate iron player ever lived. Jess appeared to take his club back mainly with his shoulders, with little turning of the wrists. It is this economy of wrist action which keeps the blade from turning away from the ball, and causes it to remain "shut." It is a magnificent swing for a man with sufficient height and power to handle it—and Jess has both.

Dr. Paul Hunter, as I remember him when I last saw him in 1921, employed a style which was, in principle at least, diametrically opposed to Sweetser's. Hunter addressed the ball with his iron blade "lying off" and brought it back with a free turn of the wrists and shoulders. In order to get back to hit the ball, not only did the wrist action have to be quick, but his right shoulder had to come through very high, giving the appearance of a sort of rolling motion.

Both Methods Sound.

BOTH methods, while radically different, are absolutely sound in principle. They illustrate most aptly the folly of blindly describing any one movement as a necessary part of the golf stroke. If one attempts to say that any one thing must be done, then he must tell us how to do everything that goes before and everything that comes afterward, for all the parts must be put together to make the whole. It is unreasonable to expect to start at different points and reach the same place by the same route.

out during the race. Pyle carried shoemakers with the troupe but the runners paid for all repairs and new shoes, and the shoe makers charged as much as they thought the individual could pay. My worst day was through the desert when on a 35-mile run I wore out a new pair of soles. The road there was loose sand and bits of chipped granite, hard on the shoes and punishing to the feet.

"Twice we slept under a roof, once at a school house, in which our bunks were placed and once in an opera house. Other nights our cots were placed in tents. The equipment wagon would start out ahead of us in the morning and sometimes the tents would be ready when we arrived and some times not. Usually there were a few cots ready for the early arrivals, but frequently we had to lay around on the ground until the tents and cots were ready.

Like a Hospital Ward.

"After we had been running for a while the nights were terrible. Each tent sounded like a hospital ward after a big train wreck. Men groaned and moaned and many of them wept over their bruises and aches. Every time a man turned over during the night it hurt so bad that his groans awoke everybody near who happened to be asleep.

"We always hoped that the night would find us in a town, as we all wanted to get a bath. The hotel keepers usually stuck us pretty hard for such service and a dollar was the usual charge, though if you put up a hard-luck story you might get by for half a buck.

"Everybody got sore when Pyle ducked Albuquerque. Two or three days before we were due there we heard Pyle was having trouble with the town over their contribution and he left us saying he was going there to make arrangements. When he returned he said we were not going there. We detoured around the town and camped 15 miles out on the other side because he and the town people couldn't agree on how much was to be given to Pyle.

Carnival Part of Pyle Circus.

"MOST of the men were glad to get into their bunks and stay there after a day's run, but occasionally we had a little amusement in the evening. We struck several Indian villages and the Indians would sing and do their war dances for us after we took up a collection for them. Then there was a traveling carnival that was hooked up with Pyle's outfit. It didn't amount to much. Just a couple of side shows and a few gambling devices, but I understand Pyle was getting a cut out of that.

"The man who is going to win this race is one of the first 50 and probably not one of the first 10. My opinion, after 900 miles of the race, is that the big prize will go to a contestant who started with a trainer or two, enough money to buy food, and who will run part of the way and walk the rest. The man who tries to run all the way will break down. That is what the big pack is waiting for and I believe that the field will be very small before the last few days of the race. The man who walks all the way will stand the best chance to finish, but he will not make good enough time. The combination walker and runner will cop the big money."

Even Break Financially.

Johnson plans to return to work next week. He says he will break about even on the adventure, financially. Granite City friends raised about $800 and that will cover all his expenses and pay him for the time he has lost by absenting himself from his job at the Commonwealth Steel mills. The money also will pay the expenses of Walter Francis, Granite City basketball and football player, who traveled from Granite City and met Johnson in the Arizona desert, to act as his trainer.

"I wish you'd correct the impression that Pyle has given the public about my telegram to Frank," Mrs. Johnson told the reporter. "All Frank's friends have been joshing him, because Pyle made it appear that I ordered him to quit and that he had to accept orders. He's never learned to take orders from me yet. Of course I was worried about him, especially when he wrote that he wasn't getting enough to eat. But I merely asked him if he hadn't had enough. If he had been a man to take orders from his wife he never would have entered the race. I certainly tried to talk him out of it."

W. BROWN AND JOSTIES RETAIN DOUBLES TITLE

Pair Beat Kammann and Barnes in Final Round of Indoor Tennis Tourney, 6—4, 7—5, 6—0.

By Davison Obear.

Wray Brown and Fred Josties retained their title as St. Louis district indoor tennis doubles champions by defeating Karl Kammann and Charles Barnes in the final round of play at the Washington University Field House last night. The match was decided in straight sets, Brown and Josties winning 6—4, 7—5, 6—0.

In an exhibition singles contest held prior to the doubles final Teddy Eggmann, former Cornell University captain, and Robert Norton, O'Fallon Park star, divided two sets, Norton outdriving Eggmann to win the first set, 6—3, while Eggmann became steadier and outplaced Norton to take the second, 6—3.

Brown's Service Is Big Factor.

The first two sets of the doubles were close bu Brown and Josties captured the third in quick fashion. In the opening set Brown and Barnes each won service for a 1—all score. The champions took the lead on errors by Kammann and Barnes. A combined net attack and fast drives by Brown enabled Brown and Josties to lead at 5 to 1. Kammann and Barnes each won service and outplaced their opponents to win three straight games. With a 5 to 4 lead the champions won on Brown's service, taking the set, 6—4.

Play was closer in the second set. After the score reached 1—all each player won his service until the count was 5—all. The champions broke through Kammann's service for a 6 to 5 lead. Josties took his service to win the set 7—5. There was more net play in this set, and Brown and Josties appeared slightly steadier than their opponents.

Leaders Retain Advantage.

Kammann and Barnes weakened in the third set. Brown's powerful service and stroke variety aided considerably while Josties, who had been somewhat erratic in the two previous sets began to improve his game. Kammann and Barnes fought hard especially in the last several games but could not obtain the advantage.

According to Dr. Frank Dieknette, tournament chairman, the entire program of matches showed an improvement over last season. The attendance was greater than last year. It is hoped that next year a Missouri Valley indoor tournament may be held in conjunction with the district event.

County Teams to Start Campaign

Three Contests Tomorrow Will Officially Start Baseball Title Struggle.

The St. Louis County High School Baseball League will open tomorrow afternoon with three games scheduled. A fourth contest between Maplewood and University City has been postponed at the request of the latter team.

Maplewood is the defending champion this season, Coach Wahlbrink's nine having won eight straight games last season. This year is the first that the teams are playing a regular round robin schedule. Previously, each team had arranged its own schedule.

Tomorrow's games:
Jennings vs. Normandy.
Ferguson vs. Kirkwood.
Wellston vs. Ritenour.
Hancock draws a bye.

Rangers Oppose Montreal Team For World's Title

Hocksy Squads Appear Evenly Matched at Start of 3-Out-of-5 Game Series.

By the Associated Press.

MONTREAL, April 5.—The Stanley Cup play—blue ribbon event of professional hockey—opens here tonight with the New York Rangers, champions of the American division, and the Montreal Maroons, Canadian group titleholders, clashing in the first of a best three-out-of-five game series.

The rivals appear evenly matched and experts are predicting that the series will go the full five-game length. Each gained the final bracket by eliminating the first place teams in their respective groups. The Maroons put out the Canadiens, also of Montreal, by a margin of one goal. The Rangers eliminated the Boston Bruins by a three-goal advantage.

Why Clown Cigarettes are Made by Organized Labor
Number Sixteen of a series of statements

Using Power Wisely

The workers make up the vast majority of the people. Combined, organized, they are an irresistible, overwhelming power. Yet Organized Labor, powerful as it is, relies largely on education of the people to gain the things for which it stands. We respect Organized Labor for this stand. We believe in this principle. Just another reason why Clown Cigarettes are made by Organized Labor.

"I had gas on the stomach so bad that I couldn't lie on my left side. I have taken a half bottle of Adlerika and am much better already."—Lillie Lamar.

The simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, saline, etc., (known as Adlerika), has a most surprising DOUBLE action. First, it acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel (most medicines act on lower bowel only) and removes foul matter that often poisoned the system for months. Second, Adlerika clears all GAS and sourness from stomach and bowels, bringing INSTANT relief from stomach trouble. And in addition, Adlerika removes metabolic poisons which cause neuritis, rheumatism, etc.

Dr. H. L. Shoub, New York, writes: "Adlerika, in addition to its intestinal cleansing, checks the growth of intestinal bacteria and bacilli."

Dr. J. Weaver: "In my 50 years' practice, I have found nothing to excel Adlerika."

J. E. Puckett: "After using Adlerika, I feel better than for 20 years. Awful impurities were eliminated."

It will astonish you the great amounts of poisonous matter Adlerika brings out—matter you would never believe was in your system. In chronic constipation, gas bloating, sour stomach and sick headache, just ONE spoonful Adlerika brings wonderful relief. At leading druggists. Sold in St. Louis by Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores and other druggists.

THREE SCORE STOCKS MAKE NEW PEAKS

Broad Upward Movement of Prices — Trading Shows Marked Expansion in Volume.

LOANS TO BROKERS AND DEALERS ARE RECORD AT $3,979,308,000

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.

LOANS to brokers and dealers held by New York Federal Reserve member banks today reached the highest peak in history at $3,979,308,000.

The loans today were $144,308,000, more than the previous high record reached earlier in the year, the Federal Reserve Board announced today, and were $153,929,000 over the previous week.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 5.—A broad upward movement of prices on the New York Stock Exchange today lifted more than three-score issues to record high levels. Despite the large volume of profit taking inspired by the approach of the three-day holiday, the general market ploughed steadily forward with final quotations in mayn cases at or near the high levels of the day. Trading showed a marked expansion in volume, the day's sales totaling 3,897,500 shares, the twentieth consecutive full session that the 3,000,000 mark has been crossed.

There was little in the day's news to influence the price movement. Eastern railroad executives met to discuss consolidation plans and adjourned without making an announcement, but the persistent accumulation of the carrier stocks indicated that important developments were brewing. Call money went from 5 to 5½ per cent, but the increase was regarded as incidental to the heavy Easter demand for funds, and had no influence on the price movement. The weekly Federal Reserve statement on brokers' loans showed an increase of $153,929,000, bringing the total to a new high record at $3,979,308,000.

General Motors regained its position as a market leader on buying influenced by reports that a new pool had been formed in the stock, which closed 7¾ points higher at 193¾ after selling slightly above that figure. Studebaker, Hudson and Nash each moved up about 2 points and Indian Motorcycle jumped 4 to a new top at 54.

Such recent leaders as Radio and the Aeroplane issues were relegated to comparative obscurity in the scramble for stocks in other sections of the market.

Delaware & Hudson assumed the leadership of the railroad group by soaring nearly 12 points. Pittsburg & West Virginia extended its early gain to nearly 8 points, and Hudson & Manhattan, Reading, Texas & Pacific, Wabash and Lehigh Valley climbed 3 to 5 points.

U. S. Cast Iron Pipe was run up 10 points, Dupont and Purity Baking B each advanced 8 points, Interboro Rapid Transit, 7, and General Motors, Continental Can, Abraham & Straus, Brooklyn-Manhattan Transit, and Schulte Retail Stores sold 5 or more points higher.

Coppers in Demand.

There were a few soft spots. Wright Aeronautical after climbing 5½ points to 137½ dropped to 128⅛ and Curtiss Aeroplane sold down 3½ points.

Coppers were in brisk demand in the early afternoon. Greene Cananea jumped 5 points and Anaconda was turned over in large volume, touching a new high at 65⅞.

More Varied Buying Late.

More varied buying came into the market in the late afternoon when huge amounts of popular shares were turned over, including General Motors, which sold as high as 194½. Pittsburg & West Virginia reached 154, making the week's gain 30 points. Gains of five to six were recorded by Wheeling & Lake Erie preferred. Adams Express, American Zinc preferred and Greene Cananea Copper.

BOND TONE FIRM ON NEW YORK MARKET

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 5.—New York Traction bonds were in the lead of a general advance on the bond market today. Trading was moderately active. A slight tightening of time money rates apparently had no effect on buying of high grade issues, which probably reflected further reinvestment of quarter-end disbursements.

The $55,000,000 Denmark 4½s, offered this morning, was reported promptly oversubscribed, which had a stimulating effect on some of the securities of that country. Copenhagen City 5s, however, dropped back about a point on realizing. Other foreign obligations were irregular, with some profit-taking in municipal issues which have been advancing in recent sessions.

Interborough Rapid Transit issues advanced 1 to more than 2 points in new high territory, still responding to the movement of the city to take over the lines. Manhattan Railway and New York Railway issues also atained ne whigh levels.

Delaware & Hudson convertible bonds responde dto the strength of the stock, and there was good demand for Chicago & Alton 3½s, which sold at their best prices of the year. Hudson & Manhattan 5s and International Great Northern adjustment 6s also received good support.

Copper bonds again led the industrials, particularly Anaconda 7s, which advanced 2¼ to 123⅜, the highest on record. Andes 7s, however, were under pressure.

Simms Petroleum 6s lost a point and some other oil bonds were slightly lower on realizing after the recent steady advance. United States Government securities failed to follow a definite trend.

COTTON CLOSES HIGHER ON NEW YORK MARKET

NEW YORK, April 5.—Prospects for showers in the eastern belt stimulated buying or covering in the cotton market today, early declines of 4 or 5 points being followed by rallies. Early selling developed on reports of beneficial rains in the southwest, but it seemed doubtful whether they had occurred where most needed. There were comparatively few contracts for sale after early offerings had been absorbed. The mid-afternoon market was quiet but steady, at net advances of 5 to 10 points.

Features closed steady, 3 to 7 points higher May 19.35-38c; July 19.26-27c; October 18.99-19.00c; December 18.84-85c; January 18.78c; Spot steady; middling 19.85c.

Southern Pacific Election.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Henry W. de Forest, chairman of the executive committee of the Southern Pacific Co., and William Sproule, president of the company, were re-elected at the reorganization meeting today. Other officers and members of the executive committee also were re-elected.

Further Decline at New York.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Crude rubber prices dropped to slightly above 19 cents a pound at the opening of the New York Rubber Exchange today on continued selling inspired by announcement of the British plan to lift export restrictions.

May contracts sold at 19.40 cents a pound as compared with yesterday's closing price of 21 cents. July declined to 20.10 from yesterday's final quotation of 21.20. Similar declines were reported on the London market.

Buying was resumed in the afternoon, apparently as a preholiday evening up measure, and prices improved. May contracts moved back to just above 20½c a pound, while July, September and December closed at slightly above 21c.

The end of liquidation appeared to be in sight as the market closed, with prices slightly improved under covering operations. May contracts had moved back to just under 20¼ cents a pound, while September, December and January were 21 cents flat. July and October prices were slightly above 20½ cents.

New York Sugar.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The raw sugar market was easier early today, prices declining 1-16 of a cent to the basis of 4.52, under increased offerings, brought about by the decline in futures. Sales included 14,000 bags of Philippines and 22,500 bags of Porto Ricos for April shipment at 4.52.

Raw sugar futures opened weak at declines of 2 to 5 points under more active liquidation promoted by more liberal offerings in the spot market and easier London cables. Prices at one time showed losses of 4 to 6 points on active positions, uncovering considerable stop-loss orders. After their execution, a steadier tone developed with rallies of 2 to 3 points on covering and trade buying. The market at midday was 2 to 4 points net lower. The earlier selling was active and the sentimental influence of the break in rubber attributed to the removal of restrictions on shipments of that commodity by the British government may have been a factor.

No changes were reported in refined sugar prices ranging from 5.95 to 6.00c for fine granulated. The recent buying movement by the trade evidently had supplied their requirements for some time to come and little new business was reported.

Sugar futures closed steady. Approximate sales 49,900 tons. May 2.73; July 2.84. Sept. 2.93. Dec. 3. March 2.81.

Steel Market.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Steel unchanged.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE. April 5.—Wheat closed lower today, influenced by report of beneficial rains in parts of Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska. It was said, however, that report indicated that precipitation in western parts of the states was light. Export business was estimated at 500,000 bushels. Corn was influenced by wheat.

In the local cash grain market red wheat was ½c lower and hard 1c off. Demand was limited. Corn was ½c to 1½c lower and oats ⅛c to 1c lower. Demand was fair.

Report of rain in Southwest was the early dominating influence in wheat and July sold down more than a cent. Liverpool wheat closed 1d lower on May, ⅛d on July and ¾d on October. Winnipeg May was ⅝c lower early. Corn here also declined, July corn range extending beyond cent early.

Hard May wheat opened on $1.42¼; July wheat, $1.41⅝-¼; May corn, $1.00¼ and July corn, $1.04¼.

Local wheat receipts, which were 61,600 bushels, compared with 85,400 a week ago and 64,400 a year ago, included 31 cars local and 13 through. Corn receipts, which were 112,000 bushels, compared with 67,000 a week ago and 49,000 a year ago, included 22 cars local and 58 through. Oats receipts, which were 44,000 bushels, compared with 60,000 a week ago and 60,000 a year ago, included 18 cars local and 4 through. Hay receipts were 5 cars local and 2 through.

The three Northwestern markets combined had 808 cars of wheat, compared with 521 a week ago and 407 a year ago, Minneapolis receiving 167 cars, Duluth 90 and Winnipeg 551.

St. Louis Cash Grain.

Sales of cash grain made on the Exchange Thursday were as follows:

LOWER RANGE TO WHEAT ON THE CHICAGO BOARD

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Highly beneficial rains in parts of Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska had a bearish effect today on wheat values. Reports, however, indicated that the amount of moisture received in western sections of the three states named was light. Export demand today for wheat from North America was moderate, totaling 500,000 bu.

Wheat closed unsettled ¼c to 1¾c net lower, corn 1⅝@1⅝c to 1⅛c down, oats ⅝c to 1⅛c off, and provisions showing 2c to 10c decline.

General selling of wheat resulted today in the Southwest, and prices underwent an early setback.

Moisture appeared o have been supplied during the night to sections which yesterday were untouched. Opening ⅜ to 1 cent lower, wheat subsequently showed additional downturns. Corn, oats and provisions were also weak, with corn starting ⅜@⅛ to 1⅜ down, and afterward continuing to drop.

Declines in wheat values today which were associated with more ample moisture for dry territory southwest came in the face comment indicating that Europe will need to import substantial quantities of wheat between now and the end of August.

Corn prices went downward with wheat, despite report that there will be no carry-over of corn this season in Argentina.

Investing One's Savings in the Second Largest Industry

Public Utilities, especially the electric power and light companies, appeal to all classes of investors as an attractive medium for sound investment. This is because of their uniformly good management and supervision by State boards, as well as for the essential quality of their product, the stability of their earnings and assured future expansion due to constantly increasing demand for current.

We recommend Public Utility Bonds.

PAPE WOULD RETAIN LINDBERGH TROPHIES

Park Chief to Support Any Plan Fair to Historical Society and Municipal Opera.

Park Commissioner Pape today indicated he was in sympathy with the movement to retain the Lindbergh trophy collection, now on exhibition at Jefferson Memorial, permanently in St. Louis. He has final jurisdiction over the Jefferson Memorial.

The Park Commissioner said he would co-operate with any arrangement which would be fair to both the Missouri Historical Society, custodian of the trophies, and the Municipal Theater Association, which from January to August holds chorus rehearsals in the west wing of the memorial, sought for the trophies. Pape already had demonstrated his interest by detailing a park guard to the memorial when it appeared that the display would have to be abandoned for lack of a watchman.

Former Mayor Kiel, president of the opera organization, has made it clear that he favors vacating the west wing for the trophies, and announced that the opera would seek other quarters for next season. He said there were several places the chorus probably could obtain at fair terms, or if not, a rehearsal hall might be built. The Historical Society has not yet put in its request for the west wing, and probably will not until Col. Lindbergh has been consulted.

Night's Rest Disturbed.

Is Nature's way of telling you "Danger Ahead." A Healthy Bladder Does Not Act at Night.

Mrs. G. W. Bushong, 1012 South East St., Bloomington, Ill., says in her own home paper, the Bloomington Pantagraph: "Lithiated Buchu tablets relieved me of bladder weakness. Was disturbed 20 to 25 times a night. I feel I am well. I tried many treatments, submitted to operation and much torture. In one week after taking Lithiated Buchu I could notice improvement. I will be glad to tell or write my experience."

Lithiated buchu is not a patent medicine. The formula is on the bottle. It cleanses the bladder as epsom salts do the bowels. The tablets cost 2c each at all drug stores. Keller Laboratory, Mechanicsburg, Ohio. Locally at Wolff-Wilson Drug Stores.

Crime Commission Urges Defeat of State's Attorney Crowe, Calling Him "Inefficient and Unworthy"—Statistics Showing Less Lawlessness Found Unreliable by Investigator, Who Cites Advance in Insurance Rates.

This is the fourth of a series of dispatches from a staff reporter of the Post-Dispatch and the New York World, who was sent to Chicago to look into the background of the relations of crime and big politics.

By DUDLEY NICHOLS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

CHICAGO, April 5.—A bomb has just gone off in Chicago, but this time it is no "pineapple." It is the explosion of the powerful Chicago Crime Commission. For the first time in its life the commission has its dander up and is going to the mat with the Crowe-Thompson machine which runs Chicago.

This morning the following paid advertisement appears in Chicago newspapers:

"To the voters of Cook County:

"The Chicago Crime Commission, believing that State's Attorney Crowe is inefficient and unworthy of his great responsibility to maintain law and order in Cook County, and that his alliances are such as to destroy public confidence in his integrity, recommends to the citizens that he be defeated for renomination.

"Chicago Crime Commission, by Frank A. Loesch, president, and Charles R. Napier, secretary."

Holds a Difficult Job.

This correspondent has just come from an appointment with Loesch, who is general counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad. Before going to that appointment he had written an article under this date which said in part:

"The fact is the director of the Chicago Crime Commission has an impossible job in politics-ridden Chicago. He must satisfy the business and financial powers, which compose the commission, on the one hand, and the overbearing politicians who deal with crime, on the other. He is between the devil and the sea.

"When it comes to the political powers, there is a laissez faire policy on the part of big business and finance which seems amost sinister, and as long as the Police Commissioner is held in the Mayor's vest pocket and the courts, indicting power and prosecution of all crime are tight in the fist of the State's Attorney by virtue of his being Republican boss of the county, no Chicago Crime Commission which maintains friendly relations all around can retain the character of an independent and useful, critical and investigating body."

Commission Gets Busy.

Now all that is changed at a single stroke. The commission, child of the Chicago Association of Commerce, takes on a different color. The second city of the United States which sprawls for 25 miles along Lake Michigan, is waking up.

"Under Crowe less than 4 per cent of all serious indictments have resulted in conviction," said Loesch to this correspondent. "He blames the juries for their tendency to acquit. The truth is that jury acquittals are negligible in the more than 96 per cent which get off scot free.

"Also, there are too many pleas of guilty accepted in the criminal courts to lesser offenses than those charged in the indictment. In 1927, cases disposed of in the criminal courts numbered 4,326. In the same year, felony counts were waived in 1,772 cases and pleas of guilty to misdemeaners were accepted in place of such felony charges in the indictment.

Unfair to All Parties.

"In other words, the defendant pleaded guilty to a crime which he did not commit and was discharged from punishment for a crime which he did commit. This is a travesty on justice. It is unfair to the public and unfair to the individuals who have been made the victims of the graver crimes."

This is aimed straight at the State's Attorney and what is facetiously known among the hoodlums as a "Cook County larceny."

This declaration of war from the Chicago Crime Commission will be a big blow to the Crowe-Thompson machine.

The immediate quest of an inquirer here is for the crime figures which should rightly reflect the growth or decline of the underworld. He may inquire and inquire. Mayor William Hale Thompson deposits himself like a cathedral cornerstone on a chair in his opulent suite on the sixteenth floor of the Hotel Sherman, great shrewd lump of a man with a dollar cigar stuck in his mouth.

Less Crime, Says Thompson.

"Mike Hughes tells me crime has dropped off 65 per cent since I came in," he says and the voice wheezes and rumbles up as if out of enormous caverns, as if it had taken steam power to get it up to the pithead.

Mike Hughes is Thompson's Commissioner of Police, whom he called when he was campaigning against Dever last year, "the greatest thief catcher in America."

The State's Attorney himself does not refer to Mike Hughes statistics on crime reduction in Chicago, but he is nevertheless as emphatic as the Mayor on the question. He quotes the Chicago Crime Commission to back him up. This is a setup worth looking into.

The fact is, an investigator wearily finds out, that crime figures in Chicago are not worth the paper they are written on. On his election just a year ago Mayor Thompson announced:

"The first sign I'll put up after my inauguration will be the great exit of gunmen, crooks and stick-up men. There'll be a general exodus of crooks. In 90 days the crooks will be practically out of Chicago."

And Crowe's campaign slogan was, "Elect Crowe and watch crime go."

Mike Hughes the Chief.

Now four times 90 days have ticked off and the Mayor quotes his Police Chief for a big reduction, as high as 80 per cent, as low as 50; and for Crowe, crime is not only going, it is humming.

Nobody can get dependable crime figures because they are not on tap. The Chicago Crime Commission was the logical agency to approach for a check-up on the Mayor's 65 per cent crime reduction.

It was organized by the Chicago Association of Commerce: "The purpose of this corporation shall be to promote the efficiency and activity of all officers and departments of State, county and city administrations charged with the duty of suppression, prevention and punishment of crime."

The commission numbers 131 business and professional men, who employ as operating director Henry Barrett Chamberlain, former editor of the now defunct Record-Herald.

No Crime Figures Available.

Col. Chamberlain said the commission had no figures of its own to check up, but supplied a tabulation of verdicts of murder returned by Coroner's juries in Cook County, arranged in months and years.

By this tabulation there were successively from 1920 to 1927 inclusive, 194, 190, 228, 270, 347, 394, 366 and 379 murders in Cook County. There were 33 murders in January and 33 in February of 1928.

Col. Chamberlain then furnished records from the Chicago Police Department, "as taken from the records of the Secretary of Police." These are so extraordinary they need analysis. Take the tabulation of burglary complaints in 1927. In the 12 months from January to December there were successively 324, 416, 390, 261, 133, 83, 52, 50, 62, 76, 71 and 66 complaints. Mayor Dever was defeated by "Big Bill" Thompson in April, just where the figures drop off and practically vanish like a quarter in a slot machine.

Burglary Figures Dwindle.

In brief, these figures would indicate that in the first four months of the year, under Dever, there were 1391 burglary complaints, and in the last eight months under Thompson, 593 altogether. But Mayor Dever's regime was not so bad as all that in the preceding year, for altogether in 1926 there were only 897 complaints, not much more in 12 months than Thompson suffered in eight months of 1927.

All this is too plain even to pretend. The murder record stands. It is from the Coroner's office. Moreover it is not easy for anybody to tamper with murder records, if for no other reason than that most murders get into the newspapers, and watchful newspapers can compile their own tallies from morgues.

The Police Department records, as furnished to Col. Chamberlain, indicate there were returned by Coroners' juries 140 murder verdicts in the first four months of 1927, under Dever, and 239 during the last eight months of 1927 under Thompson. And the whole tally shows an increase in murder over 1926.

Strangely enough, the Chicago Crime Commission is being used by Crowe for one of his strongest selling points in his smashing campaign to re-elect himself for a third term.

Crowe Quotes Crime Group.

When Crowe mounts the platform at political rallies he reads from his campaign booklet, contrived by a masterly hand, the following excerpt from a report of the Crime Commission:

"Chicago has been represented as the most crime-ridden city in

FRANCE CONSIDERS NEW LOAN OF $1,000,000,000

Would Be Used to Repay Advances Made to Government by Bank of France.

POINCARE DEBENTURE SCHEME OUTLINED

Would Hasten End of War Debts and Reparations Settlements Through Their Sale.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

Copyright, 1928, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos. (The New York World and Post-Dispatch.)

PARIS, April 5.—To wipe out the 23,000,000,000 francs (nearly a billion dollars) advanced by the Bank of France to the French Treasury, a huge loan will be floated after the May elections, provided the present Government wins.

Gold francs bought with dollars and pounds in recent months and shipped to the Bank of France will be part of the new move to put France back on a solid financial basis.

The new loan tentatively is set for May. Methods of launching it were discussed yesterday by the heads of leading French banks and Director of Funds Moret of the Finance Ministry. It is reported they favor 5½ per cent bonds.

Whether stabilization of the franc will follow is not yet decided. It is believed in financial circles that Premier Poincare will not consider stabilization until he has settled war debts. His purpose is the same as that of all French finance ministers—to balance war debt payments by reparations from Germany.

Poincaire's Debenture Plan.

Poincare is now credited with a scheme whereby an end to both war debts and reparations can be brought into a measurable number of years. To avoid the hostility always shown in the United States against linking debts and reparations directly, he is reported willing to make a final settlement with Germany partly on the basis of railroad and industrial debentures which Agent General of Reparations Parker Gilbert holds in one block from the German Government. Sale of these Poincare mentioned in a campaign speech at Carcassonne Sunday. It is partly campaign material and partly a belief that the international money market is ready to absorb the debentures.

The market would be chiefly in America which would take over and commercialize part of Germany's political debt according to a scheme thought out at the time the Dawes plan was made.

The debentures are sufficient to cover Germany's total reparation payments for six years. This ready money, 52 per cent of which would go immediately into the French Treasury, is a temptation for the French Government in its desire to make France as sound financially as she was before the war.

Must Give Germany Something.

Bankers for whom the handling of $4,000,000,000 worth of German debentures would be profitable have been for a long time trying to interest Poincare in this tempting plan which would give France $2,000,000,000 all at once.

But to get it France would have to carry out Gilbert's wish of determining Germany's total debt. While various figures have been discussed, no definite sum has yet been considered by the French Government.

The hitch in the financial dream is Germany. The Reich does not want to give France this immediate boost without something in return, preferably Rhineland evacuation. France might agree if granted a big cut in any final settlement of war debts.

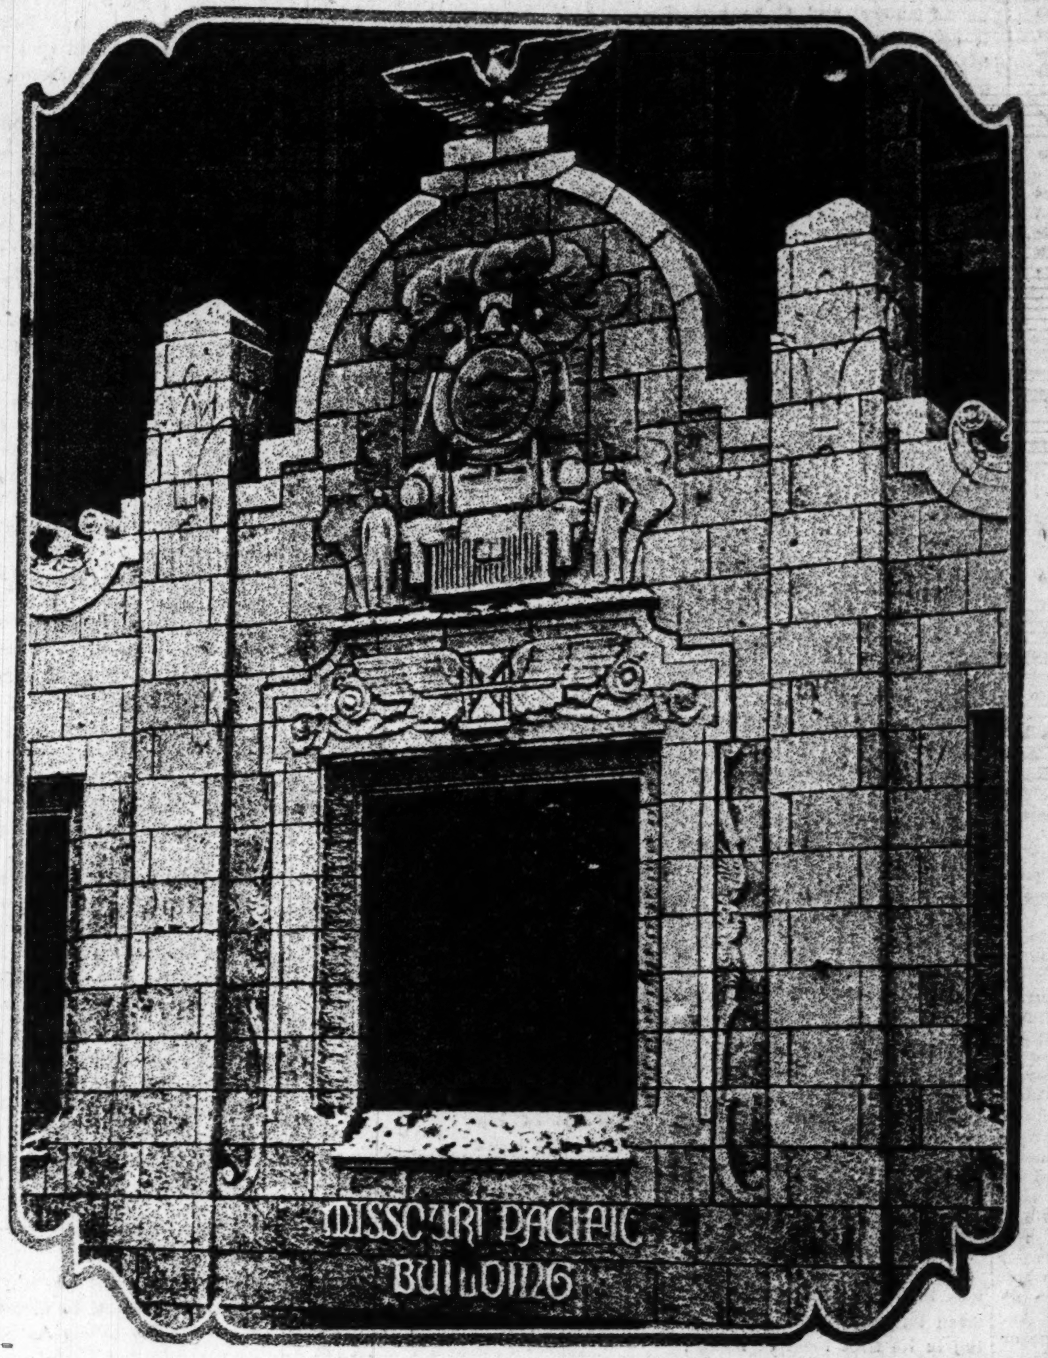
So before the settlement can be made, France must know what America and England want to do. Meanwhile many financiers believe France can afford to wait because from this year on she gets about $400,000,000 in reparations, which far exceeds even the full annuities to America and England under the Melon-Berenger and Caillaux-Churchill agreements.

To Explore Tierra del Fuego.

By the Associated Press.

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 5.—Hoping to find territory in the interior of Tierra del Fuego suitable for European settlement, Capt. Gunther Pleuschow and three German sailors have arrived here in the 55-foot cutter Feuerland. They left Buseum, Germany, Nov. 23, and are headed for Punta Arenas, Chile. They will be joined by Ernest Breblow, German aviator. In his plane, they will explore the unmapped portions of Tierra del Fuego.

Locomotive Pictured on Office Building



—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

PRESERVED in terra cotta over the main entrance of the new Missouri Pacific Building is this half-size likeness of the head end of a 1928 mountain type passenger locomotive of the road, which future generations will regard as old-fashioned. The enginemen stand on either side and smoke escapes from the stack. An American eagle surmounts the setting and a winged hourglass is underneath.

MISSOURI PACIFIC BUILDING READY FOR OCCUPANCY

$2,500,000 Skyscraper Completed in Record Time and Railroad Will Begin Moving Saturday.

Begun only 16 months ago, the new Missouri Pacific Building, Thirteenth street, from Pine street to Olive street, facing the projected Memorial Plaza on its west and south sides, is within a few weeks of completion, and the railroad will begin Saturday the work of moving into the new offices.

This 270-foot skyscraper cost $2,000,000, besides $500,000 for the 100x192 foot lot. It is the third highest structure in town, the new Civil Courthouse being 380 feet and the Telephone Building 370 feet, but the railway's 22-story quarters are designed to be raised to 395 feet by the addition of eight floors when the need arises.

Missouri Pacific officers, who directed the job themselves, believe a record has been made for speedy erection of a big building here, in spite of six weeks' delay a year ago, attributed to sliding earth in the excavation due to excessive rains. Ground was broken on Nov. 25, 1926; steel erection began March 22, 1927, and was completed Sept. 7 last, and meanwhile the walls and interior had been started; the exterior was finished Feb. 1.

Rushing Finishing Touches.

From 200 to 250 workmen are rushing the interior finish now—wiring, floors, plaster, partitions, placing of furniture, which already has begun to arrive, and a myriad confusing details that follow a set plan. The outer walls are being washed for a clean start, as the winter's smoke begrimed them.

A definite schedule of moving departments from the road's old headquarters in the Railway Exchange Building will be started Saturday, ending on April 30 with transfer of the executive department to imposing suites on the top floor.

The 68 foundation piers rest on bedrock, and the designers boast that the steel frame is riveted as strongly as a bridge. Glistening, creamy terra cotta forms the three street walls, and included in it is a half-size design of a 1928 mountain-type locomotive over the main entrance on Thirteenth street.

Construction is so fireproof that automatic sprinklers are not required. Virtually the only wood is in the metal-inclosed frames of doors and in light partitions. Metal furniture will be used.

Stores on First Floor.

There is a T-shaped marble-lined lobby, with entrances on the three streets. It will form an arcade for first-floor stores which are to be the only space rented out by the railroad. Ten elevators are provided, with the unusual capacity of 22 passengers each, for speedy handling of the 2400 employes to be gathered there. They will move up and down at 600 feet a minute—less than half a minute for a nonstop trip from lobby to top floor. Total floor space is 240,000 square feet.

The second floor will not be finished for the time being. E. M Tucker, Missouri Pacific architect, designed the building, assisted by Chief Engineer E. A. Hadley, and in consultation with Mauran, Russell & Crowell for the exterior and lobby, so that it would harmonize with public structures on Memorial Plaza. The design is in the modern American setback style. The builder was the Humes-Deal company.

The Missouri Pacific has occupied the ninth to twelfth floors of the Railway Exchange Building under a 50-year lease dating from 1913. It acquired the leasehold under an ironclad agreement when office space rented cheaply, and sold its unexpired right, after next May 1, to the Famous-Barr department store for a price understood to be $1,215,000. Hence the road will complete its removal just in time.

Big Rental on Old Quarters.

Famous-Barr, which already has the basement and first eight stories of the Railway Exchange, is spending more than $1,000,000 to expand its store into the additional space. This work, including an increase from 20 to 34 store elevators, will be done by August. It was reported the store would pay $220,000 a year until 1953 to the building company for the four added floors.

The $4,000,000 Civil Courthouse, which was begun on June 20, 1926, will be completed about this time next year or possibly soon after New Year's. Its construction is slower than an office building because of the complicated nature of the interior. The stone walls now are up to the top of the third courtroom floor and will be up to the base of the surmounting "temple" portion by May 7. Concreting of the steel framework is approaching the pinnacle.

Vandenberg Sworn in as Senator.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—Arthur H. Vandenberg, publisher of the Grand Rapids Herald, took the oath of office today as Senator from Michigan, succeeding the late Woodbridge N. Ferris. With the administering of the oath, the Republican membership was increased to 48, with the Democratic membership remaining at 44. There is one Farmer-Labor member and three seats are vacant.

LEE TO QUIT RACE FOR GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION

State School Superintendent Expected to Throw His Support to Wilson.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 5.—State Superintendent of Schools Charles A. Lee, who has not made material progress in his campaign for the Democratic nomination for the governorship, will withdraw from the race in a few days, leaving two candidates in the field, State Senator A. L. McCawley of Carthage and former State Senator Francis M. Wilson of Kansas City.

Lee today confirmed reports that he would retire from the race and said he would make an announcement of his withdrawal in a few days. He said he was not withdrawing in favor of either of the remaining candidates, but it is known that he is more inclined to support Wilson than McCawley.

Lee explained he was getting out of the race to devote his time to a proposed initiative proposition to consolidate the public school districts of the State into larger districts, to provide more adequate educational facilities than are available in many of the small districts.

CANTON EXECUTES 73 MORE REDS TO PREVENT UPRISING

CANTON, China, April 5.—Continuing their efforts to thwart any attempt at an uprising, the Canton authorities today executed 73 more reds.

This brought the total executed in the recently disclosed Communist plot to 303.

Two hundred and thirty Communists were killed earlier in the week when a 14-year-old street urchin disclosed Communist plans to the authorities after listening to them gossiping in the streets.

The atmosphere is tense since the reds have boasted that their deaths would only make the Communist movement stronger.

Fall's Trip West Deferred Again.

By the Associated Press.

EL PASO, Tex., April 5.—Albert B. Fall's journey to California was deferred again today to permit the former Secretary of the Interior an additional day's rest. Members of the family said Fall had not completely recovered from an apparent relapse, suffered following the taking of his deposition for the trial in Washington of Harry F. Sinclair, charged with conspiracy to defraud the Government in the leasing of the Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve.

ROME, April 5.—The Pope today celebrated Holy Thursday with a mass in Consistory hall in the Vatican. He imparted communion to the prelates of his court and other Italian and foreign prelates and ecclesiastics, after which he bestowed the apostolic benediction. In observance of the fete, the Pope granted no audiences.

WARSHIP CAPTAIN IS CONVICTED IN ROYAL OAK AFFAIR

Courtmartial Sentences K. G. B. Dewar to Be Dismissed From Ship and Severely Reprimanded.

CHAPLAIN TELLS OF THREATS OF ADMIRAL

Letter Criticising Conduct of Superior at Dance on Vessel Led to Trial of Officers.

By the Associated Press.

GIBRALTAR, April 5.—Capt. Kenneth G. B. Dewar was found guilty by a courtmartial today on one of two charges of actions to the prejudice of good order and naval discipline growing out of a dance aboard the battleship Royal Oak at Malta.

Capt. Dewar was found guilty of the first charge, that of acting to the prejudice of discipline in accepting and forwarding a letter from Commander H. M. Daniel to the Squadron Commander containing terms subversive to discipline. The letter criticised the conduct of Rear Admiral Bernard St. G. Collard.

The second charge, that on which the Commander was found not guilty, was accepting and forwarding a letter, the terms of which were contrary to the King's regulation and Admiralty instructions.

Capt. Dewar was sentenced to be dismissed from the ship and severely reprimanded.

Commander Daniel suffered the same penalty on being found guilty earlier in the week.

The prosecutor today continued his cross-examination of the accused Captain. Asked to visualize the effect on Rear Admiral Collard's mind of the receipt of Commander H. M. Daniel's letter of complaint, the witness replied, "I cannot."

Can't Visualize Admiral's Mind.

"Put yourself in a Rear Admiral's mind," the prosecutor urged. "You're very nearly one yourself."

"Everybody's mind is different," Capt. Dewar replied.

Later the Captain replied warmly to questions asked by the prosecutor as follows: "I did not mean to convey the impression that the ship was in a latent state of mutiny. You are twisting my words to mean something else than their real meaning."

"If I had thought the letter would be turned to the charge it has been, I would not have accepted it," the Captain asserted. "I never visualized the events which have happened, nor did I visualize that either Admiral Collard or myself would be turned out of the ship."

Lays Trouble to Admiral.

Commander Daniel was the next witness. An old quotation, "It is indiscreet, licentious conversations among officers that produce our ills," was cited by the prosecutor. The commander said he did not recognize it, but thought it exceedingly appropriate as the licentious remarks of the officer in question (Rear Admiral Collard) were responsible for the state of affairs prevailing on the Royal Oak.

The dance incident again came up in testimony concerning Admiral Collard's actions toward the bandmaster of the Royal Oak, the Admiral having been dissatisfied with the playing of the band. Previous testimony described the Admiral as berating the bandmaster in the presence of others and as referring to him with an opprobrious epithet.

Chaplain Tells of Threats.

The Rev. Harry Gouleing, chaplain of the Royal Oak, testified he had interviewed the Rear Admiral with reference to the incident of the bandmaster and that the Admiral had threatened to have him courtmartialed. He made that threat, the witness said, after saying that serious penalties awaited those making accusations against flag officers.

"What was the Rear Admiral's condition?" asked Day Kimball, who is acting in an advisory capacity to Capt. Dewar. "He was out of control during the greater part of the interview," the chaplain responded. "I had the greatest difficulty myself remaining in his cabin."

The chaplain said many men on the Royal Oak expressed to him the greatest indignation at what they thought was an abuse of power on the part of Admiral Collard. The witness had gathered from the conversations of the officers that they were so furious against Collard they could not express their feelings, not because of a certain term used by the Admiral to the bandmaster, but because the man had been insulted very cruelly. The chaplain added that he had heard Collard called "a little swine."

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles; that it will always fight for progress or reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news; always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

"Arm Chairs for Straphangers."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I READ with interest your editorial, entitled "Arm Chairs for Straphangers." In paragraph three I find the following: "They are building street car seats now like Pullman seats in the bucket type. Such seats have been installed at Joliet, Atlanta, Norfolk and Grand Rapids. With them go handsome lighting fixtures in the ceiling, linoleum on the floor, gray and mauve woodwork, compartments for the motorman in which all the machinery of the car is hidden from the refined gaze of the passengers. Cleveland has several two-car trains carrying real leather seats."

We in East St. Louis do not desire to be left out of the picture. Across the river from your city can be found street cars as up to date as anything in this country. They do not have bucket seats, because where it is necessary to operate a street car from either end of the car instead of a single end, the installation of a satisfactory bucket seat is extremely difficult or practically impossible. They do, however, "have handsome lighting fixtures in the ceiling, linoleum on the floor," attractive interior woodwork, and a compartment for hiding the machinery from the refined gaze of the passengers. The seats, which have the maximum of comfort for cars operated from either end, are upholstered in the best grade of genuine leather, such as is used in Packard, Lincoln, Pierce-Arrow and other high-grade open motor cars. Their exterior appearance is a credit to the streets of any city. Not only have they comfort and appearance, but they also have fast pickup and speed in order to get the passenger to his destination quickly. G. W. WELSH,
Vice-President and General Manager East St. Louis Railway Co.

Send Cal to Nicaragua.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I SEE there is much talk in the papers about drafting Mr. Cal Coolidge for the presidency. They ought to draft him and send him to Nicaragua.

AL REED.

To Honor John H. Gundlach.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THIS morning's Globe-Democrat suggests a way in which to show appreciation of the fur traders and pioneers of St. Louis. There is one, however, who went in and out among us but a while ago, whose vision of "The City Beautiful" is being partly realized in the Memorial Plaza. I speak of John H. Gundlach.

When he left us, the daily press was full of words of praise. Was ever more said at the passing of any St. Louisan? Your "Just a Minute" column summed it up in a few words:

> The difference between Mr. Gundlach and most of us was that we think of the city in terms of what we can get out of it, whereas he thought of it in terms of what he could give it. That sort of man swims up-stream all his life, but when he dies he is the greatest citizen among us.

Space would not be given me to cite the many ways in which he served, but I suggest that we honor the father of the St. Louis Pageant and Masque, the president of the Pageant Chorus, guarantor of the Symphony Society, patron of music and all arts, by naming the municipal auditorium "The Gundlach Memorial Auditorium."

The Antire Road.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

ISN'T it about time something was done with the Antire road from Valley Park to Times Beach? It's in an awful condition. With all the gravel that is lying loose around the road, why can't it be rolled out and oiled the same as on Geyer and Sappington roads?

CLUB OWNER.

For Rapid Transit.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

"ST. LOUIS Votes to Build Subway." "Rapid Transit for St. Louis Assured." Headlines like these, carried in the newspapers throughout the country, will do more to place St. Louis in the over-a-million population class than anything else.

Rapid transit will bring industries and population and will do it in a hurry. St. Louis certainly needs both.

Unless some sort of subway or rapid transit proposition is worked out in the near future, St. Louis cannot hope to keep its rank in competition with other cities that are forging ahead.

BUD WHISER.

A Paying Business.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IF all the crooks who buy governmental offices for their crooked friends can get their money back, as Sinclair is getting his from Borah, buying offices will be a paying business. INDEPENDENT.

THE COST OF FLOOD CONTROL

The Jones flood control bill carrying an appropriation of $325,000,000 is not satisfactory to Mr. Coolidge. One of the President's reported objections to the measure is that it fails to specify just how much the project will cost.

Is there a man on earth who would seriously undertake to say how much this work will cost? Would Mr. Hoover, the super-engineer, attempt it? He has never ventured an estimate as yet, so far as the public knows, and if he had reached a judgment it does seem as if the members of Congress who have been engaged in the task of drafting this legislation would have been entitled to his advice.

The Reid bill, which takes its name from the Chairman of the Flood Control Committee of the House, proposed an appropriation considerably larger than that of the Jones bill, but even that figure was not offered as final. Meantime Senator Reed of Missouri has repeatedly recommended an investment of a billion dollars in this enterprise, and his colleague, Senator Hawes, who has come to be regarded as an authority on this subject, has approved the Jones bill as an acceptable compromise which promises to get this vitally important work started. It is Mr. Hawes' judgment that a perfected, or adequate, measure cannot be drawn until the next session of Congress.

Exactness either as to time or money in an undertaking of this size and character is not in the books. Before it is completed Mr. Coolidge will be a venerable ex-President. The most and the best that can be done now is to make as good a beginning as possible on the biggest job Uncle Sam has tackled.

THE HERALD OF SPRING.

The first touch of spring blossomed into a charming appreciation in the news columns of the Post-Dispatch. The beginning of the season's pageant in the hills and valleys around St. Louis was pictured with poetic delicacy and fervor, combined with accuracy.

All the trees that have begun to put forth tender leaves, and the flowers that are blossoming outdoors in Shaw's Garden, Forest Park, the Meramec Hills were mentioned except one—the genuine harbinger of spring. This is the shadbush, which is the first of the flowering trees in the woods of the foothills of the Ozarks to put forth blossoms. Its buds swell with the first warm breath, and its blossoms burst forth within a few days, frequently regardless of the weather. The blossoms are white and shine like a great snowball in the leafless, lifeless black woods.

The shadbush is rare now, but it is found occasionally in the primal forest where the ax has not destroyed the native flowering shrubs and trees. It grows to a height of 25 or 30 feet. Its blooms are racemes of white flowers. When it bursts into blossom in the dark, dead woods, it is a cheering sight. It is the white herald of spring.

Last Saturday a shadbush in a wood near St. Louis was in a full bloom, and to cap its beauty a humming bird was flitting from flower to flower, reveling in its first feast of nectar.

THE KINDLY SHARK.

William Beebe, noted naturalist and scientist, returns from the Florida Keys to give the much maligned shark a clean bill. It would appear that sharks are not the vengeful man-eaters men have written them down, but pleasant enough fellows who have been miserably libeled.

Mr. Beebe, his only protection a helmet, dived 25 feet down into shark infested waters; the sharks were friendly, none offered to attack him. "I'm convinced," he says, "that sharks only attack men as they would strike at any fish, believing a man to be food."

It is very pleasant to learn that there is nothing malicious in the shark's nature. But the fact remains that he will make mistakes. Mr. Beebe's discoveries may change the world's opinion of the big fish. But they don't change conditions. Being eaten by a shark is being eaten by a shark, whether he is a sweet tempered, misguided fellow or a homicidal one.

RUBBER.

The Stevenson plan for restricting rubber exports from British Malaya and Ceylon was designed primarily for the benefit of producers who were hardhit in the depression of 1920. Under that plan no grower was forbidden to grow or sell as much rubber as he pleased, but a sliding scale of export duties was devised which would make it unprofitable for him to sell or grow more than the scheme contemplated. Despite this effort to stabilize the price of rubber, crude rubber prices have continued to decline. Now the British Government, at the behest of the producers, has announced that the Stevenson plan will be abrogated next Nov. 1.

The disappointment in the British Empire over the failure of the Stevenson plan is aggravated by one of its indirect effects, namely, it awakened the United States to the fact that the British control a product, of which the United States consumes 70 per cent of the world supply. As the restrictions went into effect and the price of rubber shot skyward, we began laying plans for a future supply of rubber under American control. Secretary Hoover and the Department of Commerce were spurred into action. The department began collecting information on the possibility of rubber growing in the Philippines and elsewhere and on the possibility of reclaiming old rubber. The department also stimulated private interests.

Perhaps the most important single result of the agitation was the leasing of 1,000,000 acres of land in Liberia by the Firestone company for a $100,000,000 rubber-growing enterprise. It is estimated that Liberia in time will produce from 250,000,000 to 300,000,000 pounds. The Firestone company has also leased 35,000 acres in southeastern Mexico for rubber cultivation. Henry Ford followed Firestone's example by acquiring huge holdings of rubber land on the Amazon in Brazil. The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce formed a $10,000,000 corporation, whose purpose is to produce, purchase and deal in raw rubber, as well as to make automobile tires and to protect the automobile industry against foreign control of rubber. The corporation is supposedly interested in the revival and expansion of Brazil's wild rubber industry, which languished under the competition of British cultivated areas. Fresh interest was centered in the rubber possibilities of the Philippines, and the nucleus of a future rubber industry has been established there.

It seems likely that, regardless of the latest British action, American rubber-producing activities will continue. With the demand increasing tremendously every year, new sources of supply are needed apart from any question of a British monopoly.

DEPEW.

"Chauncey, you're a peach," piped a voice from the gallery, and again that impertinent tribunal had rendered the final verdict. Here was a man who in his youth had won a place in "the seats of the mighty," had achieved and never relinquished authority in the dynastic circle of great affairs; was, so to speak, a member of the royal family of immense wealth, but through all his distinctions, preferments and acquisitions, was ever the troubadour of his times.

The public that laughed at his witticisms in the green leaf and chuckled at his anecdotes in the brown never thought of him as a railroad magnate, though he was for years the energetic head of a vast transportation system. The public knew that his experience and counsel were sought by the leaders of his party, yet it never saw him as a politician. The public knew that he was a director in a score of corporations, but it never identified him as a captain of industry. The public saw him go to the Senate by the sanction of Albany and the approval of Tom Platt, but it never called him Senator. It never even addressed him as Mister. He was Chauncey Depew to three generations.

Henry George, whose "Progress and Poverty" is still the bible of the single-tax cult, once dubbed him a "court jester in cap and bells," and the Merry Man of Circumstance, they say, winced under the epithet. And when the long-forgotten party at Sherry's of the long-forgotten James Hazen Hyde blew the lid off the Equitable, revealing Depew's name on the roster of princely retainers, the world heard the first, last and only exclamation of pain in a memorable cable from Paris. Save for those two instances this life that almost spanned a century was a gay, galloping Odyssey.

Within the compass of its cantos what epochal events has history staged! He had campaigned for a presidential candidate while Lincoln's fame was yet in the future. He was past 30 when Grant and Lee clasped hands at Appomattox. His youth had been left behind when the Second Empire crumbled at Sedan. Within his allotment Bismarck rewrote the map of Europe and he saw Imperial Germany vanish in a midnight flight. He has watched America's metamorphosis from a candle-lighted childhood to the Colossus bestriding the earth. And all along the way he entertained this Western world with quip and story and droll philosophy.

Cheerio!

POLITICS AND CHARITY.

Surely the members of the First Presbyterian Church of Caldwell, N. J., in voting to discontinue their annual contribution of $250 to the Anti-Saloon League, on the ground that it is a political organization, are not claiming any credit for discovering that fact. It has been generally known for quite some time that the Anti-Saloon League is not only a political organization but, in a way of speaking, a super-political organization, prospering on the pliancy of mere political organizations and driving all politicians by the crack of its super-political whip.

It must be that the New Jersey brethren, in taking the position that they have discovered something, are pleading extenuation for not having taken earlier action in withdrawing their support. They have, it seems, been dropping something into the Anti-Saloon League hat every time it was passed. It is hard to believe that they are so benighted in New Jersey that they did not know what the money was to be used for. What the Anti-Saloon League is now it has always been.

The point that it is not a charitable organization is, however, not well taken. Its charities are many and abundant. Its beneficence is bestowed upon a host of retainers without other visible means of support and upon legislators who serve it in season and out of season and fatten upon its favor.

Of course, though, they may have their own ideas in New Jersey as to what charity they want to support. There are charities and charities.

A DANIEL COME TO JUDGMENT.

Wedding presents are the property of the bride. However, no one really cares whose property is which at the wedding. It is when the matrimonial ship has gone on the rocks that property rights must be adjusted. And frequently, be it said, the adjustment calls for diplomacy, tact and a Justice of the Peace.

Last November, a local matron was granted a divorce and the custody of the child. But for some reason, the Court failed to mention who was to have and to hold the following: one washing machine, one sewing machine, one ironing machine, one ironing board, one vacuum cleaner and two rugs. But the question was not left long in abeyance. The lady had the divorce and the custody of the child. In a short time, she had the list of properties that begins with the washing machine. Her former husband brought a replevin suit. Diplomacy and tact having failed, the Justice of the Peace stepped in.

From the conflicting testimony, it appears that the washing machine belonged to the wife, whether by purchase or as a present. The Justice wisely ruled that even if her former husband had helped with the wash, his interest in the machine was only academic. "And it must follow as the night the day" the other properties also belonged to her. Such was always our contention, but we are glad that the Justice made it a point of law. In fact, the only thing that puzzles us is the inequitable distribution of the rugs. A man could use a rug.

ST. LOUIS AND THE LINDBERGH PLANE.

It is hard to imagine the Spirit of St. Louis reposing at last anywhere else.

It certainly would not be the spirit of Washington, which gets nowhere, or the Smithsonian Institution, which goes from one fall to another.

What it does do is typify the quality of St. Louis, that is, to never say die. It is a quality that within the last two years has conquered the New York Yankees and the Atlantic Ocean, two mighty husky adversaries.

Suppose we exhibit a little more of it now and secure for St. Louis not the Lindbergh trophies alone, but the Lindbergh plane.

How Editorial Opinion Changes

In 1924 New York Newspapers Were Denouncing Senators Walsh and Wheeler As Scandalmongers and Mudgunners, and the Oil Investigation was Termed a Democratic Lynching Bee; Now They Have Changed Their Tune.

From The Nation.

"AN able and needed investigation." "Senator Walsh is a merciless investigator. But he fights openly and honorably. The country, as a whole, regardless of party lines, is just as eager as he is to uncover the mysterious ramifications of the Continental Oil Co. enterprise." "It is to be hoped that the Senate committee will push its inquiry to the end without tenderness to persons." These sentences we found recently in an editorial in the New York Herald Tribune and we confess that we could not trust our eyes when we first saw them. For this is the same paper that during inquiries in 1924 had no language too violent with which to denounce the same Senator Walsh and his associates in digging out what is now admitted to be the worst corruption in high office in the history of the republic. "The Montana scandal-mongers," the Tribune, as it then was, called Senators Walsh and Wheeler on March 30, 1924. On Jan. 30, 1924, the investigation was in its eyes "a Democratic lynching bee" which was, "in plain words, contemptible and disgusting." On Feb. 21 it denounced Senator Wheeler for his attack upon Attorney-General Daugherty, saying:

> He turned his back on the rules of fair play and decent conduct that control private citizens and, ordinarily, Senators of the United States. * * * Senator Wheeler would place senatorial cowardice on a par with senatorial courtesy. * * * The country is in for a period of wild accusations, rumor-mongering and loud-mouthing by little minds.

It finally agreed with Senator Wheeler that Daugherty should resign, "not because of the slanderous attacks of Democrats, but in spite of them." Again, it said of Mr. Wheeler and Mr. Walsh that "these precious legislators will doubtless continue to violate every rule of decency and fair play, for such is their nature." And it finally spoke of "the preposterous hearsay of incredible witnesses."

THE New York Times was not far behind its Republican contemporary. When Senator Caraway attacked both Albert Fall and Edward B. McLean, the Times declared that "judicious Democrats" everywhere "must grieve over this Bombastes Furioso, for this is but another act of 'Trying to Bamboozle the People.'" When Secretary Denby was forced out by the oil investigators the Times came to his defense, and declared that "not even his enemies charge him with a sordid use of his office or of malfeasance in it." And it held to this viewpoint until the United States Supreme Court found that Denby had been guilty of most blameworthy lack of fidelity in office. Similarly the Times came to the aid of Harry Daugherty, declaring that there was "something unspeakably mean" about the desire to sacrifice him merely to save the party; that he was a sacrifice to Senators abler than he but "much meaner." Again on March 19, 1924, it denounced the senatorial "inquisitors" for introducing to the public "a fine collection of crooks, asserting that other men are crooked." On March 31 the Times had this to say:

> A few Senators at Washington have borne themselves like men who are at heart enemies of lawful and orderly government. They profess to be engaged in the laudable effort to uncover corruption. * * * But * * * they make it seem that their real purpose is to paralyze the administration, to terrorize members of the Cabinet, to break down the efficiency of the Government. * * * The inquisitorial power of Congress, which should be reserved for great events, has been placed at the disposal of men who display no sense of responsibility, and who make use of it for the pettiest and most malicious purposes. What should be the strong medicine of the Constitution, * * * has been made the daily bread of scandalmongers and assassins of character.

WHEN the investigators first got on the track of Mr. Mellon, the Times, on April 12, 1924, again declared that "It is one more step in a movement which will have the effect, if not the design, of throwing the Government into disorder and demoralizing those charged with the duty of conducting the public business." The New York Evening Post, too, was constantly firing away at Walsh and Wheeler, calling them the "mud-gunners," and declaring that

> There will come a day when Washington will recover its now lost sanity. * * * For weeks its mud-guns have belched and splashed. What once was a great deliberative body has been resounding to the partisan yelpings of little men and the snaps and snarls of character assassins. * * * The public has been shocked and finally disgusted by this brazen exhibition of poison-tongued partisanship, pure malice and twittering hysteria.

It is needless to add that the example of these metropolitan papers was followed by dailies in other cities. So far from upholding the hands of the investigators, they broke the force of the evidence presented by their attacks upon the investigators and upon the motives that led to the inquiry. We do not know of a more unworthy chapter in the history of our journalism. We do not think that it was a deliberate conspiracy. We incline to the belief that it was pure stupidity, editorial laziness combined with an unwillingness to attack the honor of "respectable," wealthy, prominent persons in high office.

SUDDENLY, this year, the newspapers discovered that Senator Walsh and Senator Nye were doing a good job. What caused the change? In the first place, there is this year no possibility of a third, and an honest, party in the field. In the second place, in the years that have elapsed, the men like Senators Wheeler, Walsh, Norris, Nye, La Follette and Borah, who place public decency and honor above party considerations and the safety of rascals in public office, have steadily pounded away and bit by bit brought out more and more truth. There is, of course, nothing that has been revealed in this fresh investigation that is else than confirmatory of what was discovered before. Our editorial protectors of wrongdoers cannot allege this in their defense. The simple fact is that the mountain of evidence has grown so great that it cannot be whistled away.

This hard-hitting little book, with its highly suggestive title, undertakes to show how loans and investments are related to military intervention in Central America; what the President's views on imperialism are and what they mean in practice; how oil and other minerals have caused our difficulties with Mexico; how leading New York financial institutions, with the aid of our navy, overthrew the Government of Haiti, etc.

THE JOY RIDE, AND OTHER POEMS. By Warren Gilbert. (Boni & Liveright.)

Following is a portion of one of the pieces in this collection of verse:

Seedtime, summer, and harvest
Over and over again,
And the little children changing
Into hard-faced women and men.

Yellow corn in the corn cribs,
White spuds in the bin,
And red sweet apples running
To cider sour and thin.

Twelve months to the year,
Seventy years to the life,
And the upshot merely an old gray man
And his old gray wife.

And wakes again each spring,
But it dies in the end, it dies—

Death and decaying cells
Condition life—
The upshot merely a thin dead man
And his fat wife.

No one will deny that the verses are well written and that the view of life presented is strictly in keeping with that of the scientific mechanist. But if poetry can reveal no more than science in its present state can, why waste time on poetry?

SPANISH FEMINIST ADMIRES ART MUSEUM

Senora de Palencia Calls It Most Interesting She Has Seen in America.

When Senora Isabel de Palencia, authoress and feminist of Madrid, Spain, who is here on a lecture tour, visited the City Art Museum yesterday and saw there representative paintings of El Greco, Goya, Chicharro, Sorolla and Zuloaga, she was moved to praise it as the most interesting she had seen in America. St. Louis, she described in a sweeping gesture as a city of spaciousness. America frightens her a little—"it is so strong, so huge."

"Modern Spanish art," said Senora de Palencia, "long nurtured at the fountain of a popular feeling for beauty, is more in the conventional tradition than the modern art of America." The United States, she believes, should adopt Spain's paternalism towards art and the state should be the depository of artistic treasures that are in fact part of the wealth of the people. The Spanish state, she explained, reserves the right to purchase a work of art before it can be sent from the country.

Senora de Palencia has completed a play dealing with the marriage problem, which she pointed out is more serious in Spain than here because of the absence of divorce.

As president of the National Feminist Association of Spain, she referred to the great advance of the feminist movement there since 1913. "Spanish women are becoming interested in political and social problems and they are being nominated for the National Assembly," she said. "In America women have discovered they can live their own lives, but I have noticed since my first visit several years ago a reaction toward home and family life."

The senora will lecture on "Spanish Painting, Old and New," Saturday at 3:15 p. m., at the Art Museum. She will wear costumes representative of the types of persons in the paintings to be illustrated by lantern slides. From her mother-in-law, once an actress, she has received dresses and mantillas native to various regions of Spain from the fifteenth century to modern times. The lecture will be free and in English. She has been in this country two months and expects to return to Spain in May. She is writing her impressions of America for a Madrid newspaper.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, April 5.

TO THE new generation the passing of Jack Dunston some weeks ago meant little. But to the vanishing old guard it revived memories of days and nights forever gone. There was never a place like Jack's restaurant. For years the key was never turned in the front door lock.

It offered no music, no fancy service, but plain palatable food such as eggs and Irish bacon. T-bone steaks with potatoes in the jacket and Hamburger and onions. After midnight it became the hangout for drunks as well as leaders in all walks of life.

If you got rowdy at Jack's you found yourself on your ear in the middle of Sixth avenue's car tracks. The waiters were especially trained and became known as "the flying wedge." At the battle cry they seemed to drop from chandeliers and spring from everywhere in mass formation to do their duty.

Its Battling Nelson Grill had someone taking the count nightly. Here would be found Hype Igoe and his cigar box ukulele. Frank Ward O'Malley who named the district "the Roaring Forties" and it was here Tad, the cartoonist, laughed himself out of a thousand trains to Great Neck.

Jack's was a jostling hard-boiled merry place. Many sleepers would be awakened to receive the other fellow's check. There was the old blind flower seller who could "smell a sucker." Judges and great statesmen came, as did such men about town as Freddie Gebhard and flowering wits as Wilson Mizner.

It was no place to flirt with the other fellow's girl. One wink and unless you dodged something handy you would be carried out feet up while birdies sang—tweet! tweet! Jack's was the hackmen's paradise. They began lining up on Sixth avenue at 5 a. m. Nobody ever walked home from Jack's. Nobody could.

The waiters were Pats, Reds and Mikes, gray haired and flat footed from long service. Many grew comfortably well off on tips. Jack himself began his career as a waiter. In later years he acquired a bank president's dignity. And an estate worth more than three millions.

MY FIRST visit to Jack's was with Harry W. Brown, a Cincinnati editor. It was at 3 a. m. Mr. Brown observed to Red, a beguiling Celt who attended us, things were rather quiet. "Yeah," he yawned, "outside of smacking a college sissy silly I ain't had no fun all evening.

A COMEDIAN in a cheaper vaudeville house referred to Los Angeles and in impromptu manner fashioned a pun on the grewsome kidnaping and murder there. The audience replied to his bad taste with a sound booing and the act was immediately canceled.

IT IS noticed that in the high-priced legitimate theaters the inclination to let poor work go unheeded is not what it used to be. It was all right when seats were $1.50 each, but audiences today seem conscious of their $8 or $10 expenditure. It requires what dramatic critics call "excellent theater" to bring about robust, spontaneous applause.

THE newest in auto rental agencies is to make a bow this spring. The patron has only to give his name and bank reference and at the appointed time will appear the swankest of imported cars. If the last initial is "M," the robe will be so monogrammed. The chauffeur will call the renter by name and under the circulars sent out is this grand information, "Should you leave the car first and members of your party question the driver he will at all times give the impression the car is your property, which it is at the time." An idea like that is going to be boom-boom in New York or I miss my guess. The charge will be $12 an hour, which is about three times as high as the average car rental price.

DARTMOUTH GETS $1,500,000

By the Associated Press.

HANOVER, N. H., April 5.—Announcement that Dartmouth College will receive an amount estimated at $1,500,000 from the estate of Edwin Webster Sanborn is made by President Ernest M. Hopkins. Sanborn, who died March 18, graduated from Dartmouth in 1878. He was the son of Prof. Edwin D. Sanborn, for nearly 50 years a member of the Dartmouth faculty and for a time the college librarian.

The will provides $400,000 for the construction and furnishing of an English house. The purpose is to reproduce in the modern college the spirit and atmosphere of social intimacy between faculty and student which prevailed in the Sanborn home when Sanborn's father was professor here. The remainder is to be used as an endowment, the income to be expended on books for the college library.

Ten Bank Indictments Quashed.

By the Associated Press.

FINDLAY, O., April 5.—Indictments against nine directors and one former director of the Arcadia Bank and Savings Co. in connection with the collapse of the bank were quashed in Common Pleas Court here yesterday by Judge Fred L. Hay of Defiance. Judge Hay ruled the indictments unlawfully connected charges of embezzlement, misapplication of funds and making a false financial statement. Each is a separate charge in itself, he held, and should be made the basis of a single bill.

Vacation joys . . . all new!

Thrillingly uncommon things to do and see this summer

Come on out for some real fun!

THERE is no other vacation land quite like Southern California in variety of interest, in multitude of novel things to do and see, in delightfulness of climate that adds a thousand joys to every day. Natural wonders and attractions are comparable only with those of the Alps, Riviera, Sahara and Capri.

Please remember this—no rain should mar a single moment of your summer vacation in Southern California. Day temperatures are moderate, with low humidity. Nights are cool. Bring light wraps. You will sleep under blankets nine nights out of ten and awaken refreshed.

Come by one of the three transcontinental railroads, or drive out. But—come sure. Do something new and inspiring this summer!

Truly, this is dream land for your holidays. Oceanside playgrounds stretch all the way from Santa Barbara to Mexico. Here you may have every aquatic sport—swimming, sea-sledding, surf boards, canoeing, yachting, motor boating—right off shore in the placid Pacific's surf!

And, the mountains! Close by, more-than-mile-high peaks to climb by trail, trolley or motor. Within easy distance are 65 ever green golf courses; alluring country clubs; tennis at every turn; swimming pools; mountain bridle paths; ocean-lake-mountain fishing. Los Angeles is but a few hours distant from the all-year snow-crowned High Sierra. Trout in these fastnesses! More than 2000 lakes higher than 6000 feet!

Adjoining Los Angeles — which will thrill you by its growth and activity — is Hollywood, the heart of movie land. At Hollywood Bowl you listen to "Symphonies under the Stars" in the great mountain-encircled bowl. Night life is distinctly metropolitan. Fine theatres and restaurants—and more moderate priced ones — meet every taste and desire.

Los Angeles County agricultural products alone last year approximated $92,000,000; its oil fields are valued at a billion dollars. Los Angeles is the new gateway to Hawaii and the Orient, as well as to the entire Pacific Coast.

And, 5000 miles of paved boulevards will lead you through the orange groves to Old Spanish Missions and to charming southland cities—San Diego, Santa Ana, Riverside, San Bernardino, Ventura, Santa Barbara. An added attraction this summer will be the Pacific Southwest Exposition at Long Beach, beginning July 27.

Get direct information immediately from your nearest railroad ticket agent about special low round-trip fares, May 15 until Oct. 31.

CHICAGO CRIME COMMISSION URGES DEFEAT OF CROWE

America. There is no supporting data to sustain this malicious, envious characterization. All of the misrepresentation may obscure, but it cannot alter the actual relation of facts and it is time to silence the preachers of hatred and those critics who do not think, because they have nothing with which to perform that operation.

"It is a fact that there is an actual decrease in crime generally, notwithstanding the amazing truth that the population increase in the last seven years has been in excess of 1,000,000. It is obvious that crime has not been permitted to keep pace with population."

"Hear that?" shouts Crowe, pushing out his belligerent chin.

"Ask those who know about crime. 'It is a fact that there is an actual decrease in crime generally,' and the president of the Crime Commission is Frank J. Loesch, general counsel of the Pennsylvania Railroad, who certainly is no friend of mine."

The writer inquired of Col. Chamberlin where Crowe had found this useful quotation and the Crime Commission's director produced a copy of the commission's monthly journal for February, containing an article under his own name with the headline, "Figures Show Crime Decreased in Chicago."

"May I have the figures for publication?"

"They are not available for publication," said Col. Chamberlin

"Then your report was based on confidential figures?"

"Yes."

There the matter stood. This report, based on figures which by necessity conflict with the Police Commissioner's figures, for some enigmatic reason was issued just before the primary campaign got under way. Crowe found it dealt practically into his hand and continues to play it as his ace in his game of keeping the Crowe-Thompson machine in power. It was that situation which led to the conclusion, set down at the top of this article, that the director of the Crime Commission has an impossible job in politics-ridden Chicago.

Politics Guides Figures.

But the whole question of crime figures in Chicago is so bedeviled with politics at the present writing that this correspondent would go no further than to caution other cities against per capita comparisons. Chicago is orderly and quiet enough to outward appearances and if the visitor wants to find trouble he usually has to go looking for it unless, that is, he gets in the way of one of the occasional machine gun sorties or is around when somebody shies a pineapple. There were two more pineapples thrown yesterday.

But, however befogged crime statistics may be, there is no fooling the insurance companies, which keep their own tab on things. The plain fact is that in recent years burglary and robbery insurance have mounted steadily, it is said anywhere from 50 to 500 per cent, and there are many politicians in Chicago who cannot get bombing insurances for their homes at any price. Nor do many Chicago women wear their jewels any longer. Instead, they lock them up in safety vaults and go about with cheap imitations or no jewelry at all.

Steel ships are built by men's muscles

531 men in the Sun Shipyards relieve muscle lameness this way

IT'S A REAL man's job—the work of the men on the ways in the big shipyards. It takes all the strength—the skill—the courage a man's got.

-Big wages—adventure—the spice of danger! Yes, and stiff backs — occasional wrenches, sprains, bruises—and rheumatism when you've been riding the girders or running the big traveling cranes out in a drizzling rain all day.

How do men who do this heavy work relieve the effects of strain and exposure? How do they treat the occasional minor injuries that are bound to occur?

We made a canvass among the workers in the yards of the Sun Shipbuilding Company of Chester, Pa., one of the largest shipbuilding concerns in this country.

531 told us, "We use Sloan's."

The K-4-S

with the strength of 3,000 horses speeds the SPIRIT OF ST. LOUIS

YOU could never guess the speed of the K-4-S just from its size.

With all its more than 500,000 pounds of massiveness, it is by no means the heaviest, nor the biggest, locomotive on the Pennsylvania. But it has won its place as one of the swiftest, most reliable engines on the rails.

Built by the Pennsylvania to combine high speed with strength, the K-4-S has vast reserves of power . . . if need be, it has more power than 3,000 horses leaping as one at the driver's will.

While the passengers seated before snow-white tables in the diner relish choice food and subtle flavors, the K-4-S does a smooth seventy miles an hour—with a reserve of power which would enable the driver to raise the speed, if the rules of the road would permit, close to a hundred.

That's the reason why the Pennsylvania flyers, however they speed, never seem to strain.

REED APPARENTLY THIRD CHOICE FOR NEBRASKA VOTE

ly half last night, and fully 75 per cent in Des Moines. They listened attentively and cheered frequently, a development in the campaign which led Reed to say after the meeting that he was confident the people were aroused by conditions in Washington, and that, if the Democratic party went before the voters with a sincere plan to "clean the rascals out and then clean up" the Democratic ticket could win.

A Democratic Year.

"The attendance of Republicans in big numbers at Democratic meetings," Reed said, "can only mean that they know the shameful conditions and want a change. They come not out of courtesy to the speaker, but to learn more about conditions and to learn what the Democratic party has to offer in the way of a correction.

"Every sign points to this being a Democratic year. When thousands of Republicans will sit through two hours of a Democratic speech in which the leaders of their party are held up to deserved scorn, and when they applaud the speakers' words, there can be only one meaning. They will be with us when they are convinced we mean business."

Reed will rest today in Kansas City and will leave there tonight for Memphis, where he will speak tomorrow night, and where he will renew his campaign of the South, which will take him into Mississippi and Alabama.

$200,000 Fire Follows Threats.

By the Associated Press.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 5. Fire destroyed eight business establishments and damaged several residences here early today with a loss estimated at $200,000. Last week Mayor Joseph G. Champion and J. Fred Manne, president of the Chamber of Commerce, received letters declaring that unless the agitation for a direct tax on merchants was dropped they would be killed and the town burned down.

THE WAY —OF— A WOMAN

—By—
Marguerite Mooers Marshall

THINGS AS THEY ARE.

"THE real financial genius is not Secretary Mellon, but my wife, who takes my $125 a month and makes it care for a family of five."

His voice breaking with emotion, Tate T. Hackney, underpaid Treasury clerk, testifying before a House committee the other day, paid this deserved tribute to his wife and the mother of his three little children. How many other women, we thought, have as hard a problem to solve in their home-making? And is there one of them who escapes moods and moments of irritation, disgust, boredom, utter weariness?

You "just love" your home every minute of the 24 hours of every day? Yes, but do you love washing the cooking dishes—the broiler on the gas stove, for example, or the double boiler after oatmeal has been cooked in it, or anything covered with mutton fat? Do you love cleaning the far recesses under the bath tub, which a fool masculine builder has snugged up in a corner, against two walls?

As for the children, are you wholly reconciled to their trick of catching colds and an impertinent vocabulary from their playmates? Don't you wish that they would remember, even once, to pick up and hang up their own things? And at the end of a stormy afternoon passed in the answering of such questions as "What does the canary think about?" and "How Many baked potatoes could I eat if I ate all I could?"—(no, we're not making up these questions, but the children did)—don't you feel that you are about to break out gibbering and chittering?

OFTEN we get a letter from some home maker who wants to blow off steam about any or all of these or similar domestic aggravations. We don't blame her—and we do admire her. For we know that her irritation, discontent, discouragement are, as we implied at the beginning, momentary, and that the finest thing in the life of the average woman is her humorous, courageous, make-the-best-of-it acceptance of things as they are.

That is why so many women, recognizing how admirably E. M. Delafield has set down the tale of petty domestic exasperations in her fine new novel, "The Way Things Are," nevertheless will consider its heroines the worst of poor sports.

This wife and mother, Laura Temple, lives in a charming English country house, where "there were—or very frequently there were not—a cook-general, a house-parlor maid and a children's nurse." She has two young sons whom she loves, yet "to be in sole charge of Edward and Johnnie, for one entire day, reduced their mother to spiritual pulp and physical exhaustion." She is constantly reflecting "how trivial and yet how infuriating, was life, with recalcitrant nurses and husbands and children, and nothing to look forward to ever, and at the back of everything an eternal sense of one's own inadequacy."

Lord! How she pities herself!

AMERICAN wives and mothers, whose "servants" are—perhaps—a laundress and a cleaning woman two days a week, who are "in sole charge" of their children not one but every day, while reflecting that Laura doesn't know her luck, will understand her mood of weariness and boredom. What they will not understand is why she lets it become chronic!

Theirs is far more the spirit of a real, not a fictional, heroine in another new book: "The Transplanting," a true story taken from the letters of Marie Balascheff. This brave Russian wife and mother was born Princess Cantacuzene, daughter of the Russian Ambassador under the second Cleveland administration. Driven from her native land by the revolution and almost penniless, she and her sons started a duck farm in Northern France. She gives a splendid and inspiring example of how a woman may make the best, not the peevish worst, of "the way things are."

Kitchen Kinks

Before putting the soft frosting on the cake, dust corn starch over the cake to keep the icing from running.

• • •

Next time you make syrup add a teaspoonful of vinegar to prevent crystallizing.

Put old potatoes into cold water to cook them, so they will keep white and dry—a little milk added to the water will help.

Baked apples are more of a dessert if garnished with a dab of whipped cream and then sprinkled with finely chopped nuts.

English muffins are mighty good for tea if split, sprinkled with grated cheese and placed in the oven long enough for the cheese to melt. Serve with a tart jam.

When preparing celery, save the inside tender stalks for salad or to serve as a relish, and use the outside heavier stalks for soup or stewing.

A tablespoon of vinegar in the lard in which doughnuts are to be fried will prevent them from absorbing so much fat.

SUE TO LOU —With Love— By Gettier

A MAN SHOWS WHAT HE IS IN HIS HOME

By Lucy Lowell.

THERE is the same difference between most persons and practically all husbands at home and outside the home as there is between character and reputation.

Many a man's soft-spoken reasonableness and kindly manner convinces the world at large that he is a gentle, considerate husband and a model father, whereas his wife has to crawl in for money to pay the milk bill and his children freeze up into a sort of dumb terror when they hear his step in the hall.

And then there is the other sort, the man who seems rather shiftless, who does not take life as seriously as he might, who has many things about him to make folks say that he can't be much of a family man. Yet you see the happy face of his wife as she watches for him and hear the joyous shouts of his children as they welcome him and you know that there is something about him very well worth while, indeed.

In his "A Man's Real Measure," W. C. Brann says of this one:

"If his children rush to the front door to meet him and love's sunshine illuminates the face of his wife every time she hears his footfall, * * * he may be a rank atheist and a red-flag anarchist; he may buy votes in blocks of five and bet on the elections; he may deal 'em from the bottom of the deck and drink beer until he can't tell a silver dollar from a circular saw and still be an infinitely better man than the cowardly little humbug who is all suavity in society, but who makes home a hell, who vents upon the helpless heads of his wife and children an ill nature he would inflict on his fellow men, but dares not.

"I can forgive much in that fellow mortal who would rather make men swear than women weep; who would rather have the hate of the whole world than the contempt of his wife; who would rather call anger to the eyes of a king than fear to the face of a child."

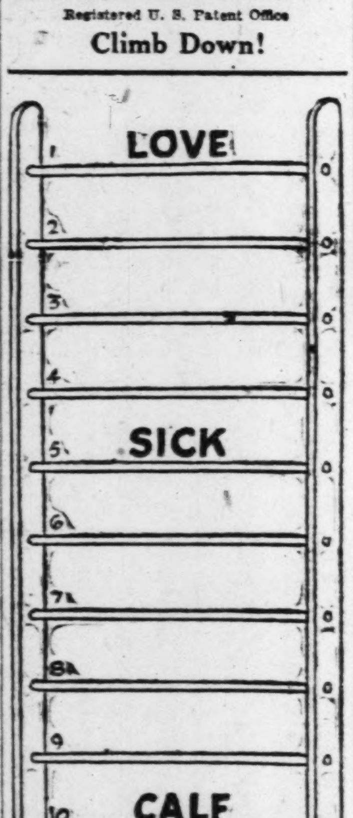
Climb Down!



Here's a triplet that describes most of us at some stage of life. There's nothing different about the way it's worked. Start out of Love and climb down a rung at a time, changing a single letter only in each downward step until Sick is reached. Then proceed by the same process to Calf. Remember not to transpose the remaining letters and don't use phony words. An answer will appear with the next Laddergram. Here's a solution to Blank-Verse: 1, Blank; 2, Plank; 3, Plack; 4, Place; 5, Peace; 6, Pease; 7, Tease; 8, Terse; 9, Verse.

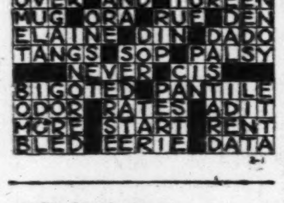
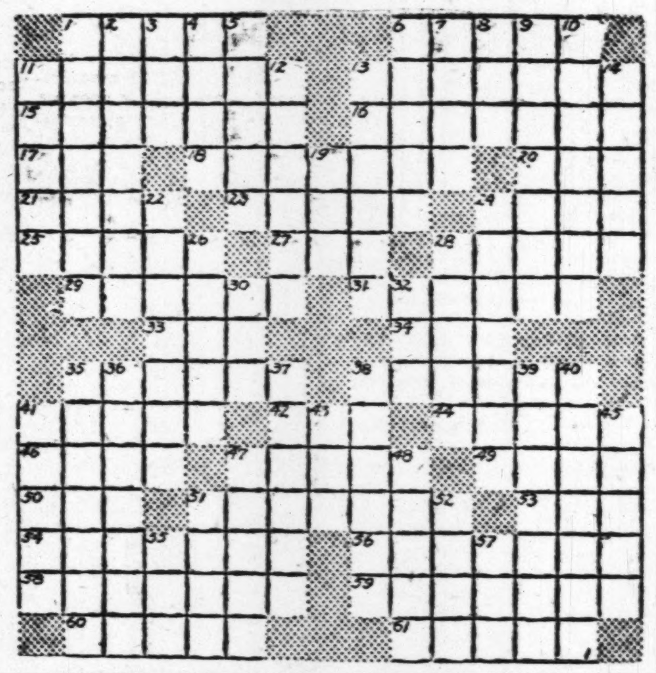
YESTERDAY'S ANSWER





Peanut Butter Frosting.

Good on little spice cakes. Two cups brown sugar, two tablespoons butter, ½ teaspoon salt, one cup sour cream, two tablespoons peanut butter. Cook sugar, butter, salt and sour cream together until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from fire and beat in the peanut butter. Beat until the consistency for spreading.

A Great Protection.

Where there are children in the home and in consequence more spilled liquids, it is almost necessary to have a waterproof undercover for the dining room table. A large square of oilcloth placed on the mahogany before putting on the "silence cloth" will prove a great protection against hot dishes or spilled liquids.

FISH NOT IN THIS WRAPPER IS NOT 40-FATHOM FISH

NOTHING is so unwise as buying second-grade fillets. Ask your butcher, grocer or fish dealer for 40-Fathom Fish, which is never frozen or preserved but always fresh and sweet—"the cream of the catch."

40-Fathom Fish is the breast and sides (called fillets) of choice ocean haddock. Fresh from the sea to your table by fast express in ice. No heads, tails, scales, backbones or waste. All savory, snowy meat, cleansed and wrapped in clean parchment paper. A meal in each wrapper.

40-Fathom Fish is always ready to cook. A new, delicious shore delicacy on your table, any day in the year.

Theodore Szarvas, Maitre d'Hotel of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, New York, and Louis Diat, Chef de Cuisine of that famous hostelry, have prepared a valuable book.

It explains the fine art of cooking fish so it will be tender, and tells how they prepare and serve 40-Fathom Fish to the guests at the Ritz-Carlton. Send for your free copy today.

Insist on the above trademarked wrapper. Fish not in the above wrapper is not 40-Fathom Fish.—Bay State Fishing Co., 30 Fish Pier, Boston.

Dresses Are Longer, Evening Wraps Short

EVENING dresses are getting longer and evening wraps are growing shorter in Paris.

To take care of billowing tulle skirts and trailing draperies the newest wraps have turned into jackets which occasionally reach only a few inches below the hips. Some have no fastening and are meant to be held in place or left open in the manner of a sport coat.

Some of the latest models have patch pockets.

The average working life of a farm horse is a little short of 19 years.

THE FIRST LADY OF MONTANA

THE Montana executive mansion, Mrs. J. E. Erickson believes, should be headquarters and home for the women of the State.

Mrs. Erickson has enjoyed her more than three years as "first lady of Montana." Public life was not new to her. Her husband had been County Attorney and District Judge in a territory comprising an immense area in Northwestern Montana.

Her activity in club work and the incident that made her a school teacher in Montana when she came to the State to visit relatives, brought her in contact with many persons long before she came to Helena as the wife of the State's chief executive.

Her children, grown now, she has had an advantage not shared by the wives of many of Montana's Governors, that of being able to devote much time to the demands upon the "first lady."

Rainy Day Togs Chic This Season

TODAY every woman can face the rain with cheerfulness and even pleasure, for new Paris waterproof coats, capes and costumes are as chic as those which Milady dons for afternoon wear.

Delightful imagination, and at the same time, a thorough sense of the practical, are displayed in raincoats and capes made of rainproof crepe de chine, silk and wool mixtures and velvet, sometimes in solid colors and often printed or woven in gay designs.

They are invariably lined with silk or a warm kasha which in turn is frequently used to trim the garment by means of a most attractive cut-out process. The raincapes are cut on the bias, forming luxurious circular capes and have long, flaring scarfs for collars. These scarfs are lined with the material used for the coat lining.

The coats are fashioned along the lines of the smartest spring street coats. One perfectly straight, tailored red velvet coat is so smart it is difficult to believe it was designed for anything but bright, sunshiny weather, but the maker guarantees that it will look just as fresh as a daisy afterward.

Gaily-colored rubberized crepe de chine are combined with alpaca, velvets and figured silks to form coats which are charming as well as useful. The colors range from delicate blues to green and a tone of bronze which is exceedingly beautiful.

Leather garments are intended for cooler weather and are lined and trimmed with plain kashas in most cases, although fancy silks and velvets are also seen.

A striking golf coat in supple leather is worn with a close-fitting leather helmet and a pleated skirt of plaid. A smartly-cut cape in dark green is ideal for the mountain excursion.

NEW YORK.

ER wardrobes will be ly interesting in showing h of the Parisian's ideas York woman is accepting ich she rejects through dif- s of temperament, figure ats on the continent on the lives.

e latter class I place the e afternoon gowns that king such a furore abroad. a woman is over 50 and d with the grand manner, probably prefer the simple ffairs trimmed with faggot- se silhouette does not dif- erially from that of the mode.

daytime wear she will play r a few months with the e cape, give the ensemble a g whirl, sink all her money in a double fox neckpiece, reject the silk coat as being a bit premature and take pleasure in trotting out the classic tailleur.

After 6 o'clock in the evening she will forget all about the independence of modern women and go about trailing frothy scarves and looking very, very feminine, whether she elects to do it in chiffon or in the new stiff fabrics.

She will buy more straw hats than she ever has since the rage for Panamas and automobile veils, and will not forget to include a black felt hat in her wardrobe, besides one of the knitted crochet turbans that will not be common for ever so long. And she will wear these hats on the back of her head. All her waistlines will be appreciably higher from morning until late at night. Moreover, she will find to her sorrow that it is a very bad year for those who were planning to have last year's dresses dyed.

NEW YORK TRENDS

Here are the highlights of New York's spring fashions:

Higher waistlines at all times.

Down-in-back line for evening.

Sashes accentuating moulded hips.

Panels, bustles, ruffles, scarfs.

Straw hats with the off-the-forehead movement. Wider brims and shallow crowns.

THE fur-trimmed coat is seen in many Fifth avenue windows these days, but unless your income tax runs into thousands you will probably consider it an extravagance for spring. I do. There are so many fox neckpieces to choose among, and they are so satisfactory with a number of coats or ensembles or dresses later in the summer, that they will probably predominate over fur trimmings on coats in even the richest blocks of Park avenue on Easter.

Cross fox is the most expensive of all, and very much the smartest. Silver fox is also seen, and black lynx. Wolf in the vanilla and cream shades will be much worn. The classic fox neckpiece is still worn, particularly with the tailored suit that spring always ushers in, but it is far less smart than the double fox neckpiece.

Many, many tailored suits will be shown at Easter time. They will belong to the type of the classic tailleur—a perfectly fitted suit, usually with hip length coat, the best possible material in a solid color, and the minimum of trimming.

Besides the tailleur, there will be many ensembles seen on that important day, for they are to be the best of all possible costumes for spring wear in town. They appear in various smart forms. A printed silk frock may be combined with a seven-eighths length coat of solid colors, lined with the print. Even newer is the dress of solid color in crepe, with a heavier silk coat in a lively pattern and often in a larger design than we are used to seeing on the printed crepe dresses all over town.

Another type is that which has a coat and skirt of matching wool material and a blouse of matching or contrasting shade in satin. In these, the coats are of three-quarter length and are less apt to be collarless than in the simpler type with which a print is used. Cape ensembles are another variation.

BECAUSE of the ensemble vogue, there is rather a dearth of separate coats. Sports models are shown in heavy tweeds and totally collarless. Cape-coats I think are vastly more becoming though they come under the heading of things so easily copied by the mass producers that in my opinion they are something of a gambler's buy.

Silk coats are something else again, and Paris is shipping them to us in quantities. Weather permitting, we should see a number of these on the avenue at Easter. They are usually shown in solid black or navy faille or some such material and rather fancier than I should like.

As for hats, straw is even more important than any one predicted and is giving felt a run for its money. It is being cleverly twisted and pleated and folded as if it were the most supple of fabrics. The shallow crown is a very new and important note. It permits the hat to be tilted back on the head, exposing the forehead after all these years, which is what Fashion dictates for this season.

The shallow crown permits a wideness of brim which is very new, and the era of the medium-sized hat for street wear is upon us. Brims have a way of being very irregular as to width—those which are wide on the sides and narrow at front and back are smartest, although one side may very well be wider than the other.

Linen straw and ballibuntl, in black or navy, and baku in the natural shade are favorite straws. Natural colored straw is often combined with black and trimmed with faggoting, a most important trimming also for daytime dresses. Crepe de chine ribbon twisted about the crown in folds of contrasting color is also new. Cire ribbon is used on many felt hats.

The face veil is less the rage than was predicted and will soon be out. Cellophane—that shiny black straw for afternoon—is still used. But for formal wear the really new thing is the turban of knitted straw—far prettier and more delicate than the crocheted straw of last year. Crepe ribbon or feathers are the favorite trim for this kind of hat.

There is little to say about the afternoon mode, except that it is hard to distinguish from the sports, now that even sweaters are knitted out of silk. More elaborate afternoon dresses are slightly longer, use the bolero, the uneven hemline, the tiered skirt and jabots flying in all directions.

For evening a large and very exciting choice will be at your disposal. This is supposed to be a year for heavy satin. But I have seen almost as many chiffons, both flowered and plain. The effect of Louiseboulanger's down-in-the-back idea of last year has not worn off by any means, but you will find it carried out by panels, frills and things that drip or float from the accented waistline and points north.

Dresses of the stiff fabrics have gone Godey Book with a vengeance and poufs and bustles are about us on all sides. As for colors, off whites are still good, black is much used, yellow and blue and green and red are popular and Chanel purple looks like a hit of the year.

Patou has created a strong apple green and a California red, also an egg shell, which will probably come to much.

Wraps are divided between the cape, the wrap with sleeves that are so large that you think it is a cape, and a number of not too successful attempts to mould the cape on the bouffant lines of the dress. The altogether courageous Vionnet has created a wrap of gold and silver and black arranged in a modernistic pattern which would stop traffic anywhere, is undeniably handsome and has to be clutched with both hands at all times.

"How was that?" inquired Bobby.

"Well," said Scrapper, "I just happened to be sitting in a certain tree down there when I noticed a hole in the trunk of another tree. I was wondering about that hole when who should come along but Mrs. Banana Bill. She looked all around, but didn't see me. Evidently she thought there wasn't anybody there, for all of a sudden she popped right into that hole. I was so surprised I nearly fell off my perch. Somehow, I hadn't thought of her as nesting in a hole in a tree. She didn't look like that kind of a person. I waited around a long time, but she didn't come out. Then I saw old Banana Bill himself. He looked as if he were keeping guard. I asked him if that was his home and he finally admitted that it was. There's one thing sure, and that is, somebody else has to make the hole. That big bill was never intended for cutting wood. There's Mrs. Scrapper calling me and I can't talk any longer. If you've got any more questions to ask, why don't you try Boomer the Nighthawk? He's been down there."

A DISH FOR TODAY

Nut Custard

SHELL and put through the chopper enough nuts to make two cupfuls when chopped. If almonds are used they should be blanched. Add to the nuts two cupfuls of fresh bread crumbs, two beaten eggs, one cupful of light cream, pepper, salt, a half teaspoonful of sugar and a half teaspoonful of curry powder. Shape into cutlets with the hands, dip in flour and fry a golden brown in hot fat.

Shellac the Top.

After tacking new oilcloth on the kitchen table, give it a couple of coats of colorless shellac. It will wear much longer and pots and pans will not stick to it.

ELINOR GLYN TELLS HOW TO WIN A MAN

(Twenty-fifth Article).

By Elinor Glyn.

THE TRUTH ABOUT DIVINE POWER.

WHAT is God? Each human being has his own conception? To some, "God" means FORCE. The force, the center of life. To others, an omnipotent personality who controls this earth. To others, an essence,—to others an avenger,—to others some spirit unthinkable and divine—immortal—which directs us to good. To everyone who admits that there is some power beyond our reckoning, there is some more or less expressed impression of that power. And even atheists have a vague fear in their hearts — they know not what, but they realize it is something beyond their control which they will not describe in words, but protect themselves from by denying its existence.

Can it be that God is that infinite intelligence which really understands the law of cause and effect? For the nearer we grow to understanding the result of actions the more we shall naturally use in controlling detrimental desires so as to prevent them from incurring unpleasant penalities for us to pay! If we really could see what each of our actions would lead to—what each idle word spoken by us would produce—from the instinct of self-preservation if for nothing else, we would automatically become very careful about what we would do or say! But alas! We are too inconsequent to think, beforehand nine times out of 10! And Mary blurts out the word which alienates Bob forever—and George does some stupid thing which arouses lasting resentment in Margaret's consciousness! People are called "cute" because they have looked ahead, and so obtained the best of a bargain—but why not use this "looking ahead" faculty for nobler things?

Now You Can Reduce
2 to 4 Lbs. in a Night
Eat what you please
Wear what you please
Do what you please
Take no risky medicine

Thousands of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of their own homes.

Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of twenty-two hot springs of America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot springs bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well groomed men.

Excess weight has been removed, skins have been made more lovely, bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You
Painstaking analyses of the active ingredients of the water from twenty-two of the most famous springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam, oils and clean salts.

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath at night and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh and help your body throw off worn out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation.

Lose Weight Where You Most Want to
Fayro reduces weight generally but you can also concentrate its effects on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

Results Are Immediate
Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds, and a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath, you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. Merely a refreshing Fayro bath in the privacy of your own home.

Try Fayro at Our Risk
The regular price of Fayro is $1.00 a package. With each package you get an interesting booklet "Health and Open Pores." Your money refunded instantly if you want it.

THE STORY SO FAR.

Mr. Frazier, head of the office, has unmercifully scolded Molly Anderson for humiliating the office manager (called "Sticko" by the girls). Molly is engaged to Bob Brownell, who works at the same place. She is leaving the office for lunch, and tells Mary Holmquist, another typist, that she's going to quit.

CHAPTER XVI.

"I WANT to be alone," said Molly, as the other girl caught up with her, in the street.

"Oh, all right." The pretty blonde's temper was not ruffled. "But when you're over your grouch, Molly, I wish you'd spill the story—I'm dying to hear what happened to Sticko!"

"What happened to me, you'd better say," returned Molly, stepping from the curb.

Instead of going to "The Greasy Spoon," where the girls would gather in a minute or two, she turned the corner and went up street to another restaurant. There, over a thin sandwich and a cup of tea, she brooded long over her trouble.

She had not seen Mr. Frazier before in the mood he had shown that morning. No girl in her reasonable senses would want to see him in that mood again.

She looked at the clock. There was just time to get back to work. If she should leave her employment now, without notice, it might be days before she found another job.

She seized her check, paid as she went out the door, and ran all the way to the office into which the last stragglers were hurrying. Mr. Frazier's buzzer rang just as she reached her desk.

He glanced up from a newspaper when she reached his desk.

"Have you decided when you'll present your resignation?" he inquired idly.

"Did Mary Holmquist tell you?" she demanded.

"Nobody told me." He turned over a sheet of his paper and examined a portrait of the newest movie star.

"Then how"—— Molly began. "If nobody told you"——

"Oh, piffle," he responded. "I've been hiring girls and men for a good many years. I bawled you out. Therefore, you've been wondering whether to quit me cold—walk right out on me—or leave at the end of the week. Isn't that right?" He didn't seem much interested. He was looking at the sport page now. "Isn't that right?" he repeated after a moment's wait.

"Yes," she said, almost in a whisper.

"Well, make up your mind some time today," he said. "I'm going out of town tomorrow for a couple of days. Think it over—and try not to be any more of an idiot than is necessary. That's all."

He lifted his feet to the top of his desk and settled himself to read an article that attracted his interest.

The afternoon was poor and dismal, so far as Molly was concerned. She was rearranging Mr. Frazier's personal files—the letters that were outside the regular office routine.

Ordinarily this work would have been interesting. Handling another person's private mail can even be fascinating, at times. But Molly was in no mood to enjoy herself. Mr. Frazier had practically dared her to quit; the pleasure of her brief triumph over Sticko had all been taken away; the matter of Bob Brownell and his money had not been settled.

So she took the correspondence that had been gathered in the long steel drawer, glanced at the names of those to whom Mr. Frazier had written, and those who had written to him, and divided the letters in new manila folders, without once reading a single piece of mail.

She was still at work at 5:30, small heaps of letters ranged before her on top of the row of filing cases.

"Going?" asked Mary Holmquist's voice behind her.

"Not yet," said Molly, without turning.

"What's the big idea?"

"I'm blue as the dickens," Molly said, swinging her body so she could see the blonde girl over her shoulder. "I might as well work as go home and grouch around, all by myself."

At this moment she caught sight of Bob Brownell, who was standing at the door. He was evidently on his way out, but had halted with his hand upon the knob.

Mary Holmquist laughed, and with a brisk "good night" to Molly, hurried to the door. While Molly stared, her lips parted, the pretty blonde linked her arm in Brownell's and together they passed out of sight.

Molly collapsed into a chair.

Bob Brownell—with little Swedie! Bob, who said that Mary was "a good kid!" Mary, who said she didn't like poor boys!

Molly pressed her palm against her forehead. Evidently something was going on that she did not understand. Bob had been so humble about the money the night before, and now here he was, arm in arm with red-lipped, careless, pretty Mary Holmquist!

She glanced at the diamond on her finger. It sparkled bravely under the ceiling lamp which somebody had just touched on.

If Molly resigned now, she couldn't keep watch of Mary and Bob. Keep watch! Just when she had decided that Mary was so utterly and entirely safe!

Mr. Frazier came strolling from his office, a fawn-colored hat perched sidewise on his gray hair, a cold, half-smoked cigar between his teeth, jauntily tilting upward.

Molly arose. "I'm not going to leave, Mr. Frazier," she said. "That is, unless you want me to."

"When I want you to, I'll tell you," he observed. "Going to stay, eh? All right." He seemed to approve. "By the way, how are you and that young man of yours coming along?"

"Why—why—first rate, I guess," said Molly.

"Glad of it," he returned. "I've been worrying about Brownell. His work's irregular—sales away down one day; first rate the next. Thought you might have been quarreling with him."

Mr. Frazier nodded and continued on his way. Molly began gathering the letters together for the night. Since her employer was going on a trip, she would have plenty of time to finish her task.

So Bob's work was "irregular." And Mr. Frazier thought she might have been quarreling with him! She slammed shut the steel drawers, fastened them by a pressure of her finger upon the spring lock, and hurriedly sought her hat and coat.

Four blocks away was a restaurant where she and Bob had dinner frequently, when he was feeling prosperous. She turned her steps toward this place, and walked fast through homegoing crowds that pressed against her.

"I'm not going to eat," she explained to the cashier, who stood guard at the restaurant door. I'm just looking for somebody."

She went down the aisle, looked in to the side room at the rear, and then scanned the tables on each side. Bob was not there, and neither was pretty Swedie.

Another restaurant was near by—he had taken her there, once, when they first met. But he was not there now—with her face close to the big front window, she could see the occupants of all the tables.

She stopped, her finger to her lip. Mary Holmquist lived with another girl, about a mile from the office. Molly remembered that sometimes there was talk of little dinner parties, where Mary and her chum prepared the food over a hot plate in their room.

Molly took a street car.

The Swedish girl's room was in a large apartment house, where a brass plate (inside the glass of the front door) announced that housekeeping suites of one and two rooms were for rent within. Molly inspected the sign, and then turned to look at the row of push-buttons, with mail boxes beneath, and little slits where tenants could put their cards.

There was a difficulty. Neatly engraved cards were visible, and old, yellowed printed ones; cards with names scrawled with pen and ink and others scrawled in pencil. But Mary Holmquist's name was not there.

Molly tried a bell beneath which there was no card, and listened for an answering click of the lock. She was disappointed. After an instant, she tried another. Still there was no response.

Come to think of it, the apartment might be in the other girl's name. There were plenty of cards with women's names on them.

Molly pushed the janitor's bell. After a long wait, the door clicked, and Molly turned the knob. A woman came to the door of suite two.

"I'm looking for Mary Holmquist," said Molly.

The woman looked at her impassively.

"Her name isn't in the lobby. What room is she in?" Molly tried again.

"I don't know," said the woman, and closed the door.

There seemed to be nothing else to do. Molly went out to the sidewalk, and stood uncertainly balanced on the curb. She might go home, and leave Bob in the clutches of Mary Holmquist. She might eat—it was time for dinner.

Swinging thoughtfully in the direction from which she had come, she started to walk. Night had fallen, and she went slowly, for the way was unfamiliar.

As she reached an illuminated street corner a young man and a young woman appeared from the other side, laughing and chatting. Molly stood stock still.

The folk across the street were Bob and the blonde girl, walking home—to Mary's home!

Verdi's "Requiem Mass" will be given by the Continentals, an NBC grand opera ensemble over KWK, beginning at 9:30. Soloists will be Astrid Fjelde, soprano; Grance Leslie, contralto; Julian Oliver tenor, and Frederic Baer, baritone.

In 1868 Rossini, composer of "Stabat Mater," died and Verdi became imbued with the idea of having a Requiem Mass written in his honor. It was to be strictly Italian in character and 13 composers were each to write one of the 13 parts of the mass, Verdi reserving the "Libera Me", the final passage, for himself. He made of his part a majestic fugue, astonishing his friends who regarded him as a supreme melodist and did not suspect his great gift in counterpoint.

From 9:30 to 11, KSD is to broadcast a concert of dance music from New York.

Economical Power.

The most economical power supply for a four-tube receiver is generally considered to be that obtained from batteries. The current drain of the set is comparatively small. While eliminators perform satisfactorily, their initial cost and maintenance over a number of years is greater than batteries.

ANSWERS TO QUERIES

The Post-Dispatch reserves the right to reject any query. Personal and telephone calls or answers by mail cannot be given attention, except letters on medical questions of undoubted sincerity when accompanied by stamped addressed envelope.

SNAPPY.—Turnover cakes are not listed as such in several cook books. Write again saying what they are like.

E. Z. Z.—The neighborhood you mention (without exact address) appears to be in Tenth Precinct of the Twenty-second Ward, Tenth Congressional District, for which Henry A. Niedringhaus is Congressman.

E. W. B.—The Daniel and Florence Guggenheim Foundation of New York was established in 1924 "to promote through charitable and benevolent activities the well-being of mankind throughout the world." Probably it is left to the Board of Trustees to decide what these activities will be. Some of them, so far, are: Plans to finance an international aircraft competition to increase the safety of airplanes, a gift of $78,000 to aid the Aeronautic School of Michigan University, a gift to Leland Stanford University for aeronautics, $25,000 given for the search made for Nungesser and Coli and like donations.

J. J. N.—The quoit is an iron ring averaging six pounds in weight, flat, and convex on upper side, so as to form sufficient edge for the quoit to stick in the ground when falling. The ring is about two and one-half inches broad and nine inches in diameter, with a hollow dent on the outer rim for the forefinger or the thumb. Two "hobs," or pins, are placed in the ground, generally 19 yards apart. The players, two or four in number, endeavor to ring the hob, or to place their quoit as near it as possible. A "ringer" counts two, the nearest quoit, one, as in bowls or curling. A circle of clay is placed around the hob to receive the quoit. Height of peg out of the ground may be given, if important, in more detailed description of games to be found in public library books.

LEGAL INFORMATION

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association)

BUDDY.—You do not have to fix either fence in question. Neither do your neighbors.

A. M.—The court handles divorce cases every month in the year.

CURIOUS.—You are an American citizen of French and American descent.

P.-D. READER.—The company cannot be compelled to drill for oil on your land for protection unless they agreed to do so.

DAILY READER.—A dog need not be muzzled in a yard that is fenced, if he stays in the yard. (2) Every dog in the city must have a license. The dog catcher could pursue a dog into the yard if it ran there from outside, but if it was in the yard he could not go in after it.

C. A.—Putting up the fence depends on the agreement of the parties. If your neighbor will not pay half the cost of a fence, you cannot compel him to do so, but, if you want a fence, must build it on your own ground and pay for it yourself.

G. B.—Two per cent per month is the maximum interest charged by a pawn proker. In case the borrower fails to pay the interest when due, the pawnbroker cannot lawfully sell the article pawned and the borrower can redeem it, within 60 days from the date of the failure to pay the interest due. The pawnbroker, however, does not have to give the borrower notice before selling the article pawned.

WORRIED AUNT.—(1) You may be able to adopt your niece without her father's consent. Consult a lawyer. (2) If your husband died after she had been legally adopted leaving no will, you and she would each receive half of his property. (3) The home could not be taken from her. Your name did no harm. (4) A notary public cannot give you adoption papers; you will have to get a decree from the court. Consult a lawyer.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnosis or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

A. I. N.—Except for temporary use the form of relief you ask about is ill-advised and habit forming if long continued, nor is it regarded as a cure for chronic constipation.

DUMB DORA.—It is practically impossible to venture a diagnosis from mere description. Examination by a physician specialist in the line indicated is necessary, and when made proper treatment will be possible. If you wish names of specialists send stamped, addressed envelope.

P. E. R.—The use of the electric needle is the only way recommended here to permanently remove superfluous hair. It is used, of course, only on limited areas. The names of reliable operators can be given if you wish to send stamped, addressed envelope.

THANK YOU.—Acute nephritis (Bright's disease) may be caused by exposure, colds and such infectious diseases as diphtheria, scarlet fever, malaria and by other infections, also by injury, wounds, pregnancy and the persistent use of such irritants as alcoholics, turpentine, cantharides, ginger, etc. The prognosis is generally favorable, recovery occurring in most cases under prompt and appropriate treatment. There is no fixed or even approximate time for cure of any given case, much depending on the general condition, severity of the attack and extent of involvement of kidney tissue.

CHARLOTTE. — The operation would be done free of charge at the City Hospital if you are a resident of St. Louis, also at comparatively small cost in the charity wards of such hospitals as Barnes, St. Mary's, etc. Sight is not completely restored to normal by this operation, which consists in removing the lens in the eye, which has become opaque, obstructing the entrance of light rays to the retina which is in the back part of the eyeball. A lens glass is worn on the outside to replace the one taken from the inside of the eyeball.

HYDE LIKELY TO ENTER RACE IF PATTERSON DOESN'T RUN

Barrett, Too, Apparently Waiting on Decision of United States Attorney on Senatorship.

Former Gov. Hyde, in St. Louis yesterday, announced that he was withholding a decision on entering the race for the Republican senatorial nomination until he learned whether United States Attorney Patterson of Kansas City was going to file. If Patterson does not enter the primary, it is understood that Hyde will.

Jesse W. Barrett of St. Louis, former attorney-General, also is likely to run if Patterson does not, but he said yesterday that, with Patterson in the race, he would support the United States Attorney instead of entering himself.

FLINT WAS ON THE STAND MOST OF THE DAY AND MUST ADMIT HE DIDN'T DO HIMSELF SO MUCH GOOD FROM THE IMPRESSION FLINT SEEMED TO GIVE THE JURORS IT LOOKS LIKE HE'S GOING TO TAKE A JOB WITH THE STATE AND YOU'VE GOT TO GET ANOTHER CLERK — HIS TESTIMONY IS AS CONVINCING AS A GUY'S ALIBI TO A JEALOUS WIFE WHEN HE BOBS IN AT THREE IN THE MORNING.
I FEEL THAT MR. FLINT IS INNOCENT AND THAT HE IS TRYING HARD TO BE HONEST — BUT IT SEEMS THAT WHEN YOU ONCE GO WRONG EVERYBODY IS WILLING TO KEEP YOU THAT WAY.
YOU MUST GO INTO COURT AND TELL THE STORY ABOUT YOUR DAUGHTER — IT'S YOUR ONLY CHANCE AND SHE'LL FORGIVE YOU.
OH I CAN'T DO THAT — NOT YET. SHE'D DESPISE ME — SHE CAN'T HELP IT — I CAN'T DO IT YET JUDGE, — NOT YET.-
I SUPPOSE IF YOU'RE CONVICTED AND SENT TO PRISON FOR THIS CRIME IT'S GOING TO INCREASE YOUR DAUGHTER'S RESPECT FOR YOU. YOU'RE GOING INTO COURT TOMORROW AND TELL THAT STORY! AND DROP PLENTY TEARS — THAT WILL HAVE TO GO WITH IT — TAKES LOTS OF CONVINCING WHEN FOLKS WANT TO BELIEVE YOU'RE BAD.
WILL ROCKNEY FLINT TELL THE STORY OF HIS DAUGHTER — THE HEAD WAITRESS — IN COURT TOMORROW ?

BOAT UPSETS; BANKER MISSING

Milton J. Beaty, Warren (Pa.), Supposedly Drowned in Lake Chautauqua.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., April 5.—Belief that Milton J. Beaty, 42 years old, Warran, Pa., banker and oil operator, has been drowned in Chautauqua Lake was expressed here today. Beaty, who has a summer home at Lakewood, N. Y., set out late yesterday afternoon to test a new racing motorboat and failed to return. Searchers found his boat upset on an ice floe.

He had just returned from Miami and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., where several of his horses had won ribbons in horse shows.

TODAY WHILE THE SEARCH FOR COLONEL BUNGLE WIDENED, A MAN MORE PERPLEXED THAN THOSE WHO ARE LOOKING FOR HIM, WALKED IN THE LESS PROSPEROUS PART OF TOWN TRYING TO REVIVE A MEMORY THAT WAS ALTOGETHER TOO LIVELY JUST BEFORE A HYPNOTIC-EYED SWAMI CALLED AT THE BUNGLE HOME
AND WHAT, I SAYS TO HER, IS A NEIGHBORHOOD COMING TO WHEN THE LIKES OF YOU THINK NO ONE CAN SIT ON THEIR OWN BACK PORCH AFTER DARK?
SHE'D BETTER BE WORRIED ABOUT THAT FRECKLE-FACED DAUGHTER OF HER OWN.
I JUST CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHY IT IS THAT THE MORE I CONCENTRATE THE MORE POSITIVE I AM THAT I HAVEN'T A RELATIVE IN THE WORLD. NOT ONE! ANOTHER THING, I CAN'T THINK OF MY NAME. THOSE INITIALS G. B. IN MY COAT MEAN SOMETHING.....LET ME THINK? G. B?....G. B?...
G. B? WHAT DOES THE B. STAND FOR.....? LET ME THINK.?.....BROWN, PROBABLY......AND THE G? LET ME.?....GUS! GUS BROWN! A NICE SIMPLE NAME.......EASY TO REMEMBER.......I KNOW I WONT FORGET. THAT ONE! GUS BROWN!! GUS BROWN! GUSTAVE BROWN!
GUS, I JUST CAN'T IMAGINE HOW YOU GOT THIS WAY. ANOTHER PECULIAR THING IS THAT EVERY TIME I HAPPEN TO REMEMBER THAT I HAVE NO RELATIVES I FEEL LIKE JUMPING UP IN THE AIR AND HOLLERING HURRAH! PECULIAR! VERY! WELL WHY WORRY ABOUT IT?

WHEN I THINK OF ALL THOSE POOR PEOPLE WHO GAVE ASA KADDS THEIR MONEY, IT DRIVES ME FRANTIC WITH WORRY!
